SEEK DEGENERATE IN MODEL'S DEATH

Police Say Depraved Man Killed Grace Roberts for Resisting Attack

ROUND-UP IN TENDERLOIN

Theory That Wealthy Club Member Committed Crime

Amounteement also was made that a round-un in the Tenderlyth would starr at once in following out the new class upon which the pollow are working. This measure was decided upon after a conference between Captain Tate and "Charile" Lee, former head of the vice squad, now in clarge the plain clothes men in the Second

The police said also they believed the wounds on Mrs. Robert's face and head might have been made with brass knuckles. IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS

Many other startling developments in the case were revealed by detectives of the murder emiad tiday. The most im-portant of these were:

First. The police are convinced after folg today's clues that a wealthy clubman out of the city did not compitt the Second A further examination revealed the fact that Mrg. Roberts was beated and kicked, but that death was due to strangulation. Her from teeth were knocked out, but she was not killed with the flation, as at first supposed.

Third. The negro maid employed by Mrs. Roberts, who had been sought for three days by the police, has been found. She was put through a "third-degree" examination at headquarters today, Fourth. A further search of the dead woman's apartment revealed nearly one dozen men's collar, all axed 1445, which is a smaller size than that of the blood-stained collar found after the marder. This would indicate, the police say, that possibly a man lived in the apartment.

FAILS TO IDENTIFY SHIRT

The maid is Elearner Gary, of $12 North Opal street. She was brought to head-quarters by fieteetiyes Callahan and Mahoney, of the murder squad. She was questioned for more than one hour and shown a satchel full of articles found in the apartment. She failed to identify either the bigodstained shirt or wallar.

the bigodstained shirt or collar.

The maid told the detectives and Captain Tate that she had worked for Mrs. Roberts until a short time ago. She was employed by her for more than one mouth and was the only negro maid Mrs. Roberts ever had, she said.

The examination at the morgue showed not only that Mrs. Roberts's from teeth had been knocked out, but also that she had been kicked and beaten on the shins, legs and body.

riant steps toward solution of the Important steps toward solution of the murder have been made by the police in the last twenty-four hours. Not only has the children. For the apartment house, at Fifteenth and Poplar streets, where the young model was killed, been found, but a prosperous-looking business man, who may figure in the case, has been grilled by detectives.

The name of this man is being kent see 1944, $25, $25.

The name of this man is being kept secret by the police. He was found through letters found in the woman's apartments. He was closeted with Captain of Detectives Tate for several hours and Tate for several hours and was allowed to depart after he had been scrutinized by a girl friend of the murdered woman, by the negro janitor of the apartment house, and several taxicab drivers.

CHAUFFEUR WAITED HOURS

The chanffeur of the taxicab was Elwood Powell, 221 North Ramsay street. Powell walted for several hours outside the Wilton on the night of the murder after depositing his passenger there; he lost his time and Detectives have learned that one of the woman's many admirers had threatened to kill her on several occasions. He sho is said to be the one who gave her the large diamond ring which was the only important plece of jewelry missing from her apart-ment after the murder. This man also is said by the police to have showered gifts on the woman and helped her financially. Then she litted him, detectives say, and one of the grievances he had was that the woman refused to return his ring. The police say he inherited $750,000 from his father, who was a brewer in a town in this state.

The taxi driver described his passenger.

who is now a suspect in the crime, as about thirty-two years old, about five feet eight inches tall and of medium build. He said the man was of dark complexion and well dressed, wearing a heavy overcont.
