JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Yesterday and Today Last Days of the Show at Devon-Great Number of Weddings Will Fill Up the Day, Says Nancy Wynne

JUST at first yesterday I thought it was going to be a freeze at the Horse Show, because it certainly did rain "cats and degs" in the morning and looked so disagreeable most of the early afternoon it was hard to know just what would happen. But in the afternoon Old Sol came out, and what would a description of a horse show be without Old Sol. King Horse, green turf and brown oval and all the rest of the usual "flub dub" one must use to sound horsey and in the swim and so forth, and after Old Sol came out, some of the people came, too, and the old standbys of the show appeared in sporty suits and hats. King Horse took heart after he saw the seats on the stand beginning to fill and proceeded to act his prettiest and all went well.

There is little new to detail of the Show except that, though all week Philander Knox had been reported as being present, he really appeared for the first time in his box yesterday. Mrs. Reed Knox, Mrs. Tindle and Mrs. Harrie Reed were in the box with him.

It was amusing to see the small Mills kiddle, who, frocked in a white smocked linen, waiked about the oval with two very small masculine specimens of humanity. Said specimens were so impressed with her superiority that when she shook her finger and said in severe tones, "If you don't behave you'll have no ice cream," they proceeded to "carry on" no longer.

THERE are several out-of-town weddings today which are of interest to Philadelphians, Helen Parmele was married at Flushing, L. I., to Nooks Fotterall, of this city, at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Louis Johnson, and quite a few Fotterall relatives went on to the ceremony. The Fotteralls have certainly kept things going some this year. First the father married about three or four months ago, then Walter and Elanor Dulany, of Baltimore, plighted their troth on Thursday, and now, today. Nooks, the younger son, is to enter the bonds of wedlock,

In Washington Eloise Orme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Orme, married to Tom Robinson, of Haverford, in the garden of the old homestead belonging to the Orme family in George-And on down to New Orleans, where Dick Breed, son of the George Breeds, of Germantown, is stationed with the Naval Coast Reserves, there was another wedding: for Helen Fling and her mother, Mrs. Joseph Fling and the Breeds have already started down to New Orleans, and Dick and Helen were married about noontime.

There are two weddings of New Yorkers which are of interest to the social world, especially to those who visit or summer in Newport. Alice Huntingdon, sister of Mrs. Vincent Astor, was married in Staatsburg, N. Y., to Charles Marshall, and at St. Thomas's Church, in New York, Louise Townsend, daughter of the late Franklin Townsend, of this city, was married to Charles Plimpton, of

It is surely a day of weddings. Edwina Hensel and Dr. Charles Wharton Smith were married very quietly out at Miss Irma Barry and Miss Eelen McDer-Mrs. Hensel's home, in Haverford, Docweeks ago, so the invitations were re-called and the ceremony was a very, very to Mr. S. Ralph McClay, of Olney, was requiet one. When you consider these I have spoken of in this little column and the accounts of the local weddings in another part of the page you will agree with me that June is a marrying month, and June 2 decidedly a marrying day.

A NUMBER of cottages have been dopened in Cape May and this next week will see Philadelphians boarding up their winter homes and putting up their chintz curtains and porch awnings by the sad sea waves. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Page will again occupy their cottage on Stockton avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman McMullin, of Ardmore, will leave within a fortnight for their cottage on Jefferson street.

Mrs. Walter Cox has already gone down, and Mrs. Herbert M. Tilden, with her two children, has again taken a cottage on Decatur street; Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Ash Pearson, of Price street, Germantewn, will leave June 15 for their cottage. They will be accompanied by Miss Bessie Pearson.

NANCY WAYNE.

Personals

Miss Marie Louise Faries gave a Willow Greve party last evening in honor of Miss Elizabeth Gribbel.

Mrs. Quincy A. Gillmore will have Mrs. Louis Rodman Page, Jr., as her guest for a week at her house at Fort Niagara.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Evan Taylor gave a dinher Thursday at their residence, 2211 St. James place, followed by cards.

