This Shows How Easy It Is to Buy a Bond

You need not be a rich man; or a rich woman, to help Uncle Sam war. You can buy a $50

Liberty Bond, or a $100 one.

If you want a $50 share your first payment will be only $1—with more than a month to make the second payment of $9. The last payment will not be due until the end of August.

Many business houses, large em-ployers of labor and some of the banks have devised plans whereby small investors may buy Liberty Bonds and pay for them in smaller installments than provided for by the Government's direct offer. Some of these plans extend the payments over a year.

Pay for a $50 Liberty Bond this

$1 down. $9 on June 28. $10 on July 30. $15 on August 15. $15 on August 30.

These bonds are as good as gold. They pay 3½ per cent interest and are not subject to Government or State tax. When the war revenue bill passes Congress it is probable that a tax on bonds will be included, thus making Liberty Bonds the best

Philadelphia today is responding nobly to the call of Uncle Sam, and cut of the bank vaults, pay envelopes of workers and the strongboxes of housewives a stream of money is being converted into Liberty

Today, or twenty-four hours after the financial men of the city mobilized to float Philadelphia's share of the bond issue, it is certain that the effort will be successeful. In every section of the city and from every element of its population the bond salesmen who are donating their time to the Government are winning the co-operation of the people. Bankers, business man and industrial have entered the "buy-a-bond with genuine enthusiasm, and through their co-operation the commit-tee in charge feels certain that every home in the city will be canvassed. Figures dealing with the volume of business being done are not available, but an idea concerning the spirit of Philadelphia is contained in the meager reports filed with the comat its headquarters, 108 South

This morning the Pennsylvania Railroad announced that through the Mutual Bene-icial Association of its employes it plans to put a bond into the hands of every one in 24 army of 150,000 workers.

If each employe buys a 350 bond it will mean a subscription of $7,500,000. Circulars describing the loan are to be sent to the railroad workers, and, to make it railroad has arranged to sell them on an installment basis. Subscriptions may be made, without expense, through the Mutual Beneficial Association for one or more ands that range in denomination from $50 to $1000. Employes can purchase a bond on the basis of $10 down and $10 a month or arrange payment on a monthly basis. The payments will be deducted from pay envelopes when workers choose that plan.

With the exception of about 2000 yards, the British under Field Marshal Haig have now taken about ten miles of the northern end of the Hindenburg line. These gains extend from Arras to a point near Bullecourt. Fighting with infantry and cannonading continues along the Sensee River and north of the Scarpe on the Arras front. Along the Sensee the English consolidated their new positions and extended them.

their new positions and extended them. Field Marshal Haig's report revealed no major fighting actions, but showed effective shelling by British guns. Heavy German attacks were beaten off by the French in the Champagne district in the sector of Moronvilliers. Along the Aisne River also there were engagements and violent artillery duels. The latest thrust of the French has increased the peril to Laon, the chief bastion defending the southern end of the Hindenburg line, but there must be many days of bloody fighting before it can be taken, it is admitted by the French military experts.

BROAD ST. HOTELS LOSE FIGHT ON BAR

Daniel E. Kopp Wins License Transfer to Heart of Hostelry Section

COURT REJECTS PROTESTS

The License Court today granted a license to Daniel E. Kopp to open a saloen and medium-priced restaurant at 315 South Broad street. This is right in the shadow of the biggest and highest-priced hotels of the city, being next door to the Ritz-Carlton, across the street from the Bellevue-Stratford and within a block northward from the Walton Hotel.

The former Kopp restaurant and saloon was at 40 and 42 North Broad street. It was at 40 and 47 North Broad street it was torn down to make way for the development of the Parkway. When Mr. Kopp appeared in the License Court last week with an application for a transfer of his license to the new location he was vigorously opposed by the hotels in the community, by the Walnut Street Business Association and by several of the business verolle on Broad street near at hand. people on Broad street near, at hand, CLAWSON BACHMAN Alleged Philadelphia swindler, who was caught today at the Canadian United States postal inspectors.

MISSING FINANCIER CAUGHT IN CANADA

Clawson D. Bachman, Indicted in Gas-Electric Case, Hunted Down

WILL FACE JURY HERE

Clawson D. Bachman, alleged $2,500,000 swindler, was arrested today less than a mile south of the Canadian border line by a Philadelphia postal inspector.

Bachman, who has been hunted merciessly since his indictment six months ago. will be brought back to Philadelphia to face charges growing out of the alleged $2,500,-000 International Gas and Electric Company swindle. He is now safe in the grip United States authorities.

After Bachman was indicted with his associates in the International Gas and Electric Company his home, at 502 East Germantown avenue, became empty Word was flashed throughout the try by Chief Postal Inspector Cortelyou.

