LONDON, May 16.

A great attack has developed in the fighting between the British and Turkish armies in Mesopotamia, the War Office announced today.

Germany's counter-offensive attack which started yesterday with concerted attempts against French and British fronts had apparently worn itself out today in vain beating against the Allies' positions.

On the French front the official statement indicated the enemy counter-offensive was confined to a single major fighting action around Lafaux, delivered in force, but repelled by Nivelles' troops.

The Berlin statement, on the other hand, claimed capture of a section of French trenches east of Lanouville.

Both German and French statements agreed on an intense artillery duel in progress along the Aisne.

GREAT BATTLE RAGING ON SCARPE FRONT

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS WITH THE BRITISH FORCES IN THE FIELD, May 16.

Despite determined resistance the British early today regained nearly all the ground in Bullecourt which they lost yesterday and re-established new posts to the west of the village.

Bitter fighting is still in progress as this is reported.

The Germans are striving to the utmost of their power to retain the initiative of action on that part of the front where the British pressure is increasingly threatening them.

Early today the enemy started a heavy barrage fire along the British front positions between Moulain and Lafaux, early this morning was repulsed by French troops, the official statement announced today.

Along the Aisne there was an artillery battle during the night. Early this morning the Germans launched a powerful attack on a front of four kilometers in the region of Moulain and Lafaux.

Despite their efforts the French held all their positions. The battle is still continuing.

At Auberville, Avoncourt and Berry-en-Bas German attacks also failed.

In Haut Alsace the French cleared up German trenches, imprisoning many.

Mr. Acheson was a director of the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company prior to its difficulties, and it is believed that worry in connection with its affairs hastened his death.

GOVERNOR DENIES WAR FUND CLASH

Harmony Between Board of Which He Is Head and Safety Committee

DREXELS SENT $50,000

By a Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 16.—Governor Brumbaugh today explained the status of the Public Safety Committee of Pennsylvania, so far as the expenditure of State funds by the committee is concerned.

His denial that there was any friction between the newly created "war board" and safety committee, and also asserted that he has not authorized the expenditure of any money by the committee.

According to members of the war board, the safety committee had expended about $50,000 which was advanced by Drexel & Co., through E. T. Stotesbury.

"Not long after the Public Safety Committee was organized and its executive committee was appointed," the Governor said, "Mr. Stotesbury, who, as you know, is a member of the executive committee, called me up on the phone from Philadelphia and suggested that it might be well to provide funds for the patriotic work the committee has undertaken."

"I informed him that, as the measure sponsored by Senator Buckman, which created the Committee of Public Safety and Defense and provided $2,000,000 to be disbursed by it, had not been passed at the time he registered, I was not in a position officially, or otherwise, to authorize the expenditure of any money by the public safety committee, or its executive committee."

"I also explained to Mr. Stotesbury that until the passage of the measure by the Legislature and the approval of it by myself, no State funds would be available for the great undertaking the members of the committee had so generously assumed at my invitation."

"I also explained to Mr. Stotesbury that to suggest that Drexel & Co. would gladly advance whatever money the committee might require until such time as the measure was available, I naturally expressed my appreciation of his liberal offer, but made it very clear to him that I could not authorize such a course, either officially or privately, and that if Drexel & Co. or he advanced any money for the expenses of the committee it would be solely on their or his initiative."

"I desire to say that I believe any patriotic Pennsylvania would have appreciated as I did, the splendid motive by which Mr. Stotesbury was actuated. I was not in a position, however, to give official cognizance of his offer and, therefore, I am not Mr. George Wharton Pepper, chairman of the Public Safety Committee, as well as of its executive committee, has ever mentioned the subject to me since, although I have talked with them both since the matter was broached by Mr. Stotesbury."

NOT THE SLIGHTEST FRICTION

"When the other members of the State Public Safety and Defense Committee met in my office yesterday—Lieutenant Governor McClain, Adjutant General Stewart, State Treasurer Kephart and Auditor General Snyder—there was not the slightest friction among us, only the most complete concord and understanding."

"I understand that through the kind offices of Mr. Stotesbury, $25,000 was advanced by Drexel & Co. to the Public Safety Commission, but it was done without my knowledge or authorization, and as for the second $25,000, I have no new information was advanced. I really had no previous knowledge of it."

"Right now, I want the people of Pennsylvania to understand that I would be glad to do the latter."

"I qualified for a colonel in the adjutant general's department about a year ago and a commission was issued me on February 14 of this year. Yesterday I received an order placing me on active duty and directing me to report to Charleston, S. C., on May 24. Under the Constitution of the United States I am obliged to take my choice between remaining in Congress and proceeding to active duty. On the whole, it seemed wiser to do the latter."

Gardner is a colonel in the old of Boer's reserve corps, retained as a part of the military establishment under the May national defense act, passed by the last Congress.

SPRING SMASH BY ITALY NOW IN FULL SWING

Several Thousand Austrian Prisoners Arriving Behind Cadorna's Lines

BATTLE RAGES ON HILLS

King Victor Emmanuel's Heavy Guns Smash Enemy Defenses, Inflicting Great Losses

By JOHN H. HEARLEY

ROME, May 16.—Italy's great offensive is gaining ground. Over a front of from twenty-five to thirty miles Italian guns are roaring today, while infantry is steadily advancing. Several thousand Austrian prisoners have already been sent behind the lines, according to word received here today.

"The fighting was reported very heavy on the hills behind Gorizia, where it appears that the greatest force of the Italian drive has been launched. There the Italian heavy-caliber guns are said to be particularly effective. Heavy losses have been inflicted on the enemy by this fire."

