The hunter's license fee is fixed at one dollar each for resident hunters and ten dollars for nonresident hunters. The proper ant for fishermen will be threshed out at next month's conference.

Provision is made that landowners and tenants, members of their families, their employes, may fish in waters wholly within the limits of their land without licenses. So may "any person temporarily residing" there. Persons under sixteen years of ago $2400. are entirely exempt.

MAN EMBRACES SHOPPERS

Attacks Half a Score of Pottsville Women and Gets Stabbed

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 20.—Half a accre of women were embraced while doing their Christmas abopping by a man entirely unknown to them. Mrs. Harry Keister and Miss Natalie Boone, of St. Cair, and Miss Evelyn Wessinger and Miss Florence Wertley were among the women attacked.

Miss Susanna Early stabled the fellow with a hatping but this did not prevent him from attacking another woman half an hour later. Both city and State police are after the hugger.

Charities Board Answers Scott The State Board of Public Charities, dreugh its president, Francis J. Torrance, of Pittaburgh, today challenged Congressman John R. K. Scott's plan for the ap-pointment of a commission that shall have abalute control of the State appropriations ablic institut Mr. Torrance and fumley Wharton, general agent and secretary, asserted that no funds are better afrequarded than the appropriations under the present system. An independent com-mission, they maintained, would be superfuous, as it could only parallel the work new being done by the Board of Public Charities.