"Get that man," were the orders that came straight from Washington. The nation was combed from ocean to land, labor, army organizations and the con-ocean, from lakes to gulf. Time after time reports came to Chief Inspector Cortelyou that the man was here-there. But it was ot Clawson D. Bachman. A week ago another report came in—the ct. Clawson D. Bachman was selling insurance in Believille, Canada, a little town | front. Chief Inspector Cortelyou called Postal Inspector Frank Wilbur Smith, one of his best men, to his office.

"Bachman is in Belleville, Canada," he told Smith. "We can't extradite him. But see what can be done. Go up there."

Inspector Smith hurried to the little Canadian town and found his man. But the finding was in vain unless he could et Bachman into the United States.

Bachman is here," Smith wired his chief.
Then busy brains devised a way of getting Bachman. Canadian officials were will ing to help, because, for one reason, the United States is an ally of Great Britain. Secret Instructions were given.

Saturday Canadian immigration officials appeared at the modest Bachman itome in Believille and took Bachman into custody. He was brought before a commissioner and Continued on Page Six, Column Two

RUSSIA STANDS FOR PEACE, NOT SEPARATE PACT

Tereschenko Confers With Entente Envoys-Asks Revision of Terms

MAY CALL CONFERENCE

Germany's Foes May Meet to Discuss Question of Restating Aims

Peace-a general peace, not a separate one—is still the predominating idea emanating from Russia in today's dispatches. Following upon the announcenent that the Russian Government, spurred on by the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies, would request the Allies to revise their peace terms on the basis of "no annexations and no contributions" comes the announcement from semiofficial circles in London that the Allies may soon call a conference to consider the situation.

The Russian people, it is understood are dissatisfied with the war aims of the Allies as formulated in their reply to President Wilson's plea to all belligerenis to state their peace terms prior to the entrance of the United States into the war. The London dispatch says that the Russian representations have already seen submitted to the Allies. Foreign Minister Tereschenko has held a series of conferences with the Entente envoys in Petrograd.

The aim of the Russian Government is to get the Allies to disavow definitely all ideas of conquest or forcible annexation and to invoke the aid of President Wilson in the matter on the basis of his famous "peace-without-victory" note.

It is understood that French and British Socialists have agreed to press this policy before their respective Governments.

A dispatch from Copenhagen, quoting the Berlin Vossiche Zeitung, says that Russia would soon conclude a separate peace with Germany. This is discounted not only by the official statements of the Russian Government, but by the open declaration of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies.

PETROGRAD, May 22. soldiers from all Russia has been called for June 14 to discuss "war, peace, finances, stituent assembly," according to announce ment today.

BALK SCHEME TO KILL CITY'S TRANSIT BILLS

P. R. T. Tries for Delay Until Legislature Adjourns, Is Hint

HEARING, HOWEVER, OPENS

SEES CITY IN P. R. T. MESH William Draper Lewis, legal adviser of Mayor Smith in transit regulations, today attacked the proposed lease for operating new subway and elevated lines, as well as the Transit Company's financing proposals as unfair to the ing proposals, as unfair to the city.

Bu a Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 22 A last-minute move to prolone the transit caring before the Senate Judiciary General 'ommulities was made by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company this afternoon. Mayor Smith and other city officials stameed it as a desperate attempt to gain delay in the hope that the Legislature would adjourn before the pending transit bills could be passed. Through Ellis Ames Ballard, its chief Chairman Daix, asking that it be granted another hearing before the committee at a later date. Mr. Hallard gave no reason for not going to Harrisburg. William Draper Lewis, the Mayor's ad-viser in the transit negotiations and chief speaker for the city at the hearing, burled broadside attack against the Rapid Tranait Company. He riddled to bits the terms of the P. R. T's proposed lease of the new subway and elevated lines. He assalled the stock-watering of the underlying com-panies and showed that the P. R. T. pays millions of dollars in dividends on such watered stock. He argued against attempts of the traction company to feather its own nest with a 5 per cent dividend guarantee, while the city's taxpayers would be piling up debt an dtaxation, he said.

CITY'S HANDS TIED Apparently," Mr. Lewis said, "the Rapid Transit Company's proposed lease is the most extraordinary proposition which the citizens of this or any other city were ver asked to consider.

"The city should be relieved from the position in which it now finds itself, of being forced to make a contract with the Bapic Transit Company, irrespective of whether the company is or is not willing to enter into a contract which will be fair to the Mysterious circumstances added to the Indignation with which the Philadelphia Rapid Transit's letter to Chairman Daix was received. The action of the Transit Company, coupled with the circumstances, aroused the indignation of the Mayor, Director Twining and leaders of the United Business Men's Association, who had come here in force to plead for the passage of the pending legislation.

Director Twining denounced the Ballard letter as a "plain scheme to delay action on the bills in the hope that the session of the Legislature would come to a close before any final action could be taken on them."

When Senator Daix called the hearing to order he read the Ballard letter and then said: I can only say in view of this letter the other gentlemen will be granted their hearing in a very short time. Today we
