

WAR ON GERMANY DECLARED; NATION IS CALLED TO ARMS

There was a long-drawn sigh from every one. Those in the galleries and on the floor looked toward the speaker for a chance to see history in the making. There was a wild scramble in the press gallery as newspapermen dashed for the front with the news of a nation going to war.

Senator Stone gazed absently into the galleries. Every other Senator leaned forward intently as Vice President Marshall picked up his pen. He hesitated a moment and then signed quickly and laid the document aside. For some time it lay on the desk. It took just three minutes for the measure to run its course in the Senate and about four minutes for it to leave the Senate chamber.

UNCLE SAM TAKES UP GRIM WAR BUSINESS; DRAMATIC HOUSE SCENES

War is upon the nation. The House, after hours of debate, passed the war resolution early today, and now the Congress is turning its attention upon the mighty task of raising an army and providing funds for the fight.

The clerk drew out the list of names, recording members' votes. Solemnly they answered. Some fairly barked out the yes or no. Some were husky. The names were reached. The tension was actually painful. The first woman was to vote on war.

MAYOR ASSURES AND ADMONISHES FOREIGN-BORN RESIDENTS OF CITY

RECOGNIZING the gravity of the present crisis and the possibility that trouble may develop through a misunderstanding of American rules and practices by those of foreign birth who have not been long resident in America, I have decided to issue this notice of explanation and assurance to foreign-born residents in Philadelphia who have not yet become naturalized citizens of the United States.

The United States Government never confiscates the property of a foreigner resident unless that resident, by his own hostile acts or breaches of the peace, renders such action imperative. And I take this formal means of declaring to all foreign-born residents that person and property will be safe from molestation so long as they continue to obey the laws of the nation, the State and the municipality.
