The mucocats began today their great task of combing Philadelphia for men who have failed to register for the draft. In many cases men have been halted on the streets and made to show their blue registration cards. In some districts the house-to-house canvass is under way, as the picture shows.

OFFERS TO TRAIN CORPS OF WAR BAKERS FOR U. S.

William Freihofer Proposes Plan to Government to Instruct Army Cooks

A plan to train bakers for the new division of 4000 bakers and 10,000 cooks which the army quartermaster corps needs for the nation's huge military forces was offered today to the Government by William Freihofer, head of the Freihofer Baking Company.

Mr. Freihofer volunteered to advertise for recruits and to train them in field baking provided the War Department will furnish a field baking outfit and an instructor. After two of his sons are instructed in field baking, according to Freihofer's plan, the company would take over the task of instructing the recruits.

Should the Government accept the offer, I propose to have the field baking outfit erected on a lot adjoining our plant, where bread would be baked under field conditions, which differ radically from bread-making machinery in bakeries," said Mr. Freihofer.

The plan was submitted to Captain L. L. Dietrich, of the quartermaster corps, who organized the twelve bakery companies now in the regular army and who has been put at the head of the newly created divisions of the corps.

Captain Sherrard Coleman, quartermaster corps; W. H. Smith, cavalry; J. C. Pegram, cavalry, and C. H. Dickey, cavalry, will be assigned to department commanders as special officers to organize bakery companies. The companies, which will consist of 100 men each, will be stationed in the sixteen national army cantonments and sixteen national guard camps.

been asked by the Mayor's office for further information. The telegram from Washington merely ordered that the city be divided into fifty-one subdivisions, and the question has arisen as to whether this division is to be made according to population or territory, so many city blocks to a division.

COMING CITY FOR QUITTERS The final house-to-house round-up of slackers which the city police started yesterday will continue today and every day until the entire city is combed and the registration lists checked up. The results of the canvass so far indicate that comparatively few men failed to register.

From 2 o'clock every afternoon until 10 at night the 2000 or more policemen of the city will continue the canvass in the fifty-one registration districts. When a man questioned by the police cannot produce his registration card or give satisfactory proof that his age is under or over the twenty-one to thirty-one period, the patrolman will place him under arrest. The case will be reported to Frank L. Garbarino, of the Department of Justice, in the Federal Building.

Before the canvass was far under way, about a score of young men confessed they had failed to register. They declared they were either absent from the city or were ignorant of the law or thought they were exempt because they were foreigners.

"RADICALS" OBEY More than 500 known Socialists and radical anarchists, many of whom attended the meeting held a few days before the registration, by Emma Goldman, deserted the ranks of the Socialists and obtained their registration tickets before the expiration of the time limit.

Major John Handy Hall, Assistant United States Attorney, who, with T. Henry Wain, is in charge of the registration cases, found that every man on the "suspicious" list appeared before the registrars. "In most instances the men who shouted loudly against registration slipped around the corner after nightfall and obtained their tickets," said Major Hall. "Many young men, foreigners who are unable to read or write, failed to register the first day, but since have presented themselves. So far, there have been in this city, to the knowledge of the authorities, only two cases where men willfully violated the law."

When the "round-up" orders became known generally about the city there was a marked exodus of characters who frequent the tenderloin section. Many young men who have been attending the drug trials in the Federal Building were absent yesterday, and information reached Lieutenant of Detectives Theodore Wood at police headquarters that there had been a general heging of underworld characters. Through the police informants it became known that many of these men left for New York and other cities.

POLICE ORDERS Convinced that the public can be of great aid in bringing before the authorities the names of men who have failed to register, United States Attorney Kane again issued an appeal to the residents of the city to notify at once the local office of the Department of Justice of any suspicious circumstances. Letters or telephone communications, the United States attorney said, would be regarded in every instance as confidential.

L'ONOREVOLE F. S. NITTI RIMARRA' IN AMERICA

Nei Circoli Ufficiali di Washington Si Dice Che Egli Sara' Nominato Alto Commissario

ROMA, 14 Giugno. Telegrammi dalla capitale della Grecia dicono che truppe alleate sono sbarcate al Pireo e sono ora in marcia verso Atene che evidentemente sara occupata. Si sa pure che altre truppe alleate sono sbarcate al porto greco di Falero.

WASHINGTON, June 14. L'on. Francesco Saverio Nitti, l'illustre economista ed il ministro a cui il Mezzogiorno d'Italia deve una grande opera di riedificazione agricola ed industriale come quella del grande serbatoio d'acqua, rimarra' probabilmente in America quale alto commissario italiano. Questo si e' appreso nei circoli ufficiali della capitale, nei quali si e' convinti che Nitti sia l'uomo piu' adatto ad assolvere il difficile compito di rappresentare durante la guerra l'Italia in America per tutto quanto si riferisce alla parte finanziaria ed in general economica.

Gli atti commissari della potenza alleata costituiranno in Washington una specie di comitato che avra' relazioni ufficiose con il governo americano e curera' soprattutto l'acquisto e la distribuzione di viveri e di materiale per la guerra. Finora vi erano state parecchie commissioni della potenza dell'Intesa, e qualche volta erano sorti dissacordi e conflitti per quanto riguarda la distribuzione dei materiali acquistati. Con la formazione di questa commissione unica sara' possibile eliminare ogni conflitto e nello stesso tempo raggiungere una piu' equa distribuzione delle risorse finanziarie che gli Stati Uniti mettono a disposizione degli alleati e dei viveri e del materiale acquistato o che si va mano mano acquistando. Non solo, ma con la coordinazione del lavoro della commissione per quanto riguarda gli acquisti sara' possibile eliminare la concorrenza e gli alti prezzi che ne risultavano.

Ciascuno degli atti commissari aprira' un ufficio in New York da cui migliaia di subordinati sparsi in tutto il paese saranno diretti. Insomma in questi circoli governativi americani—questa opinione e' perfettamente giustificata—si ritiene che nessuno meglio dell'on. Nitti e' adatto a coprire l'ufficio di alto commissario italiano negli Stati Uniti.

circa i mezzi di proseguire la guerra con maggior vigore. Erano presenti tutti i ministri. Alla conclusione del consiglio e' stato dato al pubblico il seguente comunicato: Non vi e' mai stato alcun periodo di una crisi generale ministeriale in Italia. Le voci che sono state messe in circolazione recentemente erano evidentemente basate su informazioni inesatte. E' probabile che vi siano alcuni cambiamenti di portafoglio tra i ministri attualmente in carica. I ministri sono in perfetto accordo per quanto riguarda la politica estera del gabinetto. Essi hanno unanimemente riconosciuto l'opportunita' di procedere ad alcuni cambiamenti allo scopo di rendere piu' armonica l'azione del gabinetto e piu' rispondente alle necessita' del momento.

Tali necessita' impongono una maggiore attivita' da parte di tutte le branche del governo e piu' specialmente da parte di quelle tecniche. Come prova conclusiva che non vi sono stati dissensi sui principi fondamentali e che tutti i ministri sono animati dalla stessa fede, essi hanno unanimemente dato incarico al presidente del Consiglio, on. Boselli, di procedere alla riorganizzazione del gabinetto nella maniera che egli credera' piu' opportuna. Si puo' facilmente vedere che nelle deliberazioni del gabinetto non vi e' un accento qualsiasi all'atteggiamento dell'Italia in fatto di politica estera che rimane esattamente quella che era e che e' stata fino a ieri.
