

Copyright, International Film Service.
THE BUSIEST MAN IN AMERICA RELAXES
 Latest photograph of President Wilson, snapped while he and Mrs. Wilson were taking the daily motor ride.

REVIEWING PENN MEN AT DRILL
 Provost Smith, Vice Provost Penniman and Major Kelly watch the maneuvers of the University volunteer forces.

THE THRIFTY HOUSEWIFE IS "PREPARING"
 A West Philadelphia "home farmer," who is well advanced in her spring campaign against rising prices of vegetables.

Photo by New York Shipbuilding Co.
LITTLE SPONSOR OF A GREAT SHIP
 Miss Mary Darcy Kellogg, ten-year-old daughter of F. R. Kellogg, attorney for the Pan-American Petroleum Transport Company, gave the name "Edward L. Doheny, Jr." to the latest of that corporation's oil-carrying vessels.

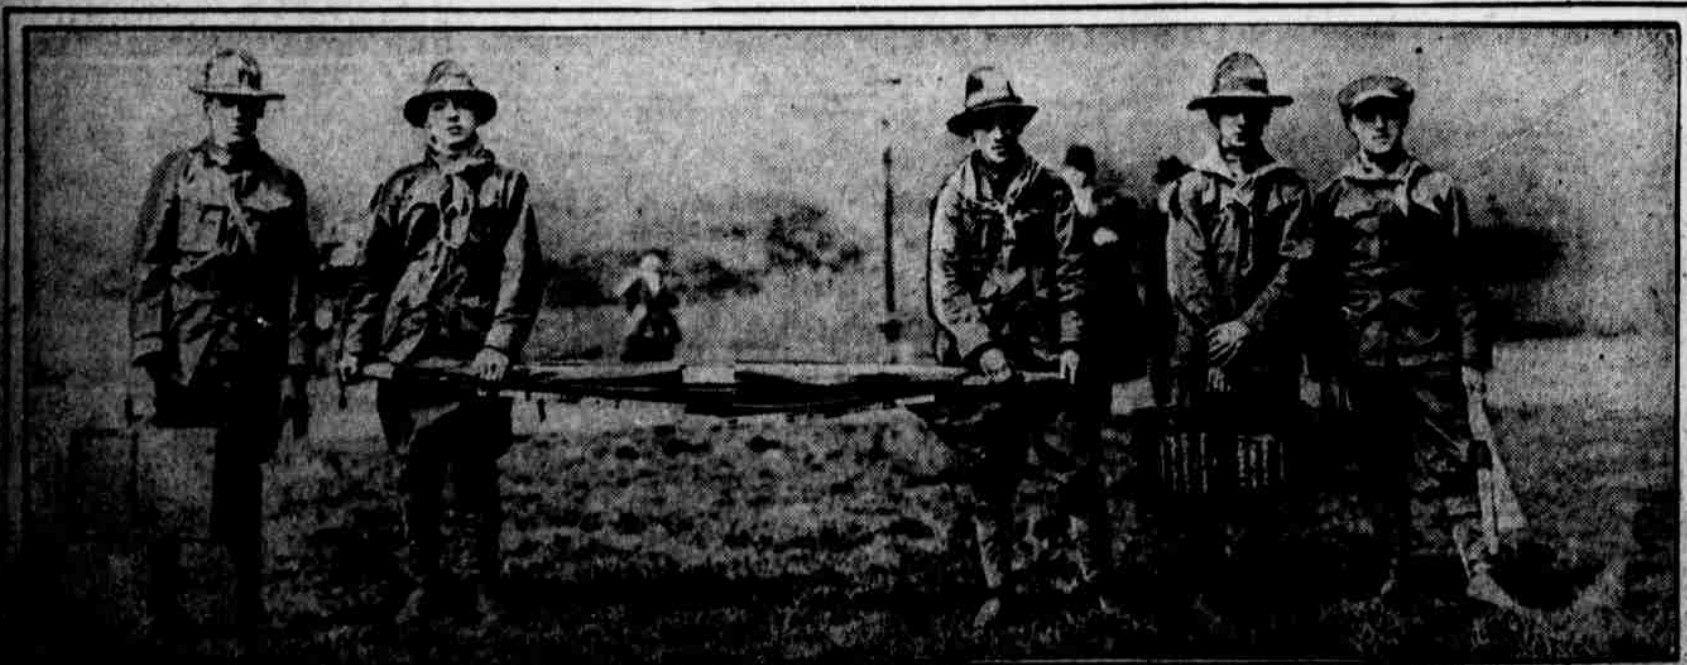

THIS ARMY KNOWS NO AGE LIMIT
 The Oslerian theory gets a knockout blow from this exponent of the principle that all should "do their bit" to conserve the country's natural resources.

