

Photo by Central News.
THE PAISLEY FAD SPREADS TO HATS
 A development in fall fashions has been a revival of the Paisley shawl, as worn by our grandmothers. Here is a tight-fitting cap, in which the scroll-like weave is used with striking effect.

Photo by Evening Ledger Photo Patrol.
ENVIED BY ALL THE BOYS AROUND BROAD STREET AND LEHIGH AVENUE
 Young Joseph Stecher sometimes enjoys the proud privilege of mounting post with his dad at this busy corner and, in full uniform with badge and baton, he waves back one line of vehicles and bids others come on.

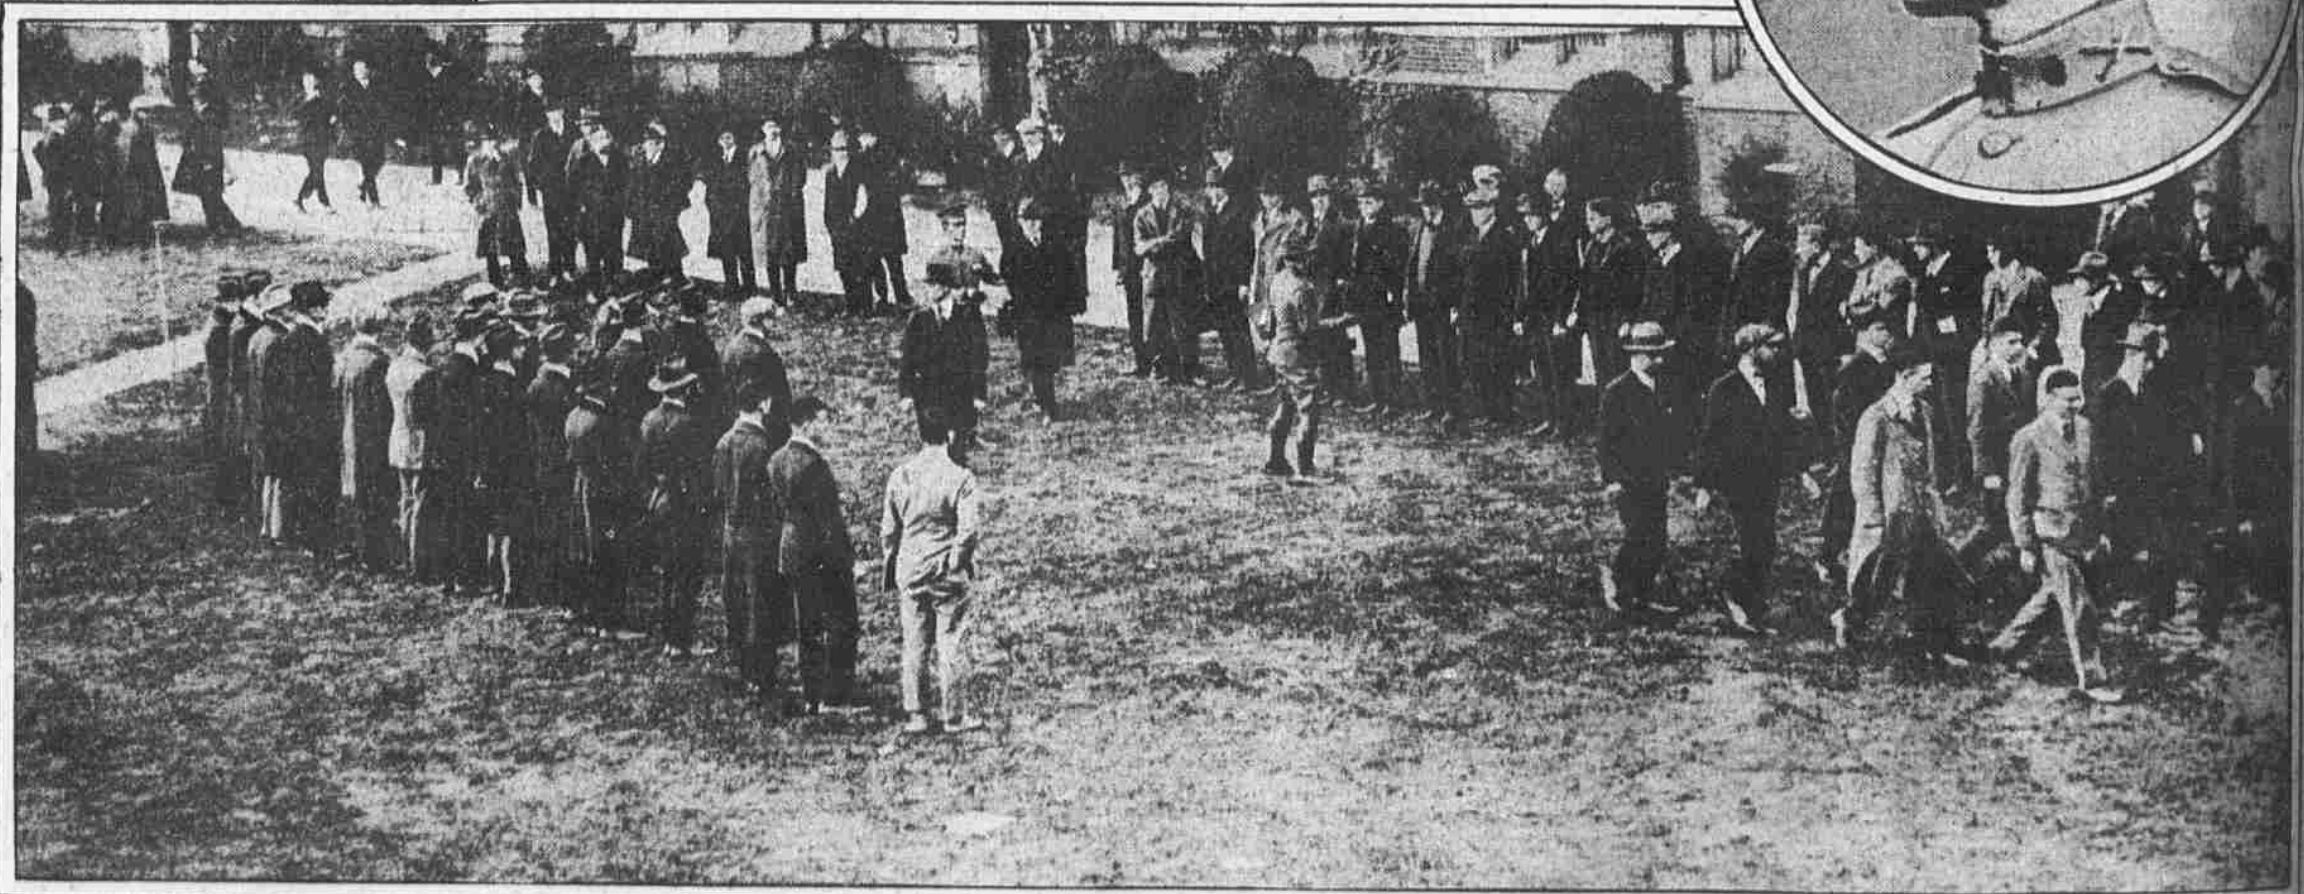

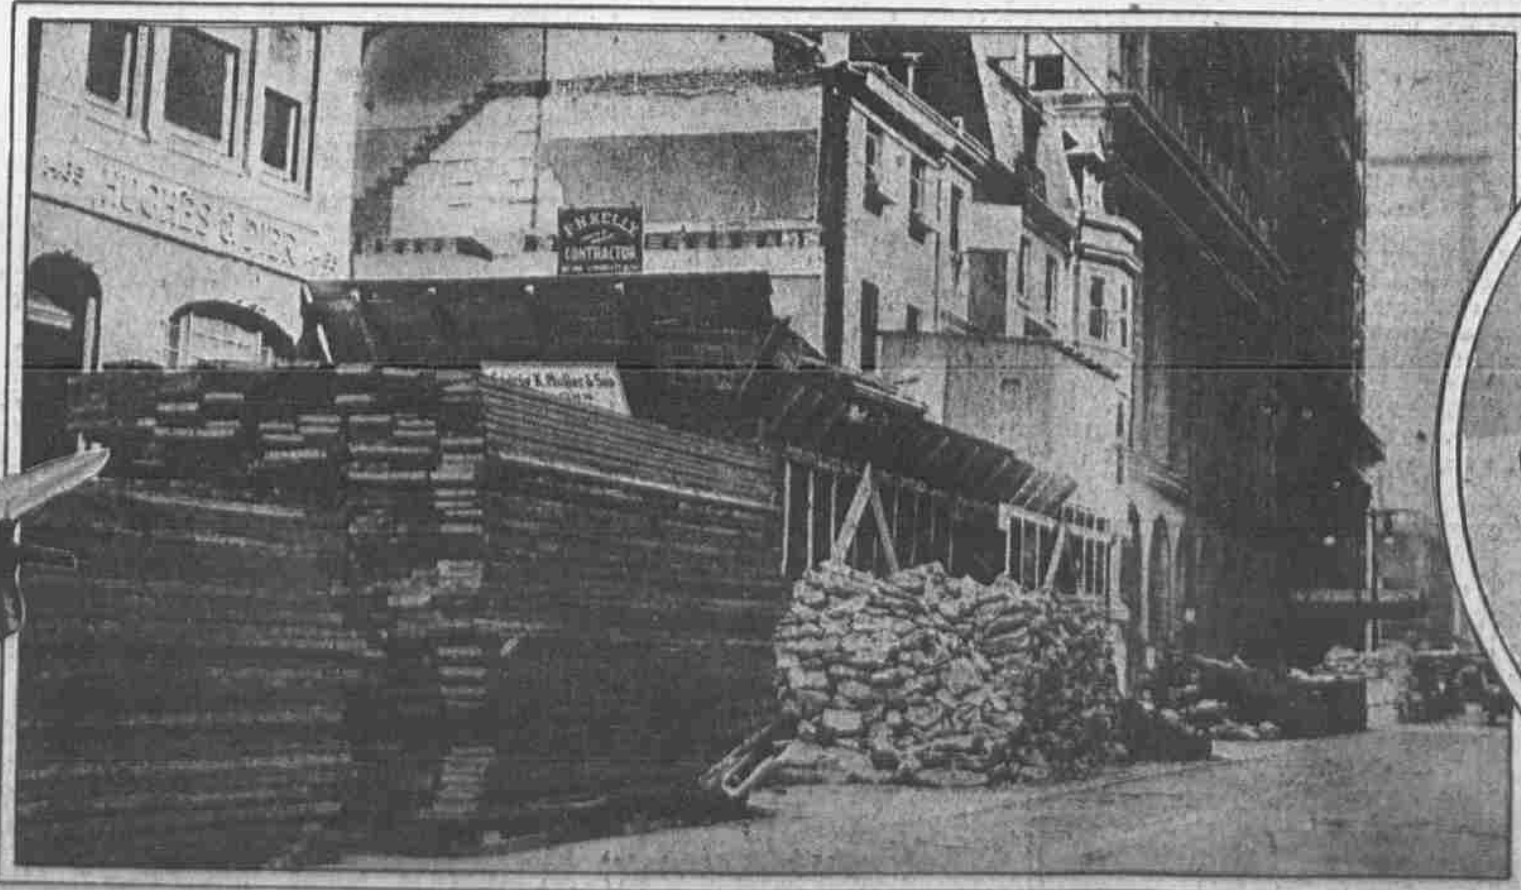

Photo by Evening Ledger Photo Patrol.
PENNSYLVANIA STUDENTS BEGIN PRELIMINARY DRILL IN MILITARY INSTRUCTION UNDER UNITED STATES CAVALRY OFFICER
 University men got their first taste of military tactics and science in the big quadrangle yesterday when Major Kelly took them in hand and started his course by separating them into squads. In this picture he is shown dividing the men who were at the Plattsburg training camp from those who have had no previous lessons in war procedure. In the circle above is Lieutenant F. J. Holzbauer, of the Engineering School, who is assisting in the drilling.

MAJOR WILLIAM KELLY, JR., U. S. A., WHO IS INSTRUCTING THE PENN MEN IN "PREPAREDNESS"

PILING UP OF BUILDING MATERIAL IN BUSINESS STREETS CAUSES PROTEST
 The Walnut Street Business Association is working for the passage of ordinances which will prevent such things, because they obscure window displays and form centers for dust.

GUARD OF THE FAMOUS FRENCH FOREIGN LEGION, TO WHICH MANY AMERICANS BELONG