He is unconscious in St. Joseph's Hos pital, where it is believed he will die. His wife's mother, Mrs. Marie Mackinstosh, of Toronto, Can., has been notified by the Considerable mystery was occasioned a first by the refusal of the hotel management to give information about Franses, who had stopped at the hotel nine months. It was reported by the police that he was a buying agent for the Allies in this country. This was denied by J. H. Pickett, of Dungan Hood & Co., Inc., leather manufacturers, 249 West Susquehanna avenue, with whom Franses had been connected since 1909 as selling agent in Belgium. "Whether or not Franses tried to commit suicide I do not know." said Mr. Pickett "He showed no intention to do so. He was very optimistic the last time I saw him, a few days ago."

Franses, whose home is in Salonica Greece, came to this city nine months ago to place orders for leather supplies for his company in Brussels. Les Fils de Joscue Franses, his object being to be first on the market at the close of the war, which he believed would come soon. His wife died in Brussels two months before he left. He has two children in Brussels. His father, Josoue Franses, and other relatives live in Salonica.

A veil of secrecy was thrown about th accident by J. S. McCartney, manager of the hotel, who instructed employes to give no information.

The man was found shortly before 7 o'clock when a woman guest at the hotel telephoned to Hotel Detective Rice that she heard queer noises. Franses was removed to St Joseph's Hospital in an ambulance of the Eighth and Jefferson streets police station. Fransea was knocked unconscious by the fall and his skull probably fractured. One leg and several ribs were broken and he received internal injuries. He was partly dramed, but barefooted, when found.

U. S. RELIEF SHIPS GOING TO BEIRUT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 .- If Turkey proves unable or unwilling to obtain from Germany and Austria the safe-conducts asked for by the United States for its warships to go to Beirut to bring away the 1000 American refugees there, it is virtually certain that the ships will go without them. The trip would take them through the submarine zone and through a part of it where Austrian submarines have been active. If they make such a trip, they will go with the eyes of the world focused on them, since any attempt against them by submarines would be an act of war.

U-BOATS FORCE RADICAL PLAN BY LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Feb. 23. Face to face with a menace of admitted gravity to her food supplies, through operation of Germany's submarines, England has determined upon the most drastic curtailment of her imports.

All luxuries will be banned. Nonessential staples must make way for the necessities of war.

Premier Lloyd George announced these sweeping steps in the House of Commons today.

The restrictive plans will affect the very foundations of British life. They will practically influence the dining table of every British cltizen.

"If such a program is carried out." the Premier gravely promised his audience, "England can face the enemy's worst.

"Food stocks are lowest in our recolled tion," England's man of the hour declared, "due to bad harvests." For the nation's life increased production is nacessary.

"The year before the war fifty millions of tons of shipping entered British ports. "During the past year the total was 20,000,000. This was due partly to the allocation of tonnage to our Allles.

"Italy and France are begging for more ships.

"A considerable portion of our tonnage has been sunk by submarines during the past thirty months. The ratio has been increased during the past four or five