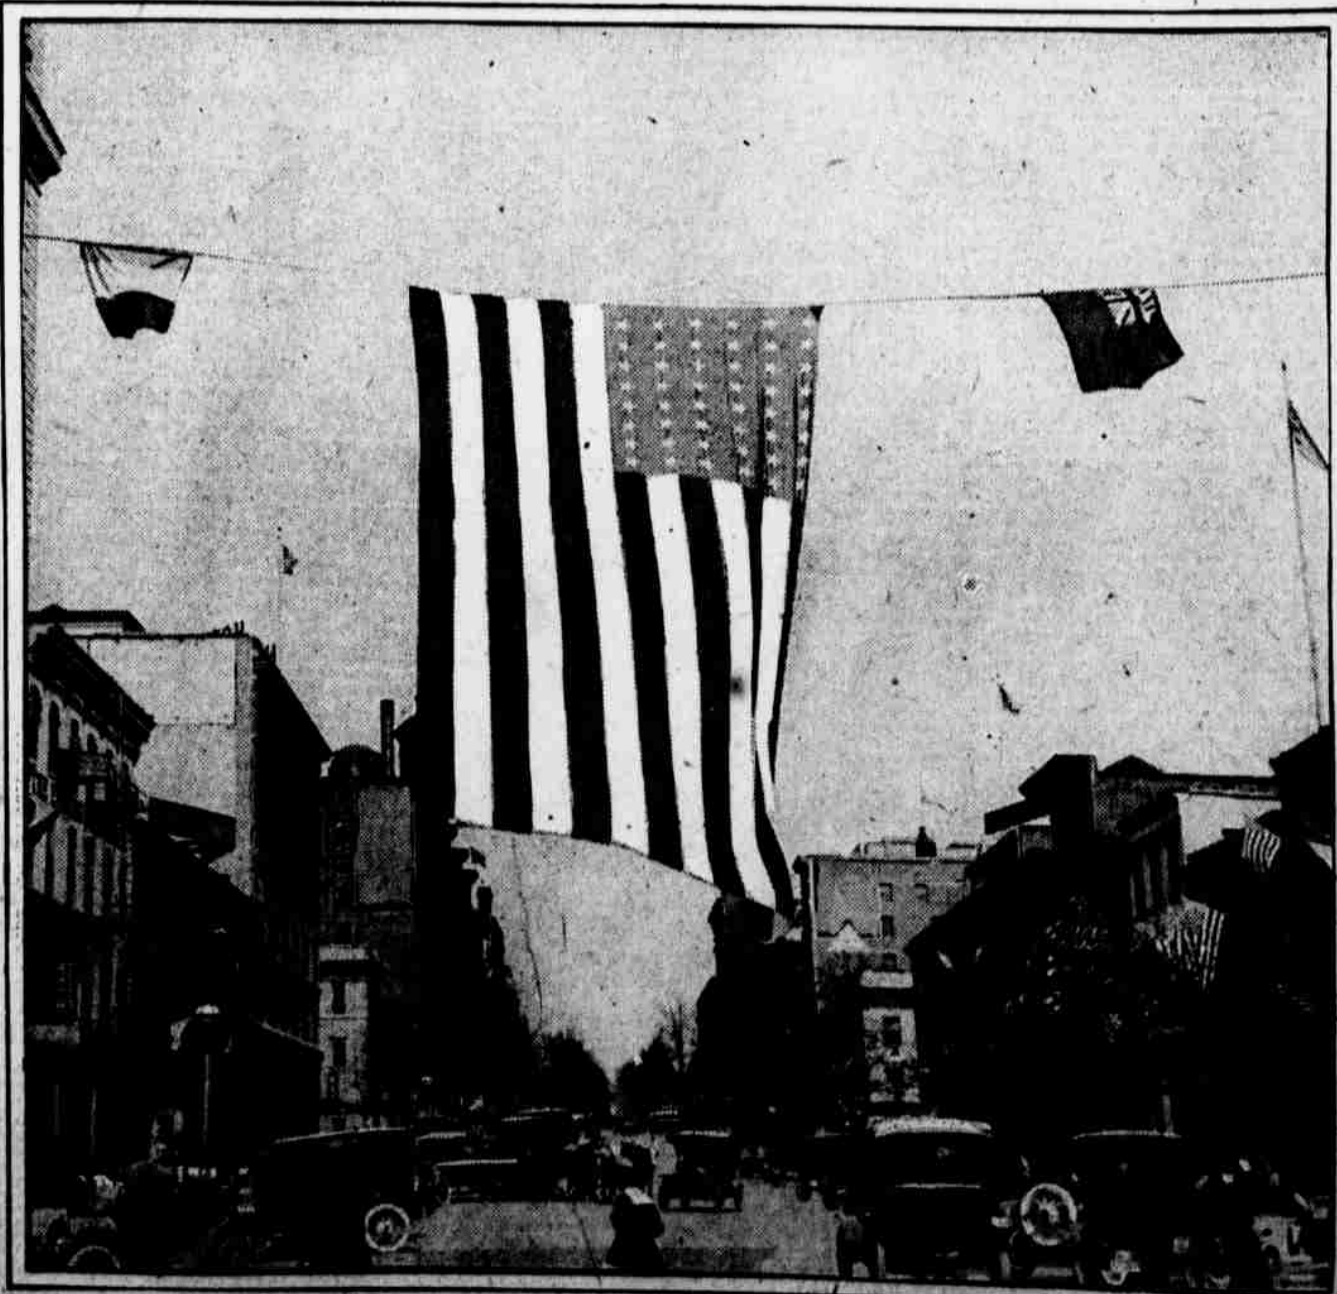

STUDENTS ORGANIZE ZOBO BAND
 War's serious side doesn't appeal strongly as yet to the boys of Chestnut Hill Academy, but most of them are too young for actual military service, so it really does not matter.

A YOUNG "MAUD MULLER" AT HER TASK
 Between school sessions this little resident of Philadelphia aids her parents in their efforts at domestic economy.

MERCY IS ONE OF THE PRINCIPLES OF THEIR ORGANIZATION
 They will engage in the stretcher drill, which is only one of the Red Cross features of their military instruction.

Copyright, International Film Service.
A TRIPLE ALLIANCE GREETES INTERNATIONAL ENVOYS
 Flags of the United States, Great Britain and France span Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, as part of the capital's welcome to the commissioners from the "mother country" and the "sister republics."