For three days the Italian artillery bombarded Austro-Hungarian positions before launching their new offensive, as stated in official dispatches from the front today.

The bombardment opened on the morning of May 12. At first the Austro-Hungarians returned a feeble fire, but it grew stronger until one of the most violent artillery duels ever seen on the Austro-Italian front was raging.

The Austro-Hungarian guns drenched the Italian trenches with thousands of heavy shells, but failed to impair the morale of the Italian soldiers.

The position on the left bank of the Isonzo between the Piava and Salcano Pass was regarded by the Austrians as impregnable, but the Italians, charging up the rocky slopes in the face of terrific rifle and machine gun fire, carried it by storm.

Italy's offensive starts from the line conquered during the summer of last year by General Cadorna after the Austrians had unsuccessfully attempted to invade Italy from the Trentino salient. According to dispatches from Rome, the battle is now raging with particular violence on the hills to the east of Gorizia. That would tend to show that the objective of the Italian staff is not so much Trieste as the Austrian lines of communication through the Carso plateau to Laibach, which is the base of operations of the Austrian "army of the Isonzo."

The clearing of those hills and of the northern sector of the Carso of Austrian defenders would open to Cadorna's forces the valley of the Vipacco River, through which runs the main line of communication between the Austrian armies of the Carso and their base of Laibach. If a powerful thrust does not open in the region east of Montebelluna, with a tremendous artillery action against the Austrian stronghold of the Hermada, it cannot be said that the Italians are pointing toward Trieste as their main objective.

JINGOES LAUD, "REDS" ASSAIL HOLLWEG MOVE

Conservatives Pleased by Chancellor's Speech on Germany's War Aims

REVOLT THREATS MADE

Berlin Radicals Plan Demonstration in Protest Against Teuton Policy

COPENHAGEN, May 16.

The Norwegian Workmen's Bureau has voted to send no delegates to the international Socialist peace meeting at Stockholm.

AMSTERDAM, May 16.—To annex Belgium and humble England are the chief war aims of Germany, according to the influential newspaper Volks Zeitung, of Cologne, today in discussing the speech of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Chancellor. This newspaper is regarded as being very close to the German Government and the article on peace terms might be regarded as "inspired," it was said. According to the Cologne Volks Zeitung, Belgium may be annexed, but if not made a German province it would be held in military, economic and financial subjection to the German Empire.

The paper spoke in the most cordial terms about Russia, holding out the olive branch in no uncertain terms.

In a strong but noncommittal speech in the Reichstag, in reply to peace interpellations by Conservatives and Socialists, Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg declined to state Germany's peace terms, but made an offer to Russia to conclude a settlement on mutually satisfactory grounds. The Chancellor's speech was characterized mainly by his effort to please his interpellators of both the conservative and radical wings. The Conservatives were evidently satisfied and adopted what virtually amounted to a resolution of confidence. The Socialists were evidently displeased, and show they were uttering warnings and threats of possible revolt.

Following closely upon the appeal of the Russia Council of Workmen and Soldiers' Deputies, addressed to the German Chancellor to quit fighting and to raise the banner of revolt against the Kaiser, George Ledebur, leader of the Socialist minority faction in the Reichstag, has sounded the call for a republic in Germany and announced that he would soon make a definite proposal looking toward the abolition of the monarchy before the constitutional committee of the Reichstag.

Philip Scheidemann, leader of the majority Socialists in the Reichstag, in presenting the Socialists' peace interpellation to Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, threatened the Chancellor with a revolution if Germany should insist upon a policy of conquest. Scheidemann's attitude is particularly significant since he represents that large part of the German social democracy which had hitherto co-operated with the government in the prosecution of the war.

CHANCELLOR'S SPEECH LONG AND INDEFINITE

BERLIN, May 16.—The refusal of Doctor von Bethmann-Hollweg, the Chancellor, to outline Germany's peace terms to the Reichstag was both attacked and praised by German newspapers today.

Radical newspapers, representing the Socialists, were particularly scathing in their criticism of the Chancellor's speech.

$100,000,000 LOAN MADE TO RUSSIA

Intended to Assure Continuance of New Republic in War to the End

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A treasury warrant for one hundred million dollars—America's first loan to the new Russian republic—was turned over by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to C. Onou, charge of the Russian embassy here, shortly after noon today.

During these conferences, it was learned today, the United States was assured if the hundred million-dollar loan were made Russia's continuation in the war on the side of the Allies was assured. The Russian government fully understood that the loan was made contingent on her rejecting all German offers of a separate peace.

The turning over of the treasury warrant to Mr. Onou was witnessed by Counselor Polk of the State Department, and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Crosby. It is a short time loan to be converted later into longer term bonds. The loan is made at 3 per cent.

BLAST PLOT WRECKS PIER NEAR SOO CANAL

Four Killed and Three Fatally Injured on Damaged U. S. Government Property

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., May 16.—Four men were killed and three fatally injured here today when an explosion damaged the Government pier near the Soo locks. Preliminary investigation indicated the explosion was an effort by plotters to destroy the locks, which have been under guard of Michigan National Guardsmen for several weeks.

The dead: MORTIMER COOK, a boat guard employe. Major Wilson, in charge of the Second Battalion, Thirty-third Regiment, Michigan National Guard, threw a cordon of troops about the pier, while Federal, State and city authorities started an investigation.

The locks, which are vital to the transportation system of the country, apparently were not damaged to any material extent by the explosion. Millions of tons of grain and ores are sent through the locks annually, the tonnage handled by the locks is valued at $100,000,000.

In addition to the money appropriated him the President has been authorized by Congress to act with Secretary McAdoo in loaning $10,000,000 to the Allies.
