PENN MEN PROUD OF TEAM'S WORK

Mathews Declares Red and Blue Played Well in Spite of Defeat by Oregon

HELD OPEN PRACTICE

By NEIL MATHEWS

Captain 1916 Penn Football Team

Looking back over our eventful trip to Pasadena, where our team was defeated on New Year's Day by the Oregon eleven, I believe that I express the sentiments of the entire squad when I say that even though we lost, we are glad we went, and feel that we put up a game fight against odds. I do not believe that any team we have met this year could have beaten the Oregon team, with the possible exception of Pitt. Oregon would have given Pitt a hard battle, at that, but I think that Warner's team has a little something on them.

As far as the trip itself was concerned, every man was delighted. From the time we left on our special, ten days before the game, until we arrived here yesterday, everything possible was done for our comfort and pleasure. In spite of the many attentions which were heaped upon us at Pasadena, our fellows kept in shape, and we were in excellent condition when we went into the game, notwithstanding the long ride across the Continent.

We expected a fine crowd at the game, but that gathering of 50,000 football fans, the largest crowd that ever attended a game on the coast, was a revelation to us. Naturally, the big majority of them were rooting for the Oregon team, but our good plays were applauded and our men received cheers even from the hostile forces when a forward pass or a long run was pulled off.

Had Open Practice

I believe that one of the biggest handicaps that we encountered was the fact that we held our practice before the public, while the Oregon team worked out behind closed gates. Furthermore, Oregon had enough men to scrimmage every day they were in Pasadena. This may seem to be a trifling matter, but the fact remains that they were able to get on to all of our forward passes, while we had been led to believe that they had none at all. We found to our sorrow that this dope was all wrong. They crossed us completely in the forward passing game, pulling off good ones themselves and putting up a stiff and generally effective defense against ours.

When the game began we figured that we could run the Oregon team off its feet and virtually win in the first two periods. Our plans failed because we lacked the punch to carry the ball over the line after we got within striking distance of the goal line.

Weakened Near Goal

We had a lot of pep and plowed through the big Oregon team for consistent gains all through the first half. Not only that, but we had our passing working rather well in spite of their knowledge of our execution. But when we got within the shadow of the goal posts, either we lacked the punch or Oregan stiffened its defense wonderfully. Then, too, on several occasions I think we would have carried the ball over the line but for penalties which seemed to come just at the wrong moment for us.

In the second half, it may have seemed to those who read of the game that we weakened. But the contrary was the case. We had more fight, if possible, in the second half than we did in the first. They made their first touchdown in the third period on a forward pass after Parsons had made a forty-yard run around the end. The second score was the result of a forward pass which we tried, but which was intercepted. Parsons again pulled off a sweeping end run and was forced out of bounds at the three-yard line. They then rushed the ball over the line. I want to say, by the way, that Parsons is one of the best backs that I have seen work this season. He could make any team in the East.

I said in the beginning we are glad we took the trip, and feel that every man did his duty. Folwell thinks the same way, and told us that he was proud of the showing we made. He remained in California to take a hunting trip with his brother.

Navy Arranges 1917 Schedule

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 8.—The Naval Academy has arranged its football schedule ending with the big game November 24. In the schedule the big college teams are conspicuous for their absence. Efforts were made to get games with Princeton, University of Pennsylvania and University of Pittsburgh, but they failed for financial reasons.

P. M. C. TO MEET PENN ON FRANKLIN FIELD

Contract Signed for Football Clash on Election Day, November 6

CHESTER, Pa., Jan. 8.—Pennsylvania Military College is on the University of Pennsylvania football schedule for next fall. Contracts for the game, to be played on Franklin Field on Tuesday, November 6, election day, have been signed by Captain Frank S. Hall, of the football committee of the P. M. C. Athletic Board. Credit for arranging the game between the Quakers and the cadets goes, it is understood, to Captain Hall and to Guy D. Pontius, a former Penn football and baseball star, now director of athletics at P. M. C. Pontius appeared before the Red and Blue athletic authorities and was awarded the honor of appearing on Penn's schedule over many of the smaller college groups, all anxious for a contest on Franklin Field.

