

Photo by White Studio
REINCARNATION OF A REX BEACH HEROINE
 Mabel Julienne Scott as she appears in "The Barrier" at the Chestnut Street Opera House.

NO SCHOOL TODAY. HULLY GEE! THAT'S GREAT
 Pupils of Hanna Public School are gleeful that a gas explosion in that building today will necessitate repairs rendering sessions impossible for several days.

STAIRWAY WRECKED BY EXPLOSION
 Detail of damage wrought today by exploding gas in W. B. Hanna Public School, Fifty-eighth and Media streets.

GAS EXPLOSION WRECKS WEST PHILADELPHIA SCHOOL
 Serious damage was done early today to the William B. Hanna building, at Fifty-eighth and Media streets, the interior of the structure being badly shattered in places, forcing temporary suspension of sessions to the delight of several hundred pupils.

A WELL-READ PHILADELPHIA SUFFRAGIST
 Miss Enid B. Ackerman accompanied the deputation from this city to the White House as the representative of the Philadelphia Librarians.

A GRIM SENTINEL LURKS BEHIND THE FLAG OF ALBION
 While the British steamship Architect is loading steel at Pier 48, South Wharves, today, the outlines of a steel-loaded stern gun for defense against U-boats may be made out on her upper deck.

BOY SCOUT HERO IS HONORED BY HIS COMRADES
 A medal of honor was presented to the late Scoutmaster, William B. Hanna, at a meeting of the 25th Troop, 11th Division, at the University City Club, on Thursday night.

TWO SPEEDY FORWARDS OF THE INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE
 Boss, of the J. & J. DeLoach Ave., is about to make a try for the basket, while the other is about to make a try for the basket, while the other is about to make a try for the basket.