Congressman Will Confer With Daniels on Proposed Celebration

EVENING LEDGER PRAISED

Suggestion for Celebration to Mark Start of $10,000,000 Works Commended

The official part to be taken by the United States Navy Department in the celebration of the breaking of ground for new buildings in connection with the $10.-000,000 improvements at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, which is expected to take place within about three weeks, will be considered at a conference between Congressman William S. Vare, of Philadelphia, and Secretary of the Navy Daniels when Mr. Vare returns to Washington.

Congressman Vare told a representative of the EVENING LEBREH, which first pro-posed a celebration by the combined Fed-eral and civic officials, that he had not yet considered the matter definitely, but that he would take it up with the navy officials as soon as possible and that a program would be arranged at the earliest possible moment.

Much enthusiasm is being displayed everywhere in Philadelphia at the prospect of a special celebration by the civic departments. Business men and city official agree that the occasion is one most worthy of notice, as the Government improvements and the naval program to be carried out at Lengue Island probably will mean more to Philadelphia, both as a matter of business and as a ration-wide honor, than any other movement of recent years. The EVENING Leposn's initiative in proposing the cele-bration is being highly praised.

Both Common and Select Councils are expected to consider the matter of a joint councilmanic committee to arrange the city's part of the program at the regular Council meeting this afternoon.

James E. Lennon, president of Selec Council, and Dr. Edward B. Gleason, presi dent of Common Council, spoke heartily in favor of the celebration in interviews with an Evening Ledger representative. Both promised their hearty support of a resolu-tion for a councilmanic committee to work in co-operation with the congressional representatives and with the officials of the Navy Department at Washington.
