A YOUTHFUL PHILADELPHIA MONOLOGIST
Charles J. Conrad, Jr., of 1314 North Fifty-fourth street, will have part in the children's carnival tomorrow at the Broad Street Theatre.

The Young Lady Across the Way

The young lady across the way says she saw in the paper that they were talking of putting a 100 per cent tax on all incomes above $100,000, and she supposes this won't leave the rich people very much above that amount to live on.

Candid
First Golfer to clubmate who has just been trimmed woefully—Well, what's your handicap?
Second Golfer—Honesty.—Judge

Envy—

Too Tender-Hearted

"I understand that your daughter is going to take music lessons."
"Not exactly," replied Farmer Corn-tassel. "We haven't the heart to tell her that her voice sounds terrible, so we're goin' to hire a regular teacher to do it."—Washington Star.

Less Majesty

—Princeton Tiger.
Prostrate Subjects—All hail the king. King—How dare you hail when I am reigning.
