

PHILADELPHIA, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1917

Copyright, International Film Service.
GAYETY MARKS THE NEW SKIRT
The tendency toward artistic and colorful patterns is shown in this offering, worn at Palm Beach by Mrs. Herber S. Carpenter, of New York.

Copyright, International Film Service.
THE BATHING SUIT IS NOT EXEMPT
This surf costume, worn by Mrs. Sydney Maddock, of New York, attracted sojourners on the sands at Palm Beach.

A BIZARRE HALF DOZEN AT SUFFRAGE BAZAAR
The group, from left to right, shows the Misses M. Whipple, F. Kofal, Mary Cronin, L. Tilley, B. B. Hardy and F. Kitch.

A WORKER FOR VOTES
Miss Miriam Partridge, as she appeared at the Suffrage Bazaar.

ALL EAGER TO QUALIFY AS FIRST VOTERS
Completing a "baker's dozen" of Philadelphia women active in the campaign for suffrage we find, reading from left to right, Miss Lillian Daix, Dr. E. M. H. Moore, Mrs. W. B. Derr and Miss Eleanor Derr in an animated background for the Misses Alice and Amy Smith.

ON THE Q. T. HE'S EQUALLY ADEPT WITH THE CUE OR ON THE TEE
The green golf course or the green baize, it's all the same to William F. Hoppe. We see him here practicing a stroke with the iron-shod club, while to the left he is executing his masse shot and to the right he exhibits a bridge feat with the leather-tipped wand of his wizardry. The world champion billiardist will delight Philadelphia admirers this week.