Miss Katherine Packard and Miss Helen Packard, of Baltimore, arrived yesterday to spend the week-end with their cousins, Dr. and Mrs. J. Packard Laird, of Devon. Dr. Winder Goldsborough, of Maryland, and Dr. Edward McGaboch, of Richmond, Va., will also spend the week-end with Dr. and Mrs or of their guests after the Horse Show

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stetson, of Elkins Park, will entertain a number of friends at dinner on Wednesday evening, at the Huntingdon Valley Country Club.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward M. French announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Gratz French, to Alexander C. Duncan today at the home of the bride's barents, 3727 Locust street, at 11 o'clock. The Rev. James P. McGarvey, of St. James's Church, Thistey, and St. James's Church, Thirty-eighth and Chestnut streets,

The annual invitation golf tournament which takes place at the Cape May Golf Club will be postponed until some time in July instead of being held in June. The committee on arrangements includes Mrs. Herman Vetterlein, chairman; Mrs. Arthur Harding. Miss Rena Dimond and Miss Marie Starr. There have here saveral improve-Starr. There have been several improvements made at the golf club and already many persons are signifying their intention of opening their cottages fairly early and entering again into the activities of the club. Red Cross work will be a feature of the club life, in which Mrs. George Boyd and Mrs. Luther Ogden are smeelally inter-Luther Ogden are especially inter-

A card party for the benefit of the Jane Kent Day Nursery, at 1708 Vine sirect, it is given by the managers on June 7 the house of Mrs. E. A. Hazard, Wypcots mother.

The maids of honor were Miss Carolyn Sheppard and Miss Mildred Sheppard.

Mr. William C. Richardson, Jr., attended his brother as best man. The ushers were Mr. George K. Roilly, Mr. Charles C. Norris, Mr. Richard P. Brown, Mr. Rowland Bernett and Mr. Sigourer Mellor of New Bement and Mr Sigourney Mellor, of New York. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alexander MacColl, minister of the church. A reception was held at the home of the bride. Mr and Mrs. Richardson will live in Chestnut Hill for the summer

BAKER-CURRAN This evening at 7:20 o'clock Miss Jane forence Curran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Curran, of 6802 Lawnten avenue. Oak Lane, will become the bride of Mr. Charles Pitman Baker, Jr., in Memortal Church of the Advocate, Eighteenth and Diamond streets, the Rev. Henry Martyn Medary officiating. Miss Curran will be given in marriage by her father and will wear a gown of white net. The court train of satin will have an over-

The court train of satin will have an overdeess of rose point lace and the conventional tule vell will be arranged with orange blossoms. The matron of honor will be Miss Raiph P. Rowies. Miss Ethel Kneass will be the maid of honor. The brideamaids will be Miss Regina D. Lentz and Miss Fauline Huff. Little Miss Mary Elizabeth Rowles will be flower girl.

Mr. Baker will have Mr. J. Waltace Huff as best man, and the ushers will be Mr. Charles J. Curran, Jr., Mr. E. Forrest Megili, Mr. Raiph P. Rowies, Mr. Harold S. Parls A reception will follow at the Rittenhouse for 300 guests. After October 1 Mr. and Mrs. Baker will be at home at the Colonial, Eleventh and Spruce streets.

WILDE-TRUMBORE The marriage of Miss Daisy Trumbore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Trumbore, of 1815 North Camac street and Mr. Julius Carl Wilde will take place tonight at 7 oclock in the Park Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church. Miss Trumbore will have her cousin, Mrs. Herbert M. Tilden, as matten of heroer and the following bridges. matron of honor, and the following brides maids Miss Florence Fisher, Miss Jane Os-borne, Miss Jane Laird, Miss Marion Helms, Mr. Wilds has selected Mr. Frederick Wilde as best man, and the ushers will be Mr.
Henry Sharp, Mr. John Conner, Mr. George
Seth and Mr. George Steffe.
A small reception will follow at the

COMEY-DIAMENT

0

Photo by Rembrandt Studio

MISS BELLE FLOCK

The marriage of Miss Flock to Mr.

Jay Emanuel Satinsky will take place next Tuesday.

avenue, Wyncote. The proceeds will be used for the care of children whose fathers have responded to the call of their coun-try. Automobiles will meet the 2 o'clock

Mr. and Mrs. Penrose R. Perkins, of Ger-

Mrs. George S. Ceyne, of 2017 North Broad street, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Bertha Sterling Coyne, to Dr. Charles J. Cole, of Elkins Park,

Mrs. M. E. Howard and Mrs. George

The Rackety Coo Club, of Tioga, spent May 20 at the summer home of its secretary, Miss Margery McCooley, at Cape May. Those present were Mbs Anna Marie Abele. Misa Helen I. Barr, Miss Rose D. Barry,

There will be a parcel post sale at the nome of Mrs. Charles J. Klauder, 400

Gowen avenue, Mount Airy, on Friday aft-ernoon, June 15, under the auspices of the Mount Airy Association of the American for parcel post packages which may be sold for twenty-five cents, and in this way in-

West Philadelphia

Members of the younger high school set eld their annual picnic on Wednesday at Graham Keller, Mr. Earl Newkirk, Mr.

