

THERE'S A SUGGESTION OF NEARING WARMER DAYS IN MANY OF THE CAMERA'S UNCOVERINGS

SETS EXAMPLE TO HIS COUNTRYMEN
Secretary McAdoo, of the Treasury Department, and two of his sons, who have entered the military service of the nation.

A PHILADELPHIA PIONEER OF PREPAREDNESS
A. J. Drexel Biddle instructs members of the corps bearing his name at the Lansdowne training ground.

ONE BIT OF "MALE MILLINERY" ALWAYS CONSPICUOUS
Thomas Ross enjoys the distinction of wearing the first straw hat of the 1917 season on Atlantic City's great promenade.

SUCCESSFULLY RESISTS INVASION OF HIS PROPERTY
Maurice Hammer, compels electrical workmen to remove pole from in front of his home, 6902 Wissahickon avenue.

A PARK DENIZEN MAKES A NEW FRIEND
Emerging from his winter lair, this fuzzy resident of George's Hill captivates a fair stroller through that woodland region.

LENDERS HER VOICE TO CHARITY
Madame Julia Culp, who will sing at Atlantic City next Sunday.

LEARNING AVOCATIONS THAT WILL MAKE THEM INDEPENDENT
Dressmaking class at the free Trade School for Girls, 415 South Ninth street, a useful, voluntary supplement to the public school curriculum.

ANSWER AND WINNER OF PICTURE PUZZLE
The picture published on this page last Friday, for which a prize of $2 was offered for the first correct answer mailed to the Pictorial Editor, was that of the building at 523 Chestnut street, occupied by the Real Estate Title Insurance and Trust Company. The prize is awarded to A. Goldbacher, 2353 North Twenty-first street.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE...
Southern trainees cannot see hot always...