The Young Lady Across the Way

We observed to the young lady across the way that her father seemed to be a good deal of a numismatist, and she said she didn't believe it was very serious and a couple weeks at French Lick ought to get it out of his system.

Lay Over

Mrs. Hen, having performed her daily task, took a tour around the yard. Returning to the nest, she found it empty and chuckled angrily.

"What's the trouble, madam?" inquired the duck.

"It's darn funny that I can never find things where I lay them."—Awgwan.

FARMER SMITH'S RAINBOW CLUB

$25 IN GOLD FOR BEST SCRAP BOOKS!

Here is a lovely new surprise about the Christmas Rainbow Exhibition! WE ARE GOING TO GIVE $25 IN GOLD FOR THE BEST SCRAPBOOKS MADE BY RAINBOW MEMBERS AND DISPLAYED IN THIS EXHIBITION.

THE PRIZES

The member who makes the neatest and most interesting scrapbook will be awarded $5 in gold. For the second best book $3 will be awarded. For the third $2, and for the next fifteen, fifteen prizes of $1 each will be given.

HOW TO MAKE SCRAPBOOKS

Get a composition book or make one out of pieces of wrapping paper cut the size of a composition book and tied at the edges with ribbon or string. There are three different ways for you to make your scrapbook.

First. Cut stories or talks from Farmer Smith's Rainbow Club News and illustrate them with pictures cut from any part of the EVENING LEDGER.

Second. Cut pictures from the back page of the EVENING LEDGER or from the inside pages and write stories, poems or compositions about these pictures.

Third. Cut stories or talks from the Rainbow Club News and illustrate them with your own drawings; for instance, in a story about Billy Bumpus, draw the picture of a goat.

IMPORTANT—Scrapbooks must be at least ten pages long and each page must be from a different date of the EVENING LEDGER. The date from which you take your picture and club news must appear at the top of each page.

Send or bring in your scrapbooks before December 10, so that they may appear in the exhibition at 608 Chestnut street. Prizes will be awarded December 20 in time for you to buy Christmas presents with your prize money. In case of a tie for first prize the money will be divided.

It is not necessary to buy the EVENING LEDGER in order to compete.

Start now. FARMER SMITH, Children's Editor.

P. S.—In order that you may spend as much time as possible on the making of your scrapbooks, there will be no puzzles in the Club News for you to solve until after the contest is over.

Society Notes

Mrs. R. Miller, the mother of a lovely Roxborough Rainbow family, sends news of Ruth Miller's eight-year-old birthday party.

"There were sixteen children present at the masquerade. Aunt Edith and Uncle George Homiller decorated the dining room in "all the colors of the rainbow" crepe paper, and after the children had finished eating Nelson Cressman said "let's make a May-pole of crepe paper," and all they had to do was to loosen the paper from around the sides of the table and the long streamers hung from the gas fixtures down to the floor, and each child had a streamer, and they certainly did have a good time.

I love to see the Eddies enjoy themselves.

Some of the costumes were: Mae Tuiese, clown; Nelson Cressman, Dutchman; Katherine Clayborne, witch; Anna Kane, old lady; Esther Miller, Red Cross nurse; Ruth Miller, a doll; John King, lady of fashion; James Bernard, clown; Katherine Caviston, milk maid; Daniel Chestnut, tramp; Ethel Cressman, Indian maid; Buddy Cressman, Indian boy, and Bud Miller, farmer. Leona Caviston, Helen Caviston, Evelyn Chase, weren't masked. Ruth received many presents. Aunt Edith and Uncle George Homiller presented her with a signet ring, as did Aunt Alma Krewson from Cheltenham. Miss Margaret Pauver from Fox Chase was present also. The children received letters from Thelma and Althea Bashurst, their little Rainbow friends in Telford."

THE BUMPUS FAMILY'S JOURNEY

By Farmer Smith

Rocking this way and that the home of Billy Bumpus started over the hills and far away, Mister Elephant pushing in the rear.

"Ah!" sighed the big fellow as he pushed and panted. "I thought it would be an easy task to push a small goat family, but I am mistaken."

He stopped for a little while to rest. Inside Billy and his wife were holding on as best they could.

"Mamma, mamma!" came a voice from upstairs. It was Nannie Goat, wondering what on earth made her little bed roll around so. She did not wonder long, but hopped up and started downstairs in her little nightie. Just as she got to the top of the stairs, Mister Elephant outside gave an extra shove and downstairs went little Nannie Goat.

Bumpety,
Bump,
Bump,
BUMP!

"Oh, my child!" exclaimed Mrs. Bumpus as she rushed to Nannie's side. "Are you KILLED?"

"Yes, mother dear, I am plumb dead," said Nannie in a feeble voice.

Turning to her husband, Mrs. Bumpus said: "Now, see what you have done! You have killed our child."

"Yes, daddy, come and see me—kiss me, for I am dead, dead, DEAD!"

But before Billy could get to her side, Nannie had hopped upstairs. Suddenly the house stopped rocking.

"I wonder what has happened to Mister Elephant?" said Billy.

Mrs. Bumpus peeked outdoors. Sure enough! The big fellow had gone—that is, he had gone for a little while.

Her Happiest Thanksgiving

BY SARA ASH, PHOENIXVILLE, PA.

There lived in a poor old home a family of three children, whose parents neglected them. Every Thanksgiving they had very little to eat. When the oldest girl, Edith, was twelve years old she had a dream the night before Thanksgiving Day. This was her dream: Some rich people came and gave them some provisions. When she woke she thought, IF her dream would only come true! Then later in the day some rich people did bring lots and lots of things to eat. The last thing they took out was a big plum pudding, and when dinner came the whole family had a hearty meal, and Edith thanked God for the blessed food He had sent them. She said, "This is the happiest Thanksgiving I ever had."