William Burnow and Mr. Theodore Len-

Weddings

BORIE-CLAY

The marriage of Miss Mary Alice Clay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Glover Clay, and Mr. Charles Louis Borle, 3d, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Louis Borle, Jr., took place today in the Church of Our attached to the head with orange blossoms

Her sister, Miss Gretchen Clay, was maid. of honor, and her bridesmaids included Miss Mary Brown Warburton, Miss Harriet C.

Deaver, Miss Jean B. P. G. Hancock, Miss Marian Taylor, Miss Lois B. Cassatt and Miss E. Gwen Martin.

Miss E. Gwen Martin.

Mr. Borie was attended by his father as best man, and his unhers included Mr. Henry P. Borie, Mr. Francesco Valdez, Mr. John Wanamaker, Jr., Mrs. Nicholas Biddle,

Mr. William H. Du Barry, Mr. Winant P. Johnson and Mr. Emile C. Geyelin.

A reception for the immediate families and friends followed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clay in Jenkintown. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Borie will live at 2310 Pine street.

RICHARDSON-SHEPPARD

An interesting wedding took place today

An interesting wedning took place today at 1:30 o'clock in the Second Presbyterian Church, Twenty-first and Wainut streets, when Miss Florence Sheppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Maxwell Sheppard, of 1124 Wainut street, became the bride of Mr. Courtlandt M. Richardson. The bride was given in marriage by nor fatter and work our in Jenkintown at 4 o'clock The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a lovely gown of soft white satin and tulle and her veil was hardt.

rease the resources of the association

Cards have been issued asking train from the Reading Terminal.

of Bellefonte.

will be as follows:

Among today's interesting wedding wa that of Miss Katherine Diament, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Diament, of Devon, and Mr. Frederick Comey, of Cleveland, O., which took place at 5 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, on Berkley avenue, beyon, and was followed by a reception. The Friends' ceremony was used. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite gown of white satin trimmed with real lace and tails. A long court train of tails edged with satin Mr. and Mrs. T. Frank Miller, of Old Farm Comfort, Hatboro, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Evelyn Levis Miller, to Mr. George Alman Slifer, of Wyncote road, Jenkintown. satin trimmed with real lace and tuite. A long court train of tulle edged with satin fell from the shoulders, and she were a tulle veil and carried a houquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Bond, of 7008

The maid of honor was Miss Jean Lillie The bridesmaids were Miss Eugenia Barrie, Miss Louise Twaddell, Mrs. Frank C. Rob-erts, Jr., Miss Helen Osburne and Miss Greene street, Germantown, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Har-bara Isabelle Bond, to Dr. William Harvey Perkins, of the Jefferson Hospital, son of Eleanor Fillebrown

Little Miss Muriel Morris was the flower Mr. Robert Comey, of Cleveland, attended his brother as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Donald Lincoln, Mr. Harold Cobb. Mr. Francis H. Diament, brother of the Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. McLain, of 1518 South Fifty-third street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean Wallace McLain, to Mr. Jacob Carpenter Hess, bride, and Mr. George Comey. MOSLEY-KING

this afternoon at the home of the brides mother, 5318 Angora terrace, at 3 o'cleck. Only the immediate members of both families were present at the ceremony, which was followed by a small reception. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Robert R. Ramey, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. E. Helms, of Calvary M. E. Church, Forty-in-law, Mr. Robert R. Church, Forty-in-law, Mr. Robert R. Church, Forty-in-law, Mr. Calvary M. E. Church, Forty-in-law, Mr. Robert R. Church, Mr. Robe Hampton, of the Majestic, are spending the month of June at the St. Charles, Atlantic er, Mr. Joseph A. McDevitt. The Rev. Maurice L. Cowl performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. McDevitt will live at 4412 Locust street, after they return from a trip Saturday night of next week the Irving Players will give an entertainment at the Germantown Boys' Club. A play entitled to Virginia, the birthplace and former home Valley Farm" will be produced. The cast

SHIRLEY-ELLIOT

will be as follows:

Haroid Rutledge, a young New Yorker.

Mr. Walter E. Endy
Perry Deane, a san of the soil, Mr. Con Waldie
David Hildreth, a New York iswyer.

Mr. Edward Enock
Silas Holcombe, owner of Valley Farm.

Azariah Keep, a clock tinker.

Mr. Charles Stewart.

Hetty Holcombe, country flower transplanted to city soil. Mas Katherine Kater leabel Carney, a nieco of Hildreth.

