Not for the Religious

THE RISE OF LEDGIAR DUNSTAN My Affird Tressider Sheppard D. Appleton & Co., New York,

The first impression one receives from Alfred Transister Sheppard's book as that his tole object has been in write a satire on Christianity. Fortunately this impression is not sustained, yet the flippant and lippoyerent thrusts at our most cherished beliefs and our most sacred institutions, made in every chapter of the book, will not win approval from any great number of read-re-Certainty. The Rike of Lechar Dunstan's last asory to be recommerded to any volunt. Certainty "The Ribe of Ledkar Dunstan" is not a story to be recommended to any young person in the formative, invessionable age But ande from the mental and moral tons of the book, credit must be given Mr. Sheppard for his skill in style and technique. The power and intensity of the story are beyond challenge, and the earlier chapters, too, are delightfully humarous. Had the author been less anxious to turn his work late the channels of thentie inquiry and interverent issueclasm he would have produced a marked success.

"The War and Humanity"

A Notable Sequel to "The Evidence in the Case"

James W. Beck

"I most earnestly hope that there will be a wide circulation of Mr. Beck's 'War and Humanity.' It is the kind of a book which every self-respecting American, who loves his country, should read. I believe that its circulation throughout the whole land would have a very real effect in educating public opinion as to the duty of America in this great world crisis. Surely, we cannot permanently rest content, unless we prepare ourselves both in soul and in body to do our duty as a nation in the world. There must be thorough military and industrial preparedness in this country; there must be an ar used and quickened patriotism, and a stern determinatio to see that the rights of our country, and its citizens, are everywhere respected; and, there must be a keen sense of international duty, and of the shamefulness of neglecting this duty. Such is the spirit Americans ought to possess, and this book of Mr. Beck's is a potent aid in the creation of such a spirit."-

to help you decide which set you want to buy

Both the higher-priced Cambridge Issue and the popular "Handy Volume" Issue of the new Britannica contain precisely the same fund of facts and information. They are identical—page for page, word for word, color plates, illustrations and maps—except in size, type and price.

Each has its particular merits-it is entirely a question which you prefer or can afford, which will give you the more satisfaction to own, which to you is the greater bargain.

The beautiful Cambridge Issue (pictured above on the left is a magnificently printed and bound set of books-29 volumes printed in large type, on wide-margined pages of the famous India paper.

The popular "Handy Volume" Issue (pictured on the right) is slightly smaller, very convenient to hold. It is printed in clear, though somewhat smaller type, on narrowmargined pages of the same genuine India paper, and sells for about 60% less than the Cambridge Issue.

You probably know all about this masterly work, the greatest reference library ever published—and have long desired to possess it. Its constant use would make it invaluable to you. If you have hesitated to buy it because you could not decide which set you wanted - the superb higherpriced Cambridge Issue or the popular "Handy Volume" Issue—here is your opportunity.

We will send you at our expense, to your home or office, one volume each of the Cambridge and the "Handy Volt. e" Issue, in any binding you designate. This will give you the privilege of examining their contents and their make-up, and you can find out their relative advantages.

All you need do is to fill out and mail the coupon. But you must act immediately. There are not many sets left of either issue, printed on the famous India paper pot enough for all who want to own the new Britannica.

This wonderful library of facts and information is offered in both forms at exceptionally low prices, and on terms which make it easy for any one to own it. However, the enormous popular demand for the "Handy Volume" Issue of which 75,000 sets were sold in six months) proved that both the price and the convenient size of this set are an important consideration.

You should have the Britannica, and we want you to be thoroughly satisfied with it.

Hence we make this proposition: See both forms, comare them and then decide. Some of the bindings of the ambridge issue are already exhausted. The stock of others is very limited. Of the full green sheepskin, the most popular binding, there are no more sets in stock. This binding can probably never be duplicated, because no more of this beautiful leather is available. Recently, after the usual sources of supply failed, we even sent to Japan, but no

Of the genuine red morocco, an unusually rich and artistic binding, but 154 sets were in stock at the close of vesterday. Of the beautiful full limp suede, there are only 464 sets left. This luxurious velvety binding gives the books remarkable flexibility; they can actually be rolled up. Of the half suede, 137 remain in stock; also 115 of the sheep morocco, and 456 green cloth. Cloth is the cheapest of the Cambridge sets.

The "Handy Volume" Issue, also printed on genuine India paper, is obtainable bound in cloth, full brown morocco-grained sheep, three-quarters crushed green Levant-grained morocco and full-crushed green Levant-grained morocco.

Prices are according to binding, cloth being the cheapest, and full morocco the highest priced.

Don't miss this opportunity, mark and mail the coupon today. This will bring the books indicated and full information.
