412 PHILADELPHIANS AT OFFICERS' CAMP

FORT NIAGARA, N. Y., May 11. The first contingent of Philadelphia's finest young manhood arrived here today to begin the three months' course of training that will equip them as officers for Uncle Sam's selected army of 500,000.

Four hundred and twelve Quaker City recruits were among the 849 men from southern Pennsylvania, making up the first detachment that poured into the big army post on the lake this morning after a night in sleeping cars. It was a business-like throng in which powerful, virile manhood, mentally alert, stood out predominant. Most of the "rookies" are not "rookies." They have seen service on the Mexican border, in the Spanish war, in the Philippines, or have been drilled as Plattsburgers or military school cadets. The material which is to be molded into officers is not "raw" by any means, army officer-instructors were pleased to note, as the business of "getting Cotonel Samuel W. Miller, U. S. A., rushed this operation to "clear the decks" for another contingent of about the same number which is expected tomorrow. The last detail, arriving Sunday will bring the total number of applicants for commissions to 2500, who, with 200 members of the officers' reserve corps and fifty instructors. will compose the personnel of the big arm) Work on the fourteen frame buildings it which the recruits will be housed and fed is rapidly nearing completion. Most of the nine barracks, each 500 by 20 feet, are completed, as are the five mess halls, measuring 350 by 40 feet. A staff of thirty cooks and 200 waiters will prepare and serve the food.

The post quartermaster closed a con-tract today with a Niagara Falls produce dealer for sixty carloads of potatoes, which are to be delivered in the three months the men are in camp. Each car holds about 600 bushels.

The recruits will find preparatory work in Uncle Sam's army no small or light task. Each man will be hard pressed for more than sixteen hours a day. Here is the daily routine as it has been mapped out by the War Department: The men wirt be aroused from their slumbers at 5:15 oclock in the morning. In fifteen minutes they must be ready and have their quarters in shape for the reveille formation at 5:30 o'clock. At 6 o'clock comes mess; at 6:45 sick call.

These are days when everyone is telephoning -when it often seems that the very person with whom you wish most urgently to talk is continually reported as "busy."

It is sometimes asked whether these reports can be made with uniform accuracy. Just before the operator completes the connection by means of one of the switchboard cords, she taps the "plug" end of the cord against the "jack" or terminal of the called subscriber's line and hears a buzzing sound if the line is in use. Of course, if a party-line number is being called, the "busy" report may mean that another subscriber on the line is using it.

It is always easier and quicker for the operator to complete a connection than to report "the line is busy!"

Busy men and women have busy telephones. Naturally you may have to knock more than once at their telephone doors.