HARVARD "NIGHT SHIFT" FOR TRACK ATHLETES

Crimson Candidates Will Be Worked by Light of Calcium in Winter Months

Harvard will work a night shift for its track candidates in the months to come in an effort to bolster the strength of the field event division. A new lighting system has been arranged in the baseball cage on Soldiers Field and candidates for the broad jump, shot-put and pole vault will have afternoon and evening practice during the months of winter and early spring.

Track work has opened at Cambridge where the drive to prepare the Crimson relay teams for their clash with Yale at the B. A. A. meet at Mechanics's Building on February 3 starts. The Harvard and Yale varsity teams will compete in the 780 and 390 yard dashes and the freshman teams of the two universities will meet in the short relay event at the B. A. A. entertainment.

Two weeks later, on February 17, the Harvard-Dartmouth-Pennsylvania meet is due. Events to be competed for by athletes from the three colleges will be the forty-five-yard hurdles, the 300 and 780 yard relays, the mile run, the high jump and the shot-put. The pole vault and broad jump will also be added, it is probable. In addition to these events a number of special races will be run off. The Harvard management is now booking these attractions.

To keep track interest at a high pace a series of interclass relay races will be held at Harvard during the next four weeks, and there will be weekly competitions in the broad jump, shot-put and pole vault. Athletes who have the best averages in these specialties will be awarded prizes at the end of the competitions.

MOTORBOAT TO BURN UP RIVERS 75 MILES PER

Giant Racer of 2500 Horsepower Being Built by Chicagoan for Navy

Commodore James A. Pugh, of Chicago, the first man to produce a motorboat capable of sixty miles an hour, will now try to prove that he can drive the boat seventy-five miles an hour. His Disturber IV, which set up the new world record in 1915 and was beaten by the Miss Minneapolis last summer, carried a pair of motors aggregating 1800 horsepower, two units of 900 horsepower each.

Now the Chicagoan makes the announcement that he is having constructed two motors of 1250 horsepower each, making a total power installation of 2500 horsepower. He says he will install these new motors in the hull of Disturber IV, which is a big forty-foot, hydroplane, and endeavor to make seventy-five miles an hour. The Commodore does not intend to re-enter the racing game, but if the new motors turn the trick he will install them in his 112-foot cruiser and try to make fifty miles an hour with the cruiser.

He believes there are great possibilities in this direction and his purpose is to prove to the Government if he can produce a small cruiser that will make fifty miles an hour he will have produced an instrument of warfare with which the United States could "burn up" the navies of the world.

PENN CREW COACH DUE TO ARRIVE HERE LATE TODAY

Joe Wright, who coached the University of Pennsylvania crews last season and who signed a contract to again tutor the Red and Blue oarsmen, will arrive here late today from his home in Canada. Wright stated in a letter that he would begin work as soon as he arrives. He plans to call out all candidates for the varsity and freshmen crews tomorrow afternoon and have them practice on the rowing machines in Weightman Hall.

SCIENCE CLAIMS SUCCESS IN TREATMENT OF PARESIS

Injection of Salvarsan Into Brain Said to Have Proved Effective

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—After years of exhaustive research, in which millions of dollars have been spent, a method of successfully treating paresis has been discovered, scientists at the Postgraduate Hospital announced today. The new treatment consists of injecting salvarsan directly into the inner cavity of the brain, where the germs of the dread disease almost invariably prove fatal.

The drug is put into direct contact with the fluid of the brain and by it is carried to every part of the mental system.

Out of a dozen experiments, it was said at the hospital, two of the patients have recovered sufficiently to become self-supporting—an unheard-of thing for paresis victims. The others are noticeably improved.

Democrats Observe "Jackson Day"

This is "Jackson Day." It is the anniversary of the Battle of New Orleans, where Andrew Jackson, a Democrat, led the American forces to victory in the war of 1812. The day will be celebrated with "open house" at the headquarters of the Democratic Club, 227 South Broad street.

SONS OF AMERICA'S BIG INITIATION

An Army of Candidates and Forty Camps March to Hall for Enrollment

After many weeks of patient, earnest work, the forty camps of the P. O. S. of A., giving active support to the 2500 class initiation movement, achieved on Saturday night last at the Moose Auditorium, North Broad street, probably the greatest triumph in its history. Certainly there never gathered together in one evening so many of the leading members of the order from outside of Philadelphia. A street parade, in which 1000 members of the camps and commanderies were in line, marched from City Hall to the Moose Auditorium, under the marshalship of Hiram L. Wynne, of Camp 56, assisted by Louis Breidenbach, of Camp 435. On arriving at the State Camp headquarters the parade marched through a solid line of commandery members, the candidates first in line, followed by the members of the order. The candidates were all placed in the main floor of the hall, in the center of which had been arranged the camp room, in which the initiatory work was done in a beautiful manner, leaving a lasting impression not alone on the candidates but upon the older members who had witnessed the work for many years.

