JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Much Excitement at Cape May Over Yacht Club Rules-Nancy Wynne Chats About Several Other Matters

THERE sure was some excitement last week at Cape May. It does seem too and that the season should open, or virqually open, with a funs. But being that ge such a small place, everything leaks out eventually, as one female (more deadly than the male?) tells her dearest friend m confidence—and so it goes. Well, to

At the Corinthian Yacht Club the other night a certain very well-known lady brought as her guest to the dance a saller in uniform. It happens to be the rule of the Corinthian Yacht that a sailor in uniform is not allowed in the club, and thereby hangs the fuss.

The man in question is a gentleman and recently in France held a responsible position in the French legation. When the United States declared war he came out and enlisted in the naval coast reserves. The hostess of the evening was furious and said, "My guest is defending the coast, and is this man to be barred from the one pleasure Cape May offers?" It is true that the Corinthian Yacht Cub will allow a sailor in civilian clothes es the dancing floor, but after the fourth of July the order was issued from Washington that uniforms must be worn at all times, so Cape Mayites say:

valley pa. 19006

Strafford, and yesterday they gave a tenhis party and invited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thayer and Hannah Hobart, who, you remember, is Mrs. Charles Wheeler's daughter, and came out last year at a tea which Mrs. Wheeler senior gave for Sumane Elliot (now Mrs. Donner) and the two Packard girls and Hannah. The Tom Newhalls were also the Heckschers' guests, and altogether it was a fine party

Mrs. Heckscher is certainly a stunning ooking woman, and so are Mrs. Newhall and Mrs. Thayer, for that matter. Really, the tennis game was quite a "Dream of Fair Women."

VISITS are certainly in the air this day and month. Everywhere one hears this one or that one is visiting the other one. Pauline Denckia came up today to visit Brownie Warburton at her Jenightown home. The James Reeds me home yesterday from Cape May, where they had a wonderful time staying with the Evans Roberts. They are soing on to Wernersville and then back to Cape May for the rest of the season, I bear. The Edward Brooks, Jr., of Bala, having finished one visit in Glen Summit, left on Friday for another one in Chelsea where they spent the week-end with Mrs Brooks' brother and sister-in-law, Mr.

and Mrs. J. Haseltine Carstairs. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Work have been own at Cape May at a house party which the Fred Stovells gave, and Mrs. James Castle, of Chestnut Hill, left today to Talt her aunt, Mrs. Patterson, at Beaconin-the-Hudson. Mary Sheppard has gone to Mrs. James Tyson's camp in South collection and disbursement being met frafford, Vt., and you'll agree with little Rancy, this is some visiting time.

NCIDENTALLY, it seems to make some persons wonder and wonder how it is that Nancy manages to go about so such and just happen on some of the lings she tells about. It is curious, but he Pates must be with her, for she just spa right on those stories and often is interest onlooker. And a man rely remarked, "Who is this Nancy Whine," anyhow?"

marvelous how the different com ees of the Emergency Aid work on utterly exhausted with it all; but gracious! gly and without stopping. It does they aren't, and can attend to home and families just as if they had no other possible to do all these women thought in the world. the way of charity, and yet they are all the time. Take life, George Hor-

Red Cross Work Continues in July-Tioga's Summer Plans

Tioga florists have not gone out of business on account of the war gardens, for in that suburb sweet-smelling herbs, crisp lettuce and radishes grow side by side with many bright-hued flowers. One of these attractive gardens beasts an "Independence Laty," on named by the sewer because for attractive gardens beasts an "Independence Lély," so named by the grower because for three consecutive summers it has opened its beautiful white blossoms on July 4, to greet the nation's holiday. The plant was an Easter gift in 1915. In a few weeks it faded, and the bulb was planted in the rear garden. Imagine the surprise of the family when the green stalk bore three birds that garden. Imagine the surprise of the rame, when the green stalk bore three birds that opened that summer on July 4:

The next summer, when the green stalk appeared above the ground, each member of the family watched anxiously for the buds. Suregenough, they came, three in number. Then with increased interest the buds were watched, and on July 4 the beau-tiful white cups opened and displayed the yellow-tipped stamens. When this patriotic lily celebrated in the selfsame way last week, and produced three large blossoms on Wednesday morning, the gafdener decided to call it Independence Lily.

Most of the sewing clubs in the north n suburban section, where the families of the young women will not leave the city until August, have been doing Red Cross and Emergency Aid work. One group of nd Emergency Aid work. One group of hese workers left on Friday for a week-end nouse party at Stone Harbor. They in-luded Miss Violet Williams, Miss Edith Clarke, Miss Mina Newlands, Miss Edna M. Lindner, Miss Gertrude Hall, Miss Clara Abbott, Miss Ella V. Abbott, Miss Mirlam Hume, Miss Virginia Hume, Mrs. Howard N. Abbott and Miss Marie C. Wiest.

