SAFETY BOARDS TO AID IN DRAFT REGISTRATION

Governor Calls Upon State Committees to Help Effect Accurate Enrollment

PEPPER TO CO-OPERATE

Selection From Among Philadelphians Expected to Reach 11,000 for Service

Governor Brumbaugh followed up his proclamation instructing Mayors and Sheriffs to take charge of selective service registration with another proclamation today addressed to members of the State and local committees of public safety throughout the State. This proclamation, which has been forwarded throughout the State by George Wharton Pepper, chairman of the Public Safety Committee, calls upon members of the committee to exercise their "best endeavors to secure a complete and accurate registration of the defined group resident in your respective counties or districts."

The committee members will not have any other legal standing than that given them in the Governor's proclamation, and will act in the civilian capacity in adding the registration in accordance with the "residual" proclamation asking for volunteers to assist in the work.

COMMITTEES RESIGNED

Official authority to act has been withdrawn from twenty-one and thirty years, inclusive, register June 5 in delegated to Sheriffs of counties and Mayors of cities larger than 20,000 inhabitants. The Public Safety Committee members will help them in this work.

The proclamation was sent to Mr. Pepper by the Governor, with the request that it be sent to committee heads throughout the State.

In his letter Governor Brumbaugh said he would direct registration boards to utilize the committee's aid.

Mr. Pepper replied to the Governor by letter that the committee and its subdivisions would gladly co-operate in the registration work, and said the local committees would be directed by General Avery D. Andrews, director of the department of military service of the Public Safety Committee of the State.

Plans were made by Mayor Smith and registration commission officials today for the probable issuance of conscription registration blanks to young men of military age who plan to leave Philadelphia before June 5, registration day.

The plans were discussed at a conference between Mayor Smith, Frederick J. Shoyer, chairman of the registration board, and Harry Kuenzel, secretary of the City Commissioners. Many applications for blanks have been made by men who wish to leave the city and who will not be on hand on the day set. It is likely that the advance blanks will be issued at an early date, it was said.

MAY ENLIST 11,000 MEN

It is estimated that Philadelphia's quota to the first army of 500,000 will be between 10,000 and 11,000, the estimate being based on population. At today's conference the number of registrars needed at each of the 1228 election divisions in the city was discussed. It is customary to have four, two Republicans and two Democrats, at each. It was said that two at each division would be enough on June 5.

Governor Brumbaugh will issue another proclamation soon. This will be addressed to the registration boards.

WORK OF REGISTRARS

The proclamation to the registrars will outline the work they must perform on June 5, when the more than 10,000,000 men between the ages of twenty-one and thirty, inclusive, must appear at the polling places in their home districts throughout the country and register.

Governor Brumbaugh announced last night that in the executive session of the official war board of Pennsylvania, held yesterday afternoon in his office, the board had decided to ask the Legislature to pass the Vars bill authorizing a bond issue of $20,000,000 for war purposes in the State. The bonds would be floated only as the money might be needed, according to the provisions of the bill, and the money would be spent under the direction and supervision of the war board, just as the $2,000,000 appropriation recently granted by the Legislature is being spent.

DIVORCED WIFE GIVES NO CAUSE FOR EXEMPTION

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Mailing a selective service registration card to the home town or city of an absentee will be insufficient, the provost marshal general's office announced today. At the same time it was stated that exemptions of men with dependent minor relatives would not necessarily be based upon whether the relative is under twelve years of age. A divorced wife drawing alimony is not necessarily a dependent.

The full additional statement today said: "It is not sufficient for the absentee to obtain a registration card and fill in the answers, for he must file his card with the county clerk where he happens to be, or with the city clerk if he has lost arms, legs and feet, or both eyes, or is otherwise disabled."

"The clerk is required to fill in certain information on the back of the card regarding the height, build, color of eyes and hair, whether or not the person registering is blind and whether he has lost arms, legs and feet, or both eyes, or is otherwise disabled."

