a for dormitories at Byberry Farms to the 712 insane male patients now and into the antiquated quarters at ley have been approved by Director in, of the Department of Public Health Charities, and bids for construction will be received May 7. The estimated four dormitory buildings, a kitchen boiler house, together with necessary a improvements, is between $700,000 $100,000.

parector Krusen, when allotted $3,000,000 in funds for buildings at Byberry, had exceed to be much further advanced in the rk than is the case this spring, but he proposes pushing construction as rapy as possible so that part of the new at in the Thirty-fifth Ward will be ready recupancy next year. Work is now under yon buildings for the feeble-minded that, with each with plumbing and electrical equipment, will cost the city $798,858. The main matruction work has been intrusted to the truction work has been intrusted to the Plans for five dormitories forming that art of the cottage system set aside for ubercular patients have been delayed beause of the high prices asked by bidding ontractors. These buildings will cost approximately $450,000 as against the $300,000 that was set aside for them. These ontracts will likely be awarded in the ear future, and Councils may be asked to rovide the extra loan funds needed for be letting of the various classes of work. Buildings already standing at Byberry ouse $10 male : same and 210 female in-

In addition to letting contracts for buildconstruction, for plumbing and electri-equipment and for a refractory house, or Krusen plans letting, at the same time, a contract for the construction of walks and drives through that section of the city-owned land that immediately surds the insane section set aside for male unfortunates.

Despite the high cost of labor and mate-rial, city officials are anxious to get the Byberry Farm work under way along on branches, so that within the next two years Blockley may be virtually emptled of its inmates and work started on a new city poorhouse, the estimated cost of which is $5,000,000.