The camps which gave their active support to this movement are as follows: 34, 56, 81, 101, 141, 175, 203, 207, 301, 320, 330, 340, 342, 343, 360, 367, 398, 395, 403, 404, 444, 461, 478, 481, 488, 530, 540, 594, 651, 666, 667, 703, 735, 744, 746, 764, 811, 867, 871. Those taking part in the ceremonies were: Past State President Edward Smith, presiding officer; the general committee which met in 1911, North Broad street at the invitation of the State executive committee, each Friday evening.

The officers of Camp 34, Manton were as follows: H. M. Davis, president; Camp 485, Alfred McManus, Jr., P. C., vice president; Camp 251, Clarence V. Mallet, secretary; Camp 141, Frank Hedley, treasurer; Camp 481, Jr., Ellsworth Camp 867. The committees were as follows:

Hall committee—G. Birch, Camp 34, chairman; Robert Meadows, Camp 175; H. T. Starkhouse, Camp 436; Frank Crellick, Camp 481; Orlando S. Black, Camp 59.

Reception committee for initiatory staff — Alfred McManus, Jr., Camp 251, chairman; John Vantine, Camp 481; William Bateman, Camp 666; Earl Meadows, Camp 175; E. Patterson, Camp 651; Charles Kippenhouse, Camp 764; A. H. C. Palmer, Camp 342.

The initiatory staff was composed of some members of the order who had never before received an opportunity to show zeal in this line of the work. It can be said that the initiatory work had been drilled into them previous to the night of Saturday, Philadelphia. The staff was composed of the following members of the various camps:

President, John G. Carlin, Camp 343; vice president, Rev. Rees Lloyd, Camp 478; master of forms, Asa Goldbarker, Cap 297; past president, Alfred McManus, D. P., Camp 251; herald, Alfred McManus, Camp 251; conductor, James Clyde, Camp 764; chaplain, H. Edwards, Camp 251; sentinels left, Ellwood Robinson, Camp 481; Edward Hoffnagle, Camp 342; Charles Mc-Laughlin, Camp 481; inspector, Walter Mc-Mullen, Camp 481; assistant to State secretary, Samuel Lesher, Robert Thompson, Camp 538; guards, Brothers Crosslin, Camp 481; Brothers Bell, Camp 481; Brothers Bullitt, Hilbert, Camp 481; Corporal Robinson, Ruth, Nazareth, Md.; McDowell, of Keystone Commandery, No. 48, of West Philadelphia.

The color quartet of Camp 764 had direct charge of the singing end of the initiatory work, the high class work being heartily appreciated. The quartet is composed of the following members:

SECOND QUARTET OF CAMP 764

William White, first tenor; Frank Goode, first tenor; Harry Jones, first bass; O. V. Jones, first bass; Fort Mangum, second bass; R. Wall, second tenor; Austin Smith, second tenor; Thomas Fraser, leader.

Fourteen hundred candidates have been received into the camps interested in the three months' period in which the membership campaign has been in progress, but the entries made at the entire 1400 mark for initiation, but only 500 of them appeared and, therefore, only 500 of the members were initiated, on account of fear that there would not be sufficient seats for all.

The program was a most interesting feature of the evening. Addresses were made by State President Ernest K. Clark, of Pittsburgh; National President J. Calvin Strayer, of York; National Treasurer Oscar H. Wetherhold, of Reading; National Secretary Charles H. Stees, of Philadelphia; State Master of Forms John W. Harper, of Chester; State Treasurer Irwin S. Smith, of Reading; State Conductor Robert E. Classer, of Sinking Spring; Past State President John W. Reese, of St. Clair; Robert M. Helms, of Reading; State Vice President Charles C. Wolfe, of Philadelphia; C. L. Nonemaker, of Altoona; Past State Vice Presidents H. E. Huffington and Dewey J. Weimer; Howard D. Wolf, of Lebanon; and Lewis Breidenbach, of Camp 435. Hiram L. Wynne, Walter E. Button, Archbald S. Black, Harry S. Helms, of Camp 56; District Presidents Bross, Jones, Reich, Mc-Neill, Porter, Thomas, Rice, Blair, McMahon and Landis; State Assistant Secretary Minnard F. Shaw, Frank Thomas, Clarence Mahon, of Camp 141; Maurice Ranseer, Commissioner, Camp 201; Earl Meadows and William Vetman, of Camp 478, and many others.