"After this information has been supplied and the clerk has certified the card it will be sent to the registrar of his home voting precinct, so that he will reach that official not later than registration day. A registration card stamped envelope should be enclosed with the card so that a registration certificate may be returned to the absentee."

MEANING OF DEPENDENT

"The officials in charge of the registration also desire to point out that question nine, which asks whether the applicant has a dependent child, mother or sister under twelve, does not intend to fix that age as the maximum for which exemption may be claimed on account of dependent minor relatives. The question is intended only for purposes of census. Twelve was the figure fixed in the civil war draft."

"Question ten, in which the person registering is asked whether he is married or single, requires an answer as to the present status of the applicant. If his wife is dead or he is divorced he should register as single."

"A divorced wife, even though drawing alimony, will not be considered as a dependent relative."

STATE AND NATION CO-OPERATE

Officials of the War Department today pointed out that the registration of 10,000,000 men on June 5 for the selective draft will be one of the greatest achievements in the history of the United States. Not alone from the tremendous amount of physical work which will be accomplished, but it will be the first time since the formation of the nation that all of the States and territories of the Union have cooperated with the Federal Government on work for the latter.

During the few weeks that the Provost Marshal General has been perfecting the machinery for the registration of the young men of the country, the wonderful co-operation between city, county and State authorities has given every indication that the work will be accomplished in the record-breaking time of fourteen hours without a single hitch.

In 1864 a streak of anarchy existed in New York when Federal authorities attempted to use a census and troops had to be called out to quell the disturbances. In all three months' time was required to compile a list from which to draft men into the service of their country. In the same connection it is pointed out that now the Federal Government is required to maintain offices and pay high-salaried officials to perform the same functions that the State employed others to perform.

Spontaneous and unanimously favorable responses have been received by the Provost Marshal General to his requests in the present emergency, and the co-ordinating between the Federal and State Governments has been so complete that the belief is confidently expressed that in the days of peace to follow the present conflict similar co-ordination will be continued and enlarged on plans which will result in tremendous savings to the nation.

MAY BAR U. S. REPORTERS FROM PERSHING'S FORCES

WASHINGTON, May 23.—American newspapers and press associations probably will have to depend on the courtesy of the Franco-English Governments for representation with "Pershing's 25,000" at the front.

General Pershing it became known today, is very strongly opposed to any American newspapermen going with him or with Pershing's troops.

Secretary Baker is opposed to American newspapermen going with Pershing, but he is not decided whether they ought to be permitted to be quartered at the front with Pershing's troops.

UNIONISTS OF ULSTER TO DISCUSS HOME RULE

Standing Committee of Council Plans Conference on Latest Developments

LONDON, May 23.

The standing committee of the Unionist Council will meet in Belfast on Friday to arrange for a full meeting of the Ulster Unionist Council to discuss the latest home rule developments.

Strong pressure is being brought to bear upon the Ulsterites to compromise and attend the convention which will consider the question of self-government for Ireland.

There are 800 members of the council, and so many of them are radical in their anti-home rule views that the outcome of the meeting cannot be foretold.

Whether or not the Sinn Feiners will rescind their original refusal to take part in the Irish convention is not yet plain. It is regarded as probable, however, that they will be represented.

Speculation is rife throughout the British Isles as to the identity of the chairman who will preside at the convention. The chairman is to be nominated by the King, and conferences upon the selection are already in progress between the Crown and its advisers. The suggestion is now made that James Lowther, Speaker of the House of Commons, may be selected instead of the Duke of Connaught, who was originally reported to be first choice.

The Ulster Unionist Council was formed in Ulster, Ireland, during the progress of the home rule bill through the British Parliament. It is the governing body of the anti-home rule element of the population of the north of Ireland who are opposed to participation in any Parliament established in Dublin and who contend that the whole of the province of Ulster should be excluded from the operation of any act of Parliament conceding self-government for Ireland.
