Kindler Now to Be Heard on the Phonograph-Many Vocal Selections Offered

By the Phonograph Editor

The part played by important symphonic orchestras in their relation to the phone-traph is becoming less of a "thinking role" and more of a leading lady from month to month. An instance of this is afforded by the Columbia Company's signing of the Cin-cinnati Orchestra. This body of musicians, at the head of which our now own Dr. Leo-pold Stokowski stood, has been excellently regarded by musical critics, and has indeed merited that surveyaltion.

The numbers played for a two-part record are the imperishable "Beautiful Blue Danube" waits of Johann Strauss and the Besmingly equally imperishable, yet hardly as interesting, Barcarolle from Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffmann." This is an admirable way of approaching the intelligences of records who like their supportant that the property of the supportant of the supporta people who like their music with plenty of milk in it. For later on, they discover cof-fee and tea are capital drinks as well. The road that leads to fine musical taste often proceeds through just such windings as Offenbeck and States.

The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra is now conducted by Dr. Ernat Kunwald. He is a thoroughgoing student, so Ohioans aver. Here his scademic knowledge is tempered with that popularity of appeal which the music contains.

Mr. Kindler is one of the most vigorous personalities in his young especial-ghoir, and he transmits that vivid quality in his exe-

Some of the Victor product comprises a song by "Good-Bye" Tosti, sung by Caruso, to words by the Bye" Tout, sung by Ceruso, to words by the Hallen aviator-poet, D'Annungio; Thome's "Love-Token," sung by Frances Aida; "The Oid Refrain." (Mattuliath-Kreisler), sung by that delightful artiste, Julia Culp, "Santa Lucia," always in vogue, sung by De Gogorza; a new De Luca record from "The Masked Ball"—the famous "Eri Tu"—and other discs by Homer, Elman, Galil-Curci, Martinelli and Kreisler.

Ambulance Camp Members Regret Transferring of Lieutenant W. J. Whitehouse

ALLENTOWN, Pa., July 7.—There was regret at the United States ambulance camp when Lieutenant Walter J. Whitehouse was shifted from command of the General Charles A. Snyder Unit A. of Pottsville, and placed in command of the Florida unit. His work has been so satisfactory that the unit from Schuyikill County he has had in charge is destined to be among the first to be sent to France, under command of Lieutenant Rufus A. Van Voast, who came here from service in the famous French Foreign Legion.

The Pottsyille boys saw a new light today when they got their equipment for the "bike," which is the camp expression for going across the sea. This included a new uniform, hob-nall shoes, revolvers, to protect themselves from the barbarity of the Germans, who are shooting rescue workers; knives, knapsacks, tents and a field kitchen. This unit thus equipped is Section 19, in charge of Sergeant Homer Reigle, and Sec-tion 43, in charge of Sergeant Joseph Ulmer.

Among them is George H. Lowe, of Boston, captain-elect of the Fordham eleven, former Exeter foot-ball captain and former Lafayette end.

LEADER RODIA SUCCESS AT WOODSIDE PARK

Band Wins Instant Favor-Mise Ellison to Sing New Numbers

It has required less than a week for Giuseppe Rodia to establish himself a prime favorite with Philadelphia music lovers. One week ago Conductor Rodia made his appearance at Woodside Park with his Imperial Band. His success was instantaneous. Years of experience have taught him the value of co-operation between him the value of co-operation between leader and musicians, and as a result he not only has the confidence of his men but also their devotion. Few leaders have a more striking personality than Signor Redia. He has surrounded himself with an aggregation of high-class musicians who are responsive to his every movement.

The success of Miss Edith M. Ellison has resulted in placing this accomplished so-prano in the forefront of Philadelphia singers. Miss Ellison is forceful in expression, while her voice is full, rich and of excellent volume. Her painstaking and meritorious musical efforts have made her many friends. She will sing several new selections at Woodside Park during the week.
