

NATIONAL NEED BOOMS BACK-TO-THE-SOIL MOVEMENT IN WHICH ALL CLASSES ENLIST

BRYN MAWR STUDENTS DESERT THE CLASSROOM FOR THE FARM
They are cultivating the Sharples Farm, near West Chester, with the aim of supplying the college with vegetables for the winter.

FROM THE CLASSROOM TO THE PLOW IS A GREAT DEPARTURE EVEN FOR BRYN MAWR GIRLS

MISS MARY NEARING IN FOREGROUND AND PROF. A. D. CROMWELL, IN CHARGE OF BRYN MAWR GIRL FARMERS

MRS. ROBERT GLENDINNING, WIFE OF THE BANKER-AVIATOR, IS AN ENTHUSIASTIC STUDENT OF FARMING AT THE AMBLER HORTICULTURAL SCHOOL

BUSY SCENE AT THE AMBLER HORTICULTURAL SCHOOL, WHERE SOCIETY WOMEN ARE STUDYING THE MYSTERIES OF THE SOIL

WORKERS' FARM FIELD DONATED BY THEIR EMPLOYERS
The Smith & Stokes Company, at Slummersdale, Pa., has turned over a spacious piece of land for cultivation by employees and their families.

MISS HELEN BELDA (LEFT) AND MISS BEATRICE WILLIAMS PLANT TREES AT THE AMBLER SCHOOL. THE PHOTOGRAPH EXEMPLIFIES THE ENTHUSIASM WITH WHICH THESE WOMEN HAVE TAKEN UP FARMING