Miss Maybelle Smalle
Mrs. Rutledge, Haroid's mother,

Miss Maybelle Smalle
Mrs. Rutledge, Haroid's mother,

Miss Henrietta Clay

Alvira Holcombe, sister of Silas,

Miss Emily Coleman

Lizy Anna Tucker, who borrows but never gossips ... Mas Helen Bracken Vertions, the hired girl at the farm.

Miss Peggy Spering

Jennings, servent at the Rutledge man
Mr. Elmer Campbell An extremely quiet wedding today was that of Miss Carrie S. Elliott, of the Delmar. Germantown, and Mr. Harold R. Shirley. The ceremony took place at 12 o'clock in the Grace Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn. N. Y., and was performed by the Rev. Richard Turnbull. Miss Elliott and Mr. Shirley were unattended, and there was no reception. After an extended wedding ourney Mr. Shirley and his bride will be at home at 6649 Wayne avenue, German-

SORRER-KING

The marriage of Miss Emily C. King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. King, of 6331 Greene street, Germantown, and Mr. Charles R. Sorber will be solemnized this evening at 6:39 o'clock in the First Methodist Church in Germantown. The Rev. Edward S. Ninde will officiate

Miss King will be given in marriage by her father and will be attractively gowned in white satin and tuile. The tuile veil will be fastened with orange blossoms. Miss Describe King will attend to the control of the control Dorothy King will attend her sister as maid Mr. Sorber will have Mr. Frederick Sorber as best man, and the ushers will indude Mr. James Swartz, Mr. Frank Sorber, Mr. Russell King, Mr. Elmer Dick-son, A small reception will follow the ceremony at the home of the bride. held their annual piculc on Wednesday at Wynnefield, Pa. Among those present were Miss Gladys K. Crangle, Miss Sara Smith, Miss Lillian Shriner, Miss Elizabeth John-son, Miss Mary Leary, Miss Bessie New-kirk, Miss Katherine Keller, Miss Florence Dobson, Miss Agnes Feeley, Mr. Carl Len-hardt, Mr. Arthur Bookmyer, Mr. William Hemhill, Mr. Horace Lehr, Mr. Frank Wolf,

SEARS-MOONEY

The marriage of Miss Mabel H. Mooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mooney, of 2624 North Sixteenth street, to Mr. Willard Sears, took place this morning at 10 o'clock at the home of the officiating cler-gyman, the Rev. Francis H. Tees, of the Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church. Eighth and Cumberland streets. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was unattended. Immediately after the quiet ceremony Mr. Sears and his bride left on an extended trip. They will be at home after August 1 at 394 Lincoln place, Brooklyn, N. V.

DURSCH-MAGILL

A very pretty wedding was solemnized this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Trinity Episcopal Church, Logan, when Miss Mar-guerite Magill, daughter of Mrs. Margaret A. Magill, of 4545 North Thirteenth street, was married to Mr. Harry A. Dursch. The rector, the Rev. Francis Taltt, performed he ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Jan and was attended by Miss Eleanor Maxwell. Mr. Frank Dursch was his brother's best man. The bridegroom and bride left on an extended trip and will be at home after July 1 at 4545 North Thirteenth street.

SOMERS-SNYDER

An interesting June wedding will be that of Miss Aima Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Snyder, of 1615 Butler street, and Mr. Harry S. Somers, also of Tioga, which will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Marvin Nathan, of the Nath Varial Temple will officiate at the parents The Rev. Marvin Nathan, of the Beth Israel Temple, will officiate at the ceremony, which will be followed by a dinner for the families. Mr. Snyder will give his daughter in marriage, and her sister, Miss May Snyder, will be her only attendant. Mr. Louis Walters, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, will be his best man. Upon their return from a trip through eastern New York, to Niagara Falls and Camada Mr. Semera and his bride will spend the summer in Allabile City.

thers came tumbling over the rall after us, each face expressive of mystification. Vera touched my siceve, her eyes searching

"I do not in the least know." I answered.
"The mystery is too deep to guess at.
There has been no storm, no fire, no evidence of desertion, every book seems to be in its preservation.

n its proper place. The only thing I can think of as possible is drink. The whole crew may be drunk, but that seems like a ing nothing. White you are not of much use with that broken arm, so remain along-ide Miss Carrington. Keep your eyes open. Leavord, you and I will have a peep into that cabin; the rest of you take the forecastle. Be careful, lads, but don't miss

The whole

I watched them go forward, their re-actance apparent enough. The supersti-every man among them was seeing ghosts; had it been dark not even a threat of death would have driven them into that grim hole. Leayord grinned, as I turned and "They are fair scared, sir," he said,

