FARMER SMITH'S RAINBOW CLUB

YOUR ARMS

Dear Children—Did you know that one of your arms is longer than the other? I have found that my left arm is longer than the other and that is why I am asking this question.

I wish we all knew more about ourselves. I have tried very hard to get you interested in a little being in this planet called YOU, and the more I try to tell you the more I learn. Now isn't that funny?

I suppose all the girls are not anxious to learn about the gentle art of self-defense, but I want to talk to you a few minutes about boxing.

It would be a good idea if our boy members knew how to box. I am sorry that I did not learn to use boxing gloves when I was a boy.

If you can learn to box there will probably be no need of your ever having to use your knowledge.

Our first lesson will be this: Stand six inches or a foot from the wall and bend over so that your finger tips try to touch the wall. Then write and tell me which is the longer, your right arm or your left arm.

Lovingly, FARMER SMITH, Children's Editor.

HATS OFF TO THE FLAG OF THE TIN SOLDIERS

By Farmer Smith

"Wake up, there, you fellows!" shouted Sergeant Pepper Pot to the Tin Soldiers in Toy Town. "We are going to war."

The Tin Soldiers scampered out of their beds and rubbed their sleepy eyes.

Outside the tramp of hurried feet could be heard and the shouts of the officers.

Colonel Corn Tassel was riding around on his beautiful white horse Pickles, his gold sword clanging at his heels.

Drum Major High Top was getting the band together and everywhere there was hurry and scurry.

Captain Mustard had his soldiers all ready at one end of Toy Town and the other companies were getting ready in a hurry.

"What is all this noise about?" asked the Big Boy Doll of the Clown Doll, who had just woke up.

"I don't know," said the Clown Doll. "Let's go and see."

So they scampered up on a high seat and peeked out as the sun came up.

"Oh, goodie," said the Boy Doll, "the soldiers are going to war! Hurry, hurry, let's wake up the other Dolls and wave to the soldiers as they march away!"

Soon all the Dolls were seated on the window seat, watching the soldier boys as they marched by. The Paris Doll and the other Dolls had their handkerchiefs and they were waving them as Drum Major High Top passed by, and when the American flag passed the Boy Dolls all took off their hats.

"I wish I were a soldier," said the Clown Doll.

"Oh, pshaw," said the Boy Doll, "you would run as soon as a gun was fired."

"Don't you believe it," said the Clown Doll.

When the Clown Doll was not looking the Boy Doll clapped his hands real hard and it frightened the Clown Doll so he almost fell off his seat. "There, I told you so," said the Boy Doll, laughing.

A True Story

By MARY COHEN

One day when the snow was beginning to thaw, this is what happened to me: I was running so that I would get to school on time, when suddenly I slipped and fell. I got my dress very dirty. I did not know what to do, because if I went back I knew I would be late, but then I did not want to go to school with a dirty dress. I finally decided to go home.

When I came to school I told the teacher why I was late. She sent me to the principal to explain. When I told our principal she was very nice and excused me. So I guess I did the right thing to go home.

For a long time Libbie has been a very faithful Rainbow indeed, and it is with great pleasure that we now present her to her little fellow members. Another very faithful member, Clara Hill, brought us a lovely Christmas surprise when we were not at home. That was a great pity—the not at home part—for we were anxious to meet the little girl who summered at Wildwood and did not forget to write and tell us all about it.

Kathryn Mills, appeared last night in "Santa Claus's Cantata," a Christmas entertainment presented in Collingswood, our little Rainbow's home. Kathryn was a fairy, and we are sure she was a very bright, happy one. Ruth Crawford, a little Germantown member, is not having as joyful a time as some of our Rainbows. She is sick abed. Ruth's address is 3329 North Howard street. Will some of the postal-card brigade please remember her?

Thelma Ledly wishes to announce to all her little newspaper friends that her address is changed. Thelma's new home is located at 2862 Sixty-fifth avenue. Martha Rohrback, Sunbury, Pa., has no such announcement to make but she wishes to say that she has joined the club in earnest and that she is willing to attend to all club duties.

Viola Markley, East Falls, is busy tying up Christmas presents and hasn't time to write, so we excuse her. All the little Miller Rainbows, who live in Roxborough, are busy too, so we excuse them too. Madaline Magee, Mount Airy, took time to send the picture of a big box of love and Christmas wishes. We wish we were quite as clever an artist, for we would surely draw a picture full of our Yuletide thoughts for Madaline.

Marie, Francis and Joseph Driscoll joined us in a happy crowd not so long ago. Francis and Joseph are the little brothers whom big sister Marie thinks it will benefit to keep the Rainbow pledge. Dorothea Mosher, Ruth Stevenson, May Kinkle, Elizabeth and Gretchen Kaltenstein and Theresa Onnior are all new members introduced by Helen Ulmer, West Oxford street. Theresa Onnior is a little "sick-abed" lady just at present. Some more work for the postcard brigade!

Speaking of postcards, Bessie Carr, Idlewood, N. J., is sending out thirty-five "to make a happy Christmas for others." Bessie has also sixty little presents wrapped and sealed ready to speed on their gladdening way. Bessie has some interesting things to tell us about Nova Scotia, where most of her relations are living now. She will write about them a little later.

The Rest Are

"Hurry up, Tommy!" called mamma. "We're late. Are your shoes on?"

"Yes, mother; all but one!"

Dispensing With It

"It is not my usual custom to let any man kiss me unless we are engaged."

"But, you know, engagements nowadays are so expensive."

Ingratitude

Lance Corporal (who has caught sentry asleep)—D'yer know yer liable to be shot, failin' asleep on guard?

Sentry—Wot? And me stood yer a couple o' beers in the cafe last night!

THE KING'S ENGLISH

—The Sketch.

Super (to friend)—'Ere, Alf; 'ow would yer say it, if yer was me? "'Old; 'ere's the King!" or "Be'old 'is Majesty!"

Only Different

First Proud Parent—My daughter is very literary; she writes for money and pays all her college expenses with it.

Second Likewise—So does mine—in every letter.—Squib.

Telling Tales Out of School

Tommy—Do you go to bed very early, Mrs. Graymare?

Mrs. G.—Yes, Tommy, sometimes—when I feel tired.

Tommy—You wouldn't go so early if you were married to my pa, would you?

Mrs. G.—O Tommy, you funny boy; why not?

Tommy—'Cos my pa told my ma that if he were your husband he'd make you sit up.