District President H. E. Shortridge submits the following report of the recent rally of the Thirteenth District in the R. M. Hall, 231 South Sixteenth street: "All of the seven camps were represented and visiting guests from all over Philadelphia and the entire State. Addresses were made by J. Calvin Strayer, national president, on 'The Order in the United States'; Harry Mesing, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board, made an address on 'The Uplift of Manhood'; Charles H. Ingham, State secretary, on 'The Order in Pennsylvania'; Other speakers were made to address from the floor. Brother Jr., vice commander, and John W. Harper, State master of forms, and other prominent men throughout the order. This was intermingled with music by the Keystone Band and other talent selected from the district. It was a great success and will be instrumental in putting enthusiasm and earnestness among the members of the district as well as the entire order in Philadelphia." The rally was in charge of the district president, H. E. Shortridge, and a committee composed of Charles H. Davis and R. F. Dunlap.

ROYAL ARCANUM

Important Meeting of the Associated Councils of City and Vicinity

A meeting of unusual enthusiasm and interest was held by the associated councils of Philadelphia and vicinity in the Parkway Building, Broad and Cherry streets, on Saturday evening. This association is composed of all the active workers of the councils located in Philadelphia, Bucks, Montgomery and Delaware Counties, being elected as representatives from the subordinate councils. Seventeen councils were represented. The special invitation to the newly elected officers for 1917 met with a favorable response, due primarily to the presence of the grand officers and the supreme representatives. It has been a long time since so many dignitaries have attended such a session as this, as President Stoklinger remarked, being the most important convocation of his time. The regular routine was quickly disposed of and the usual committee reports and duties were executed with dispatch. A special appeal was made for council news by the press and publication committee for the fraternal columns of the Evening Ledger. Council reporters are to be appointed to furnish the committee with the latest happenings.

The real enthusiasm was revealed under that order of business known as "good of the order." The chairman, being conscious of a liberal supply of speakers, all duly called upon Grand Regent L. R. Stoltzfoorger, of Lancaster, Pa., who was greeted with long applause. He soon made plain to the Philadelphia Arcanum the duty that lay before them, the need of greater activity and frequent council visitations. He introduced a campaign of reinstatements, offering many liberal inducements to the councils for personal solicitation to members who have permitted their certificates to lapse, and formulated an easy method by which such members can be made to feel welcome back into the fold. Forty suspended members in the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania has restored a personal letter outlining the liberal provisions of reinstatement. The next speaker was Grand Secretary Hall, a humanitarian, who realizes the importance of upholding the fraternal side of association of the character and kind in which the order is classed. He urged all members to get more force in the ritual, and expressed implicit confidence in the loyalty of the members and that the high standard of fraternity in the R. A. of Pennsylvania would be maintained.

The next speaker was Past Grand Regent and Supreme Representative Arthur H. Seltzer, who presided over the affairs of the assembly in his forceful and masterly oratorical manner. He spoke of the lack of sufficient confidence and urged them to come out in the open in harness and return to the fold with loyalty and with confidence in their fellowmen. Brother Seltzer's administration will be remembered for remarks with a resolution that this association inaugurate at once a class of reinstatements and initiations to terminate by the first Monday in May, 1917, and to the end that the chair called upon every council represented to voice its personal approval of the proposition and to be a conservative estimate upon the part of each council and establish for this campaign. The expressions and impression received from the delegates indicate that the limit fixed will be exceeded long before the time stated. The speaker believes the aged of the older members who have not availed the new plan and rates have been reinstated and who now carrying health certificates, which is all that is required. Following the order of business and interest will not exist longer. The suspensions are on nearly as great as one hundred while the reinstatements are very encouraging. The association adjourned before half the speakers had an opportunity to have the floor before midnight.

The hospital association held its regular monthly meeting, Brother O. L. Stewart being in the chair. The treasurer reported some $1400 on hand with the hospital bills paid. The regularity and punctuality of representatives and the committees in charge of this humane work is a great credit to the Royal Arcanum.