"And how about you?"
"Me! oh, I was brought up ashore, sir:

but since then I've seen so many queer things aftest, I've come to take them as all in the day's work. This here is a bit strange, but it'll all straighten out, I

"You have a theory then?"
"Well, maybe not that exactly," he admitted gravely. "But I expect we'll find in't no other way such a thing could hap-glass front flooded the interior with light.

set for a meal, covered with a white and glistening bravely with chins and gliss. There was food in abundance, partially eaten, and wine glasses half-filled. I saw all these details; I recalled them after-ward, yet in that first instant of horror, the impression left upon me was merely of those silent, motionless figures sitting upright in their chairs. God! It was a gruesome sight; They actually seemed alive; as though they must turn and speak.

challenging our presence—and yet I knew them to be dead! A great monster of a man faced me, his white, ghastly face appearing above a shaggy, gray beard, his sightless open eyes, staring full into mine. A wine glass had fallen from his opened fingers, and lay broken on the deck. Indeed, every one had apparently died as hy

a stroke, retaining exactly the posture last

To the right of the broad-shouldered giant vas a thin young fellow, scarcely out of is teens, but with a hard, repulsive face, negro, grinned horribly, as though death had stricken him even as he laughed. Nothing could be more awful to look upon than the gleam of his teeth, beneath the fantastic curl of his mustache. There were six al-together, five sitting upright in awivel chairs, screwed to the deck, or leaning forward with heads resting on the table. The sixth, gray-haired and partially bald, had illen side-ways, and lay in a shapeless seap on the rug. They had the look of sea-

I saw all this in that one swift glance.

Breath had not come sobbing back to me, when Leayord's hand crushed my arm, and his voice rumbled into my ear.

"Good God, captain! they're dead! they're

"Yes," I answered, choking over the words, "there is no doubt of that. Some-thing terrible has occurred here. Call— call all the other men."

I heard him stumble out through the "Hell's fire!" he shouted. "If it isn't Gaston de Lya! So you've got it at last, you old devil."

He leaped forward, circled the table with sppearance of leadership.

and at his left a dark-faced man ale

esumed in life

Well, we'll know in five minutes; let's they think they're aboard a spook ship.

However, we can't stand here do

What can have happened?"

snything-scatter now."

CONTRABAND

A Romance of the North Atlantic By RANDALL PARRISH

CRAPTER XXXVII-(Continued) "A HOY there! Aboy!" yelled Red and Olson almost in one voice. "Port your helm! Damn you, port your helm!" It was almost like a vision, that vessela grim, menacing specter, leaping straight on toward us out of the mist, the white foam circling from her snarp cutwater, her spars and rope silhouetted against the gray fog, her main sheets respect, but with top-sails bellying to the sharp breeze, yet with not a sign of human life visible.

"Put your helm down, Leayord! Hard down, man," I subbed "My God! she'll be into us in a minute! Ay! that's better; stand by, forward. If there is any chance lay hold."

CHAPTER XXXVIII

A Beath Ship WAS a matter of seconds if we cleared. With drawn-in breath, our hands gripped, our eyes staring in fixed horror, we faced that sharp, murderous stem, as it drove through the green surges straigh toward us. Leavord, his full weight on the tiller bar, his lips open with an oath unuttered, was motionless as stone, and the boat shot to one side, a cascade of water pouring over its lowered gunwale, as it sped like a frightened deer for safety. The deadly copper sheathing missed us by barely ten feet, the swift rush of the flying schooner fairly whirling us about, scraping along the side so closely that the readle which Olean used. The marriage of Miss Elisabeth Paimer King, daughter of Mrs. C. B. Campion King, and Mr. Albert Warren Mosley took place this afternoon at the home of the bride's ly that the paddle which Chaon used as a fender was actually tora from his hands, and a great gash made in the dinghy's

It was God's miracle that we lived and kept afloat; that we were not sucked under, or crushed into driftwood. To this mony was performed by the Rev. E. E. Helma, of Calvary M. E. Church, Forty-eighth and Baltimore avenue.

