

EVERY SNAP OF THE CAMERA PRODUCES A NEW PICTURE FOR THE READER'S VIEW

YOUNGSTERS THRIVE IN OUTDOOR CLASSES
Two special open-air classroom buildings aid in conserving the health of boys and girls at the historic Friends' School, Germantown.

PUPILS MAKING GARDENS TO CONSERVE FOOD SUPPLY
The yard adjoining the Germantown Friends' School, on Schoolhouse lane, is being cultivated by the children.

SAVE THE BIRDS AND PROTECT GROWING FOOD CROPS
Germantown Friends' School children making and erecting houses for the winged destroyers of insect foes of trees and vegetables.

CHINESE OFFICER IN U. S. ARMY
Copyright Kahl & Hertel.
Tien Tow Liu holds a commission in the Officers' Reserve Corps at Columbia University, where he is raising a unit of 600 fellow countrymen.

HERE COMES THE SOUP WAGON!
A portable kitchen outfit that is now part of every unit in Uncle Sam's military forces afield.

SMALL IN STATURE, BUT LARGE IN POPULARITY
All Port Richmond, and a goodly section beyond, knows "Buttys" Bellew and his team. Bellew is also an acrobat with skill that brings in a "man's-size" living to this talented midget.

PHILADELPHIA GIRL WEARS COOLIE HAT
Miss May B. Keene, 5108 Hazel avenue, adds to the Chinese headgear a dress with beaded border, the decorations spelling in the celestial character "United States," "America" and "Chinese Republic."

GREAT UPSTATE TRACT TO AID CITY'S HEALTH
Geisinger Farm of 400 acres, which Mayor Reichenbach, of Allentown, has acquired as a site for that municipality's sewerage disposal plant. The tract marks the junction of Allentown and Bethlehem.