FRENZIED MANAGER DEPOSES HERMAN

Wild Rumor Causes Lynch's Handler to Claim Crown. They Box Tonight

JUNE 13 FORFEITS UP

"Hello! Hello! EVENING LEDGER? Well, this is Scotty Monteith. Nobody can put anything over on me. Joe Lynch is the hantam champion, by default. I mean it:
That guy, Herman, was to box Lynch here tonight; and he's jumped the match."—Excerpt of a string of conversation over the long distance from New York this morning
However, when excited Mr. Montelth was informed that Pete Herman had entrained from here for New York at 11 a.m., Scotty continued, "Glad he is. Thanks for the info. It was rumored around town that Herman was not coming over. Lynch will win the title anyway, for he's all primed to null a Benny Leonard." to pull a 'Benny Leonard.'"

Herman's match with Lynch in Gotham onight will be his final until he answers he gong at the Olympia here next Wednesday night, against the man he dethroned Kiddo Williams.

Before leaving for New York Herman ade two other important visits. The bantam king first went to the office of the Registration Commissioners, and later appeared at the Sports Department of the Evening Langers.

At City Hall, accompanied by his manager, Jerome Gargano, he registered under the conscription act as Peter Gulatta, announced that he was ready if needed, and when given a chance to answer question No. 9 stated that no fewer than six persons looked to him for their sole support. These are his mother and father, three nieces and nephew. He did not include his manager, Gargano, although the latter does figure in his purses.

While visiting the work shop of the EVENING LEDGER the little champion and as they get their eye on the ball we will his manager posted a $500 check as a jump out in front. I attribute the poor forfelt for appearance at Olympia June 13 hitting to the terrible weather we have had for weight of not more than 118 pounds for the match with Williams. Williams has also placed a check for a like amount with the Sporte Editor, who will be present and supervise the weighing in. If either boxer weighs even a fraction more than the 118 scale the other has the privilege of calling off the bout and pocketing the forfeit.

Jack McGuigan has signed up a new Jack McGuigan has signed up a new performer for his windup Saturday night. He grabbed Battling Kopin from up-State and pitted him against Billy Kramer in the star bout of the evening. Kopin comes here with a good record and is said to have popular decisions over Jack Britton and other stars. He also sent K. O. Loughlin down twice for the count of nine, which shows that he possesses a punch. Kramer is a clever, flashy boxer, and always puts up a good fight. It should be an interesting bout.

The New York combined wizard-phantom doesn't know it, but plans are under way to lift and it, but plans are under way to lift him on an electric lighted throne, with Billy Gheon seated below the titleholder as his "Wise Man" and drawn down Broad street from his hotel to the Olympia by a coule file of eighteen horses; maybe a fee steeds less. Leonard has as large a following in Philadelphia, comparatively, as is his native city; and while the New York fam still are celebrating the development of their first ring champion, Quaker Chy lovers of Leonard are patiently yet anticuly waiting for Benny's arrival here. Several brass bands are tuning up for the scenarion. It is not known who the fren-ing followers of Leonard are behind the movament of the "coronation," but it is a fish bet that Jack Weinstein is one of be most that Jack Weinstein is one or the most rabid promoters of the event.

Dethroned Champs Always Endeavor to "Come Back"

Boxers who have been in the champlonchip limetight seldom lose hope of making a successful comeback, and Fred Welsh may he finally retires.

It is quite a notable fact that many fighters after they have passed their heyday and lost most of their youthful vigor and stamina still courageously keep on battiling with the hope of making a successful
"chmeback."

Bob Fitzsimmons made several desperate efforts to regain his lost laurels after he was knocked out by Jim Jeffries, but he was

Jim Corbett also tried hard to regain the heavyweight championship, and was twice knocked out by Jeffries and finally retired.

Peter Juckson, Tommy Burns, Jeffries, Billy Panke, Jack Dempsey, Ad Wolgast, Battling Nelson, Johnny Coulon, Abe Attell, George (Kid) Lavigne, George Dixon and many other former world-besters, made galiant efforts to redeem themselves after they were dethroused and lost their vitality, but they all failed, although they never lost hope to the last ring of the goog.

Small Leagues Will Pull Through Season, Says International President

REAL HARD-LUCK CIRCUIT

NEW YORK, June 1. — "Judging from conditions in our own circuit, it is my combine that the minor leagues will pull through the present season without any trouble." Ed G. Barrow, president of the International League, said teday.

The International probably has received the hardest plow of any minor league in existence since 1912. Wrecked by the Federals, flooded by rains, it has struggled bravely along. This year, which promised to be a good one, rains have postponed many games, and war threatens to cause more frouble. Two of the leternational's clubs are in Canada, where the war spirit has made itself felt since 1914. These two chibs have suffered greatly.

Barrow's statement was made after hearing that the North Carolina League and dubamiled.

"I know it is hard for some of the small leagues." Barrow mild, "but they should go through if it is at all possible. We'll finish our season if it takes every dollar we have. We've gone through a lot of trouble. I surest use can stand a little more."

Barrow declared no one can say what the future of baseball is likely to be.

"Next year our bad players may be taken. It may be advisable to close our parks for a couple of seasons. In fact, some rights would save money by doing that. We'll just have to wait for next scanned to wee."