McDEVITT—EGGLESTON

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at noon today when Miss Emily Caldwell Eggleston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Irving Eggleston, became the wife of Mr. Harry Sylvester McDevitt. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Martha M. Eggleston, and the bridegroom by his brother, Mr. Joseph A. McDevitt. The Rev Maurice L. Cowi performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. McDevitt will live at 4412 Locust street, after they return from a trip to Virginia, the birthplace and former home day I know not what occurred, or how we lad-by God! he made it"

I was on my feet now, understanding it all, realizing the value of each second, knowing that the shattered boat must be sinking under us. I also got grip on the chains, and the three of us held on des-perately. Red hauling the single rope end aut, and looping it about the thwart. "Here, Olson; reach your arms down; take the woman first—there's no time to wait for help. Now Vera—quick girl; the boat is sinking under us." She stepped on to my shoulders, grasped he chains to steady herself; then gripped Olson's hand, sprang upward, and was drawn eafely in. I turned to the others. "Make fast, Red. There is nothing more to be done, but get out. One at a time now; here, White, you're crippled, go first hoist him up, Masters; now ease in there son-good enough. You're next, Mastera.

Leavord and I were the last, and we left he dingly swamped behind us, dangling and crushed against the steel side of the schooner, upheld only by the strength of the rope. It was all the work of a feverish minute, in which thought was impossible because of the stress of action. But now. as I clung breathless to those lower mizzen entlines, the seven of us fammed upon the little platform, the green surge of water below sinshing against the wreck we had just left, the strange silence of this vessel which we had boarded struck

In heaven's name, what could it mean? It was broad daylight; if there was a man alive aboard, he could never have failed to see or hear us in this flerce struggle fo Yet no one was visible; no sound of roice was heard; no face peered over at us above the rail. It was like a ghost schooner, and I felt the very heart of me chill as I stared into the blank faces of my uddled companions, and along the shiny sides and the deserted rail.

"This is a rum go, sir," ventured Leayord soberly. "Ain't she got no crew?" "I don't know what to make of it." I confessed, "but we'll soon find out. Help the lady, Leayord. Olson, come with me."

ompanion door, and the roar of his voice s he shouted to those forward; I could dis-We footed the ropes, and swung up to inguish the sound of their feet on the deck, but I could not remove my gaze from that awful sight in the cabin. The eyes of that giant dead man, staring at me so he rail, clinging there long enough to gain swift view of the deck beyond. It was as clean as a millionsire's yacht, and had the appearance of one, with brasswork glistenfixedly across the table, held me as in ing and paint fresh and bright. Every rope seemed coiled in place, the sail gaskets ise-there was something so ghastly, so terible, about their expressions, as to rob me Sirmly tied, the planks spotless, the canvas f all sense, all courage. The men joined or all sense, all courage. The men joined me, Liverpool entering in advance, and pushing past where I stood. I have no recollection of seeing the others, although I felt and heard their presence. But I saw him—marked his sudden stop, the quick blanching of his face, and the sharp oath which burst from his lips, the swift, incredulous look of surprise, of recognition, which learned into his ever. as white as though just out of the sail-loft. My eyes surveyed the whole fore and aft-the low forecastle, the cook's galley, with door standing wide open, revealing a fireless stove; the boats in checks, not one missing; the after cabin on the deck level. its companion door ajar; the wheel astern, outlined against the sky, swinging slightly which leaped into his eyes. He was star to a lashing of rope-and nowhere a human giant opposite. I doubt if he even saw any of the others. being. I could scarcely believe the evi-dence of my own eyes.

"My God, Olson! there's not a sailor on I gasped. "No, sir; it beats me; I've been at sea a long time, sir, but I never see nothin' like this—they ain't left her, fer the boats are all there, an', damn me, the wheel is lashed. She's just sailin' horself."

"There's no sign of any trouble aboard. Why, those decks are scrubbed like a Dutchwoman's floor. Hurry up, Leayord; the schooner seems deserted. Come on, mate, we shall have to clear this mystery

He leaped forward, direled the table with a single stride, hate, memory, whatever the impulse might be, conquering all fear, and gripped his hand hard on the dead man's shoulder. And then he stiffened, every muscle of his body stricken; I could see death strike him, his law set, his eyes fixed—an instant he stood rigid; then his whole form seemed to contract and he fell lifeless to the deck. We sprang down on the deck, and the (CONTINUED MONDAY)

CITY SOCIALISTS FORM PEACE ORGANIZATION

New Body Seeks to Unite All Radicals Under "No-Annexation" Banner

The Socialist party of this city, with headquarters at 1326 Arch street, at a meeting last night took the initiative in arganizing. The Philadelphia Council for Democracy and Terms of Peace."

The aim of the organization will be to snite all radical, labor and peace organiza-ions of this city for the purpose of pro-noting the propaganda for an early close of the war on the basis of "no forcible an-nexations and no punitive indemnities." The organization will be modeled on the linea of the national body of Socialists and padists that held its first session in New Fork this week, and the word "council" vill be used "to emphasize the spirit of emocracy and peace represented by tussian Council of Workmen's and Soldiers'

A miner-meeting will be called as soor as organization is completed.

