TEACHERS MAY DANCE TILL COWS COME HOME

Read of Philadelphia Board of Education Thinks Exercise Wholesome Pastime

Philadelphia achoolteachers, unlike the teachers of Charlotte, N. C., can dance till the cows come home or play poker while moon lingers on in the dawn, in so far as President Henry R. Edmunds, of the Board of Education, would give a peppersorn or care a particular little bit.

"I approve of dancing," he said today, after he had read that the school commissioners of Charlotte, N. C., had put the ban on it for their teachers. "Although I'm not remarkable dancer myself," he said, "I look upon it as a healthy exercise and as wholesome pastime. There's no use making rules or adopting resolutions as to what teachers shall do after business hours because they'll do as they please anyway,

"In fact, a great many teachers come to work fresh and happy after attending a hall the night before and apread their sun-aline and happiness about the classrooms." The Charlotte commissioners contend that the Charlotte commissioners contend that outside amusements militate against microssful work in the schoolroom. It is believed in Philadelphia that whatever makes them happy makes them good.

TRAPPED BY HIS WIFE AFTER 2-YEAR SEARCH

Former Opera Singer Has Husband Arrested, Charged With Bigamy

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 .- After having been chased for two years by his wife, Mme. Sophia Traubman, former Metropolitan opera singer, George Albert Schroeder, who is alleged to have been married five times, found himself in the Tombs today charged

During a stay in Cleveland with Schroeder's relatives, Mme. Traubman heard that her husband had a wife in Boston running a tea room. This wife, it was said, is now a teacher in Middlesex School, Concord,

Then, hearing that Schroeder also had an affair in London, the singer inveigled Echroeder into going back to England. At the station in London they were met by Lillian Feinberg, who said she was mar-zied to Schroeder in June, 1913. While the two women were arguing. Schroeder jumped into a taxicab and disappeared.

Griffith, chairman of the touring information bureau, is to go through Trenton and thence by way of Mercerville and Edinboro, arriving at Princeton from the south, using Greenwood avenue, Trenton, as the outlet. Much time will be saved, as a traffic policeman will direct motorists straight to the stadium, instead of time being lost in a maze of traffic. The route to Trenton follows the Bustleton pike to Langhorne, Oxford Valley, thence to the Jersey capital. Neither route should take more than three hours, the distance on both being under fifty miles.

CABRERA STUMBLING BLOCK

Mexican Commissioner Again Rejects Border Control Plan

ATLANTIC CITY. Nov. 17 .- All efforts of the American representatives on the suade Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican representation, to abandon his opposi-tion to the plan of border control, approved In general by his colleagues, have failed. The other members of the commission have not lost hope, and the conference will be continued, but there was absent the note of optimism which characterized the close of the sessions yesterday.

Mr. Cabrera met with the commiss yesterday for the first time since Tuesday. It became known that virtually the entire day was spent in argument calculated to onvince Mr. Cabrera of the advisability of indorsing the plan.
There had been forwarded from Washington a supply of the special paper on which treaties are written, and even green, white and red ribbons, the colors of Mexico, were purchased today for binding the sheets, but there appeared little prospect tonight of their early use.
