

MARINE WEEK "CAPTIVES" START FOR LEAGUE ISLAND. Happy "prisoners of war" they are, having surrendered voluntarily to the "first drive" of the recruiting campaign of the soldiers of the sea.

MARINE PARADE PASSING DOWN BROAD STREET. The natty and business-like appearance of the men in line today not only won the applause of spectators, but gained several recruits from red-blooded young Philadelphians who witnessed the turn-out.

FIRST MARINE WEEK RECRUIT. To James Francis Maguire, 4701 Lancaster avenue, goes the honor. He is twenty years old, the youngest in a family of six, and applied at the recruiting station at the opening hour this morning.

LIBERTY LIGHTS WAY FOR MARINE RECRUITING. Under the inspiration of the symbolized nation many candidates for the marine corps are being enrolled at the Broad and Arch streets station.

The Young Lady Across the Way

The young lady across the way says she saw in the paper that they were thinking of making some of the taxes retroactive and she supposes we won't have so much to pay next year if we settle in advance.

The 1917 Variety

Oldboy—What has become of the old-fashioned girl who used to say, "Ask father?" Newguy—She now has a daughter who says, "Give it more gas, George; the old man is gaining on us."—The Lamb.

THE TOONERVILLE TROLLEY THAT MEETS ALL THE TRAINS

THE RESULT OF THE THRIFTY SKIPPER'S HAVING LISTENED TO A PULLMAN PORTER TELL HOW MUCH HE PICKED UP IN TIPS

—By FONTAINE FOX

THE PADDED CELL

"LET YOUR MIRROR TELL YOU WHAT YOUR FRIENDS WANT"

"GOT A MATCH? ASK SISTER OVER THERE, SHE SMOKES AN' EVERY THING"

A. B. HAYWARD

A Suit to Suit. "I want a motor costume, something in half-mourning." "Why, what?" "My engine has a habit of going dead."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Finders Keepers

Lieut.—Come out of that hole, you coward. Casey—Not a chance; find one of your own, me boy.

Not Attracted

"Some day you'll be rich enough to retire from business." "Give up my nice, pleasant office and stay home?" rejoined Mr. Greacher. "I should say not."—Washington Star.

Proof

"I have been smoking an awful lot of cigarettes lately." "If that's one, you must be."

EXPLANATORY

Sergeant (to recruit who has turned to the right instead of to the left): "Don't yer know yer right from yer left? 'Old out yer left' and 'Right! Nah, it's yer right' and 'and wot's left.' Nah do yer understand?"

SCHOOL DAYS

The way of a man with a maid.

The Intensive Gardener

"Are you going to raise vegetables?" "Yes. It's going to give me a grand deal of pleasure to pull up the rubber tree my wife keeps in the hall and plant a potato in its place."—Washington Evening Star.

Dignified Rebuke

"Wot did you do when 'e called you a dirty German?" "Just treated him with silent contempt on the 'ead with a bottle."

Hard to Decide

"Before we were married you said that my slightest wish should be law." "Exactly, my love; but you have many various and well-desired wishes that I am as yet unable to determine as to which is the slightest."