Girard Men to Train at Allentown

Nine men, nucleus of an ambulance corps unit which Girard College men plan to re-cruit from students and alumni of the institution, will go to Allentown next week to train. They are at present training with the United States Army Ambulance Corps at Cooper Battalion Hall, Twenty-third and Christian streets. Six hundred Phila-delphians are now enlisted in the corps as telphians are now enlisted in the corps a a result of today's additions.

RELIGIOUS BREVITIES

I slid back the companion door, and en-tered slightly in advance. The cabin floor was on a level with the main deck, and its

A glance revealed everything, and I stood motionless, my breath caught in my throat, my hand still gripping the edge of the door.

I was aware that Leayord peered in across my shoulder, and heard his startled lips utter one muffled exciamation. It was a low-celled apartment, painted white, with ports along the sides, the only staterooms being art. A bright-hued rug covered the floor, and there were leather divans under the ports. The table in the center was fully

The sermen subjects of the Rev. Dr. J. Gray Relian at the More Presbyterian Church tomer-row will be 'The Benevolence of Josus' in the morning and 'The Works of Jesus Are the Works of God' in the evening.

A patriotic service and flag-raising will be seld temperow afternoon at the Union Taber-ucle Presidentian Church. The flag was pre-ented to Hibe Ches No. 6 by Champlon Coun-il, No. 8, Sons and Daughters of Liberty.

"What I Owe My Country" will be the sermon subject temorrow night by the Hey Edwin Heyl Delk at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church.

Major and Mrs. T. Henry Storey, of the Sal-ation Army, will be installed temorrow in their jew appointments in charge of the new audi-orium at Brond street and Fairmount avenue. Colonel thartes Miles principal of the Salvation army Training College in New York city, will peak at three services. men, and were roughly dressed, three of them plainly foreigners, one with rings in his ears. The big man alone possessed the Announcement is made of the opening of the Mission Seashore Home at Cape May, where children of the Philadelphia tenderioin are given summer outness. The home is supported entirely by voluntary contributions. Stuart Classborn, of this city, is treasurer.

The Rev. Philip R. McDevitt, Bishop of Har-taburg, will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Catholic Girls. High School lomorrow afternoon at the Cathedral.

The Rev. Forrest E. Dager will preach the accolured sermon to the graduates of Temple inversity tomerrow at the Haptist Temple.

A tent for religious and social gatherings for the marines and sallors at the Navy Yard has been erected. Clerysmen from the city churches will preach every Sunday morning and evening.

The annual independence Day memorial service will be held in the Old Pine Street Presbyterian Church at 10 o'clock in the morning of the Fourth of July, Bishop Rainelander, of the Episcopal Church, and Bishop Berry, of the Methodist Church, will be the speakers.

EDUCATIONAL Young Ladles and Girls

THE GORDON-RONEY SCHOOL For Girls, 4112 Sprace Street General and College Preparatory Course Roof garden and gym. MISS RONEY, Prin.

WEST CHESTER, PA. West Chester State Normal School On Penna. R. R.; trol. to Phila.; fits for teach-ing, college, business; $200-$250 for board, tul-tion, etc., per year. G. M. PHILLPS, Prin.

EDUCATIONAL CAMPS MATH, for army & navy training camps, University 18 Maher Prep School, Witherspoon Bidg.

SWIMMING

CENTRAL NATATORIUM

Swim for health and pleasure in water Y changed and purified daily. Cost, in addition to membership, $2.00 a year, $5.00 for $6 amonths use of post; 6 private lessons $15.00; aincid swim 15 nests.

Latt ARCH BY., PFILE.

TO HELP ENVOYS' FUND

Every Man, Woman and Child Expected to Help Red Cross

MISSION HERE JUNE 18

Preparations continued today in the Italian colony for the reception of the Italian mission when it makes a five-hour visit to this city June 15.

There are 150,000 Italians in Philadelphia, and it is planned to have every one of thom contribute something toward the fund of $50,000 which will be given to the Princs of Udine, head of the mission, for the Italian Red Cross. Committees from the various Italian societies are making a house-to-house canvass of "Little Italy" for funda. These committees report a generous response. Laborers are giving their "bit," women are turning over rings and other jewelry, and even the children are shaking their banks and making contributions from their penny hoards.

