

THE SUBTREASURY ON CHESTNUT STREET IS ONE OF THE BUILDINGS ABOUT THE CITY KEPT CONSTANTLY UNDER THE WATCHFUL EYE OF THE DEPARTMENT OF POLICE

"HALT! WHO GOES THERE?" IS CHALLENGE TO EDDYSTONE VISITORS. One hundred armed guards already on the watch day and night to keep intruders from crossing the deadline at the great munition plant near Chester. The sentinel is armed with a Winchester rifle and will shoot to kill, if need be.

WOMEN WORKERS HALTED AT EDDYSTONE
No distinction is made between the girls and the men employes, and all must present their identification cards at the gate.

CORDON OF POLICE BARS ENTRANCE TO WHITE HOUSE GROUNDS
Perhaps nowhere in the country have more elaborate precautions been taken than is the case at the Capitol grounds and the President's quarters. A small army of bluecoats and plain-clothes men is constantly on the watch.

MEMBERS OF THE FIRST MORTAR BATTERY GUARDING ONE OF THE SHAFTS OF THE CATSKILL AQUEDUCT SITUATED ON JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER'S ESTATE AT TARRYTOWN. A DISASTER TO THE WATER SUPPLY WOULD PARALYZE INDUSTRY IN NEW YORK

RECRUITING FOR AMERICAN RED CROSS GOING ON APACE
The picture illustrates the work of enrollment in the Fifth Avenue Branch, New York, one of the 265 chapters of the society.

BASKETBALL TEAM OF THE FRANKFORD HIGH SCHOOL
Standing, from left to right, are Dornheim, Yocum, Mumford (manager), Lechler and Dornheim. Sitting, left to right, are Cartledge, Beasle, MacBlaine and Fauner.

MRS. ELEANOR B. ARRISON BESIDE THE BANNER DISPLAYED BY PHILADELPHIA SUFFRAGISTS BEFORE THE WHITE HOUSE

LATEST CONTENDER FOR "JERRY" WILLIAMS' TITLE
Fred Fulton with his wife and child at Grant High Brown's palatial home at Goshen, N. Y., where he is training for a championship fight.