The Young Lady Across the Way

We asked the young lady across the way how the team seemed to be on inside baseball and she said she'd seen them play only outdoors.

Her Idea of It

The sitting-room carpet was being taken up preparatory to housecleaning, and little Dorothy, aged three, was watching the operation with a great deal of childish curiosity and interest. Taking up carpets evidently was something new to her infantile mind. Finally, after some hard thinking on the subject, she looked up at her mother and asked:
"Mamma, is you goin' to let the floor go barefooted?"

In Darkest London

"Hullo, old chap, sorry to see you've been bowled over. Somme?"
"No."
"Ah, Salonica?"
"No, Strand!"

MORE JOYS OF WAR

The Four-year-old—Mummy, do tell me another lovely fairy story like the one you told me yesterday, about when there were beautiful lights in the streets at night, and when little boys used to eat lump sugar.

New Clue

A schoolboy composition on Patrick Henry contained the following gem: "Patrick was not a very bright boy. He had blue eyes and light hair. He got married and then said, 'Give me liberty or give me death.'"

Essentially, Yes

—Cornell Widener
"Were you embarrassed when proposed to the millionheire?"
"Only financially."

A Sense of Propriety

"You wouldn't sell your vote, would you?"
"No, suh," answered Erasmus Peley. "But if a gomen what's run for office was to give me two dollars common gratitude, would you sell your vote 'eh him?"