Germantown Council at its last meeting had the requirements. Preparations are being made for the reinstatement campaign.

KNIGHTS GOLDEN EAGLE

Committee Named to Carry Out Plans for Big Anniversary Event

The local castles, through the Anniversary Committee of Philadelphia, have arranged to celebrate the anniversary of the introduction of the order into Pennsylvania on a larger scale than ever before. Among the features of the celebration is a large class initiation early in February, and the following brothers have been appointed a committee to further this part of the program:

Grand Sir Herald A. G. Stemme, Past Chief Harry F. Burgin, D. G. C. F. K. Lyttle, D. G. C. John Bender, Past Chief Ed. T. Morris, Past Chief J. C. Wilson, Past Chief John B. McKelvey, D. G. C. Otto Penn, D. G. C. Benjamin H. Clarke and Past Chief M. P. Braun.

Another pleasant feature of the celebration is the annual reception and ball, which will be held this year in New Mercantile Hall, Broad and Master streets, on January 24. The whole celebration is being planned with great enthusiasm by the various committees in charge.

The installing team of A. C. Little Commandery has again entered upon its busy season of installation, doing the work on Solar Castle last for Dorian Castle in its usual splendid manner. The castle then conferred the crusader's degree on several candidates. Dorian Castle has a splendid reputation for the conduct of the crusader's degree, which always draws visitors. After the degree and installation ceremonies were concluded the sir knights sat down to a bountiful repast.

The annual reports have just commenced to arrive at the office of the grand castle, and among those received showing gains in membership are the following: Allentown Castle, No. 55, gains nineteen, which runs its membership up to 208. Shamokin Castle, No. 416, made a gain of forty-one members. York City Castle, No. 414, made a gain of forty-eight members. Oley Castle, No. 178, made a gain of fifty-one members. Oley Castle, No. 178, will confer the three degrees on thirty-five or more candidates, thus running the membership up to 431.

Father and Son Die in Auto Crash

HUDSON, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Pinned beneath an overturned and burning automobile, the bodies of Cornelius Spencer, a wealthy fruit grower of Greenport; his son, Charles, two years old; Mrs. Spencer and another son, Cornelius, jr., aged five, were found this afternoon by Dr. Emerson Barlow, of Hudson, as he was driving near Hudson. Mrs. Spencer and son Cornelius were removed to the Hudson Hospital. Her husband and the younger child probably were killed instantly.

ARTISANS' ORDER'S REPRESENTATIVES

Selection of Delegates for Consideration of Important Legislation at Annual Session

The election of representatives at I. C. Underdown Assembly, No. 55, exerted a great deal of interest and resulted in the election of the following: Representatives, Harvey C. Dick, George B. Burton, C. Harry Butler, W. Lincoln Stewart, Conrad Hafner, Charles M. Morrow and William S. Walker; alternate representatives, Howard M. Smith, Charles V. Cirelli, W. S. Bissett, J. George Breitling, J. Milis Leslie, Jr., William W. Peck and J. Louis Bachofer. More than ten members were present, and one of the features of the evening was the installation of the officers by Most Excellent Recorder Cox, who did the work from memory and in a very creditable manner. M. E. Inspector Jacob B. Jordan was billed to provide a unique feature by way of entertainment, and none of the members who were within sound of his voice doubted that his stunt was unique and entertaining. In closing his remarks he presented to the retiring recorder, William J. Kirkpatrick, a magnificent mahogany chime clock on behalf of the members of the assembly. Brother Kirkpatrick has been recorder of the assembly since its institution in 1906 and resigns after sixteen years of satisfactory service. He carries with him the very best wishes of all the members. A splendid collation followed the business session.

Among the many workingmen members present were Alexander Grimble, George C. Ford, Harry F. Fox, Conrad Hafner and W. S. Cotter. The new Recorder, Harry C. Smith, awarded a prize to P. S. Scott, who had the honor of presenting his son as the first applicant initiated in the assembly in 1917.

Progressive Assembly had a large attendance at the first meeting of the year, and, owing to the Christmas entertainment held by the assembly on the Darkness Entertainment, which was a most enjoyable affair, and furnished a musical entertainment with the exceptional Sam Metcalfe in addition. The attraction was the presence of Deputies