Chevatier C. C. A. Baidi, banker, of $28 South Eighth street, completed arrangements today for the boxing tournament which will be held next Friday evening for the benefit of the Red Cross fund.

"We have every hope," said Chevatier Baidi, "of raising the fund for the Italian Red Cross. Italians throughout Philadelphia are attred to deep enthusiasm by the proposed visit of the war mission to this city. They are fully conscious of the great honor about to be paid them, and they are city. They are fully conscious of the great honor about to be paid them, and they are anxious that the Prince of Udine take back to Italy a substantial amount for the Italian Red Cross. We have a certain pride in having our compatriots on the firing line in Italy know that the Italians of liberty-loying Philadelphia are not delinquent in the matter of lending succor to their coun-trymen in the stress of this great war."

I'M WHAT'S DOING

"A Pageant of American Play," by Philadelphia Teachers' Association, for the benefit of the Jefferson Hospital Ambulance Corps, Metropolitan Opera House, 8 o'clock. Adon charge. Hahn Conservatory of Music year-end scital of pupils, Witherspoon Hall, 8 clock Admission charge.

Cosmopolitan concert, Central Branch Young Mon's Christian Association, The Municipal Band plays at Union puare, Fifth and Buttonwood streets. Free, Fete for Navy League and British Ros-

William B. Hackenburg, president of the Jewish Rospital, is eighty years old today. He will be tendered a reception tonight at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alfred T. Mayer, 203 North Eighth street

Washington Camp, No. 30, P. O. S. of A. will close its twentieth century carnival at Rector and Mitchell streets, Roxborough.

High Cost of Living and Future Attempts to

Gag Press
Theme of Dr. Wilkinson in Garrick Sunday night.

DR. BENJAMIN WILKINSON

Dr. Benjamin Wilkinson, who has at-racted wide attention by his preaching on he prophecies, will deliver his last address or the season in the Clarick Theatre Sunday night. The Doctor will speak on "The High Cost of Living Spoken of by the Ancient Seers, and a Future Attempt to Gag the Press," No doubt there will be a capacity house to hear him.

RELIGIOUS NOTICES

CHESTNUT STREET BAPTIST CHURCH Cheanut s. west of 46th st. GEORGE D. ADAMS. D. D. Pastor. 9:45 a. m.—Brotherhaod of A. and P. 10:30 a. m.—Worship. Preaching by Pastor. 2:30 p. m.—Utinis school for the preaching by Pastor. 7:45 p. m.—Worship. Preaching by Pastor.

Latheran AT THE PRIENDLY CHURCH Sin and Jefferson ats. ANIEL E. WEIGLE. Pastor. Jorann service. 19.30. Jermon: "The Evident Presence of God." Sermon: "The Evident Presence of God."
Hibbs actual, 2:30
Evening service, 7:45.
Sermon: "The Marks of a Christian Man."
Hoth sermons to be preached Hoth sermons to the preached Hother George W. Nicely. Hanover, Pa.
Solo suarrest and organ.

Presbyterian ARCH STREET CHURCH 18th and Arth att.
Rev. CLARENCE, EDWARD MACARTNET,
10-45-The Lord's Suppor,
8:00- For Her Sake A sermon for young and women. seeday evening Dr. Macartney speaks on HOPE, 33d and Wharton sts.—Rev. J. GRAT BOLTON, Mindster, 10:45 a. m., "The heave-lence of Jesus." 743 p. m., "The Warks of Jesus Are the Works of God." Protestant Episcopal CHURCH OF ST. LUKE AND THE EPIPHANY 18th et. below Spruce.

Rev. DAVID M. STEELE, Rector.
Su.m.—Holy Communion.
1 a m.—Holy Communion and service.
4 p. m.—Baccalaureste Service, Philadelphia.
Colloge of Pharmacy.
The Kector will preach at both services.

ST. ANDREW'S. WEST PHILADELPHIA

Church. 7.45 p.m.—Evening Sérvice. All former members are cordially invited as attend, this centennial celebration of this Church's work in West Philadelphia. ST. JAMES'S, 22d and Walnut streets.

8 00 a. m. Holy Communion. 10 30 a. m. Morning Prayer, plain. 13 00 a. m. Holy Communion with Service 4 00 p. m.—Evening Prayer (choral) w anthem. 9-4) s. m. and 2:45 p. m.—Sunday school Weekdays—7:80 and b a. m. and a p. m. Strangors always welcome Unitarian

Ill Cheston I. T. Haveney, of Ch. Lam. Silver E. T. Haveney, of Ch. Lam. Silver E. T. Lam. Silver E. Lam. Silve