Great Amount of Activity Takes Place in Any Issue. Steel Common and Cramp Shipbuilding Off More Than Point

Prices continued to pursue a downward course in the trading on the Philadelphia Stock Exchange today. In no issue was there any great amount of activity during any part of the session, although the steel common and Cramp shipbuilding were the most active among the various stocks which appeared on the tape instead of being centered to a great extent in the United States steel common, steel common, however, was the most active on the list.

Cramp shipbuilding and Electric Storage Battery, the former two losing more than a point and the latter a full point to the point for the year, there were no very notable price movements. During the morning the Lake Superior Corporation stock, which was the most active, but this gain was not maintained in the afternoon and it went below the final of yesterday.