Among the weddings scheduled for July that of Miss Florence E. Shenk, daughthat of Miss Florence E. Shenk, daughier of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snenk, and Mrs. John Linton, which will take place at noon on July 19 in the Church of the Incarnation, Broad and Jefferson streets. The bride-to-be had a delightful entertainment given in her bonor on Saurday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Matthiew Patterson, at Hampton Court, Torresdale. There were forty-five guests. On Wednesday a bachelor dinner will be given for Mr. Linton by Mr. William Myer, of Germantown.

YOUNG COUPLE ARE WELCOMED BY FRIENDS

IRS, JOHN SINNOTT

ple have been torn from their homes,

The folder says: "All relief money is sent by cable, to avoid loss at sea, direct

as possible food, clothing, seed for future

crops, cattle, implements and materia with which to work." Industrial enterprises are being established where possible among these destitute people, and the Armenians and Syrians are anxious for work. A letter recently received from an Armenian who was a survivor of Erivan says: "We decided that a kind of industry that would give the most handwork with the least capital involved would be the making of socks from woot. We buy crude wool; this is taken to the river to be washed. The washing is done by men who stand barefooted in the water all day and pound the wet wool with clubs

made for the purpose. It is hard, disagreeable work, for which sixty cents a day is paid, and we have a hundred applicants for every position open. Then the wool is dried in the open air, which

He continues, telling how the wool is taken to the carding factory, where the women work at it, and after much preparation it is finally handed over to the spinners. There are nearly 1000 women who spin-the wool and then knit it into socks. They make about sixty-five cents

In this Armenian Committee every dollar goes for the relief, the expenses of privately; so you may know what good

the women of this committee are doing

With Mrs. Lorimer is Mrs. Bob Downs.

who is treasurer, and a host of others whose names are not on the folder. The name of Mrs. Fred Perry Power is given as that member who has coin pins for sale for the benefit of the committee, and which may be obtained at Mrs. Power's home, 223 Harvey street, Germantown, or at the Emergency Aid headquarters at

They are certainly doing a wonderful work. One would think they would be 1428 Walnut street.

a week.

takes one or two days in good weather."

wander in a desolate country.

linnott and her two small ft last week for California,

hey will spend the summer.

er, who is chairman of the Ar mmittee. I often wonder how

Mr. and Mrs. Bickel Have Come Up From Birmingham for a

Many West Philadelphians will be interested in the Independence such of the Southeastern Chapd Cross, and in fact is there at ms twice a week; she is vice the Huntingdon Valley and
th of the Red Cross; she was ime movers and workers at zaar and fair for the Abingand was at the barouse.

Many West Philadelphians will be interested to know that Mr. and Mrs William G. Bickel are spending a part of the summer with Mrs. Marshall McCulley, at her home, 721 North Fortieth street. Mrs.
Bickel was Louise McCulley, but since
the Huntingdon Valley and the fire their marriage the young couple have been living in Birmingham, Ala.
They have a host of friends in the North, and a number of affairs have been given for them. Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Fahrig gave a dinner for them during the week at their home, 3822 North Sixteenth street, Tioga. Many West Philadelphians will be intercomplish so much. She is acrested in the Independence

The bride, of course, wore white net sim-ply made and a tulle veil and orange blos-colleague in any matt

Fritz and Mrs. Walter Spofford.

most of them put to death or worse, and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Lang and Miss Elsie H. Lang, of 319 Winona avenue, German-town, will spend the remainder of the summer in Castine, Me. those who have been spared are left to

to the American Consuls, to supply as far ROXBOROUGHITES AND CAR CO. WAX POETICAL

Citizens and Traction Company Vie With Each Other in Literary Prowess

Some time ago a long-suffering victim of the Ridge avenue trolley car line sent a protest in verse to a meeting of the Twenty-first Ward Board of Trade, held for the purone of hearing the complaints of the Roxhoroughites on the poor service. The poem, signed "C. M. F.," told how the day was lost and how they "are all held up along the Ridge because there is no car.' ooem closed in this way:

When Roxboroughites kneel down at night They pray, 'Remove the bar Between us and good service, Lord, That we may get a car.'

Now that summer weather is here and the stylish-skirted suburbanites of the gentic sex can improve their bodily health by tramping up and down the hills to and from the train stations at Manayunk and Wissahlekon, the trolley road has got even publishing in its little pamphlet, "Troi-

The devil sends the wicked wind But heav'n is just To close the had man's eye."

Colonel Alexander W. Givin and his daughter, Miss Fannie Givin, of 426 Ly-ceum avenue, left early last week for their summer home in Ocean City.

Social Activities

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nelson, of Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Nelson, of Elizabeth, N. J., announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elia Anderson Nelson, to Mr. George Frederic Riegel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Riegel, of Germantown. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Lyttletone E. Hubard at St. John's Episcopal Church, Elizabeth, on Saturday, July 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Faunce, of Bala, announce the engagement of their daugh-ter, