Dick Rudolph, holding the Quakers to only two hits for seven innings, soon was working behind a seven-run lead, which his team piled up before the end of the fifth insing against Eppa Rixey and Young Fittery the left-handers.

Rixey surely looked good when warmed up in the sun before the game, but he had very poor control after getting started. The Braves got a run in the first inning on an opening double by Maranville, a sacrifice and a fine hit by Twombley, but was in the third session that Rixey looked ad. The Braves put in two bunts and then Rixey forced home a run with a pass and by hitting a batter. An out and a hit then made the Braves' lead one of four runs instead of only one.

Fittery did not fare any better, although, after a poor start, he settled down some-what. While he passed several batters; was strong with the corners occupied the fifth, however, the Braves landed on Fittery for four clean hits, which, with spass and a batter being hit, made three re runs and a 7 to 0 lead.

SIXTEEN UMPIRES FOR INDUSTRIA

Double System Will Again Be in Force in Workingmen's League

TO DINE SPORT WRITERS

To select sixteen umpires for the current season in the Industrial Baseball League is the task confronting Harry E. Cittell, leader of the workingmen's organization, which this season is composed of two sections of eight teams each, sixteen in all.

He has a long list of applications for the positions, but will not make his selections before next Monday, as he is desirous of signing the best possible within range of the salary available. Several of the arbiters affliated with the Industrial last year have been signed by the leading minor leagues.

President Cittell has decided that the sixteen men selected shall work in both sections, and their umpiring will not be confined to one division alone. The double umpire system will be in effect and the entire sixteen officials will be seen in action each week. A banquer will be held at the each week. A banquet will be held at the Adelphia next Thursday evening, which will be attended by managers and captains of the clubs with the leaders in the city's industrial life.
