

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Pennsylvania Division of Women's National Preparedness Hard at Work—Nancy Is Amused Aroused Over Honeymoon Happening

USUAL the women are in the foreground in the matter of preparedness they tell me the offices at the preparedness headquarters, are crowded and the eighteenth street, including Mrs. Gardner in charge, Mrs. Henry Brinton Cox and Cassatt, Mrs. H. H. the secretary, have Elizabeth had a moment to breathe since breaking of diplomatic relations with Germany, so eager are the women folk of the State to take part in the national preparedness movements in the State.

This afternoon in answer to word sent by Mrs. Walter Sharpe, of Chambersburg, who is vice president-at-large of the division, there will be a meeting of the members of the forty-three chapters at the home of Mrs. J. Gardner Cassatt, 1118 Spruce street. With so many persons working for this end, it is naturally wise to discuss ways and means and plans which will prevent repetition and any overlapping of activities, so to speak. The classes in cooking, which were begun earlier in the winter, are about to begin, for Mrs. Harry Cox has received enough money in donations to start and keep up three free classes. There are to be in charge of Mrs. Jasper Brinton, The Parish House of St. Michael and All Angels Church has been prepared for one of these classes by Miss Ellen Leaf. It is simply remarkable how much has been done already in this peaceful country of ours by the men and women who recognize the necessity of quiet but energetic and timely preparation for a state of affairs, which, if the worst comes to the worst, will not find us unprepared, as we would have been more than two years ago, had we entered on this fateful year, which has inaugurated the reign of brightness in Europe these days.

Why is it, when one has planned and hoped for romantic things, especially during one's honeymoon, the realities set in and instead of going about New York on a regular round of good times with the "Only Man in the World," one has instead to remain in bed in the Biltmore, Biltmore of all places, where one could feel so frightfully stylish if allowed to sit in the hallway alone, much less spend part of one's honeymoon actually in bed, and for what on earth do you suppose? Nothing less than MEASLES and German ones at that. Well, my dears, that is just what happened to a certain little bride we all know, and it is a shame to laugh, but it is so frightfully unromantic and childish to have such a disease, isn't it? And then to add to the fun as measles seem to have claimed the girl, what think you of a gay Lothario, who was to have come on from New York last week to be with his fiancée, as their engagement was just announced, and who (and was obliged to telegraph "Can't come, I've got the measles.")

They must have an epidemic in New York, so I advise near-future brides and bridegrooms to travel to the North and the South or the East or the West, but not to stop in New York on the way.

THE marriage of Linda Baker and Captain Charles Leslie Ames, of St. Paul, is to take place soon, that is, there, though the family does not know yet, when. You see, Charlie Ames is a member of Battery B, First Field Artillery of St. Paul, Minn., and has only just returned from the border and cannot come East, as all the members of the N. G. M., as well as other National Guards, have to stay near home in case of a sudden call to arms if affairs with Germany grow more serious. Naturally the young people think they might as well have done with waiting and get married before any further complications come up, so he telegraphed to her, and, as Mrs. Baker was not like the idea of her daughter being married away from home, she and Linda have gone on to St. Paul, and it remains for the family and friends at home to hear what the decision is by telegraph. I hope they can be married here, as Linda has so many friends and Rachel will be maid of honor, and there were to be great doings. Her bridal dress is finished I hear, but Rachel's is not quite still that could be hurried up, and it would be so much nicer if all can take place as was planned, with the only date pushed forward. But one never can tell in these days of uncertainty.

HOOVER LAUDS CITIES

HELP FOR BELGIANS

Head of American Relief Commission Will Discuss Work Here Tomorrow

Philadelphia is quickly responding to the appeal for aid of Belgian children, according to Herbert Hoover, chairman of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, who has just returned from Washington. He announced that the following new pledges for feeding the children of the various Belgian communities have been received: Pennsylvania Committee of Women, C. R. B., 1221 Walnut street, 618 children, six months, and 725 children, eight months. Mr. and Mrs. Woodson, Philadelphia, 115 children, a year. Mrs. Charles E. Cox, Philadelphia, six months.

Among subscribers in other cities are: A New York group, fifty children for twelve months; Miss Phyllis Young, San Francisco, 100 children for twelve months; New Bedford, Mass., through the efforts of Mrs. A. H. Hill, will support for a year; Mrs. Phyllis and Mrs. Hale, New York city, 120 children for twelve months; Pennsylvania Committee of Women, Reading, 125 children for twelve months; H. S. Kimball, New York city, 100 children for one year; and Mrs. W. K. Woodson, New York city, 100 children for six years.

In Washington Mr. Hoover made preliminary arrangements for the relief of Belgian children in cases of war between the United States and Germany. At a meeting in the Bellevue-Stratford tomorrow afternoon Mr. Hoover will speak on the subject of the relief work going on in Belgium under the joint auspices of the Philadelphia Relief Committee and the Emergency Aid.

Farmer Smith's Column

STAND UP! No, my dears, this is not another talk about standing up straight. I know I'm a crank on standing straight. I know I have told you that a person who is all bent over is a "CRACKED" person and all that, but...

STAND UP! A few nights ago I was called to talk to a body of young men and I tried to make each one STAND UP and say something. It was a hard task.

STAND UP! It takes "UNDERSTANDING" to be able to say something when you are on your feet. What would you think of a man who delivered his sermon sitting down? What would you think of the President of the United States or the King of England making an address while sitting?

STAND UP! You never hear a stand up for your rights. How funny it would be to say, "Get down for your rights." "Get up when you're right." Learn to "stand on your feet" not WITH your feet. As an ability to speak on your feet is a blessing, so the discourteous shuffling and stamping of your feet is a curse.

STAND UP! You never hear of a great singer pouring out a beautiful song while seated. Stand up, while you sing, and it gives your stomach muscles free play. It gives YOU self confidence and inspires the one to whom you speak.
