

REGULARS
PLAY THE SCRUBS
First Game of Season at Coffee Pot Park Lasts Five Innings

CRAWATH LEADS THE YANS

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15.—The first scrimmage of the season was held at Coffee Pot Park today, when Coach Moran turned the varsity loose against the scrubs. Five short periods were played, and the men are not yet in condition to stand a grueling battle. Coach Moran warned his men as it is too early for that fancy ball, as it is too early for that fancy ball. He took a firm stand against field goals and told the players not to kick the ball any more than they could help it. The varsity presented a formidable line-up. Captain Luderus led the line from first base; Duguey was second, Hancock shortstop, Byrne third, Gandy, Foster and Cooper in the outfield. The scrubs led the plate. Sergeant Cravath led the scrubs into the fray and occupied right field, where the sun is not so strong. Bill Killefer, the catcher, Rathcamp was on first, McGuffee second, Haggerty shortstop, Lutz third and the pitchers took turns in playing in the field.

Stock and Niehoff Missed
Moran misses Stock and Niehoff more than he will admit, and George Whitted also will be welcome. Nothing has been heard of the proposed deal to swap the hold-outs for three other athletes, and the chances are that the deal will die a natural death. Another rumor which is unverified and everything is that the Phillies are negotiating with somebody for a guy who plays an outfield position on a big league team, and we know everything about it. The name of the person with whom the Phillies are dealing.

There is a faint ray of hope that the hold-outs will quit holding out in a short time and return to the fold with their signed contracts concealed about their persons. It is believed that the players when they find they are out of work will take a good look at the high cost of living and grab the first train south to register for their semi-monthly pay checks. This might not happen, but is good hope, anyway.

Players Going Great
The Phillies are getting into swell shape down here and seem to improve each day. The players are not loafing, but go through two sessions of strenuous practice every day. The pitchers in particular are telling the regular laborers, and they look very good. With experienced twirlers like Alexander, Rixey, Mayer and Lavender, the club should not be in such a bad way when the season opens. In addition to the star quartet, there are Flittory, who looks great; Craig, a southern, another sterling performer; Coope, fourth; Zinn, armchamber and Lewis. The last four need more work, but they have the makings of good mound-men.

Bill Killefer, the songbird-backstopper, is much pleased with the new material. "It is the best bunch of ball players I have ever seen since I joined the club," he said, "and I expect to see them do great work this year."

Umpire Chill Looks On
Ollie Chill, the American League umpire, visited the park yesterday and watched Alexander use a curve for the first time this season. Ollie is in business in Pennsylvania & small towns near here, and says it is doubtful if he will return to the game this year. He is making too much money, he says, and, anyway, he likes the climate.

Down here there are no lobsters, of the variety, and the natives have as a substitute an animal called the hard-rock crab. It is very large and looks so much like a lobster that it can be taken for its cousin or something. Ollie is the crab king of this section and has a fleet of boats out in the Gulf every day. He virtually has cornered the market and makes his own price. He probably will write to Johnny Byrne and give him all of the dope on the proper way to crab.

PENN GRAPPLING TEAM IN ITHACA FOR TITULAR MEET

Only Three Quakers Stand Out as Probable Point Scorers in Intercollegiate

ITHACA, N. Y., March 16.—The Pennsylvania wrestling team arrived here today for the intercollegiate championships. The preliminaries will be staged today and the finals for first, second and third places will be held tomorrow.

Coach Machet entertains no hope of winning the team championships, but believes that the Red and Blue will capture at least one individual title.

Captain Mulligan, welterweight; Servais, bantamweight, and Woolley, 125-pounder, are the only men expected to score points for the Quakers.

Cornell has won the title four times in a row, and it is very likely that the Ithacans will carry off the honors for the fifth consecutive year.

SCRAPS ABOUT SCRAPPERS
By LOUIS H. JAFFE
JOHNNY DUNDEE'S schedule for a western invasion has been completed by his manager, Scotty Monteith, and the New York lightweight will hit the trail for the city. Dundee's next appearance will be in Philadelphia March 25, and Lew Tendler, the southpaw, will be the other half of the mix. Following this set-to Dundee will stretch out for Ogden, Utah, where he will box Al Young, a local favorite. Among the cities where Dundee will perform are Seattle, Wash., Portland, Ore., Milwaukee, Kansas City and then he will start eastward stepping off at St. Louis, Columbus and Cleveland. Dundee may not be a champion boxer, and may never be as long as Fred Welsh holds the lightweight reins—but Johnny is a champion for traveling. He has done more road work—on the steel ribbons—than any other boxer of the present regime. During 1916 Dundee had about twenty-two bouts that carried him to almost every boxing point in the U. S. A.
