WASHINGTON, May 23.—After a vigmous speech by Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, calling for "pittless publicity" in the Government's prosecution of the war, the Senate determined to have its Nava, limits Committee at once investigate the explosion of a shell aboard the liner Moncipia in which two nurses were killed, and also the explosion of defective shells aboard the American Line steamships St.
Julia and St. Paul. During the debate on the Frelinghuysen resolution Senator fiveness, and the party gone ahead with its work of arming American merchantmen that it has already—installed guns on 200 merchant vessels and has placed 5000 seamen to man them, naking an average of twentyfive to each ship.
