

President's Great Speech in Free Illustrated Supplement

TOMORROW'S Public Ledger contains a free Supplement, in which will be printed President Wilson's speech before Congress on Monday last, the "war" resolution, authorized versions of patriotic songs, ex-Mayor Blankenburg's appeal to Germans, etc.

Splendid Souvenir of National Crisis

This Supplement is worthy of preservation by every American family. It is a souvenir of the greatest crisis the United States ever faced; it contains the President's speech before Congress—perhaps the finest address made by an American President since Lincoln's speech at Gettysburg.

The Supplement will consist of eight pages, with a full-page portrait of President Wilson on the front, and will be freely illustrated with pictures of the Capitol and scenes of preparedness, etc. The demand for tomorrow's Public Ledger is sure to be heavy. Order now.
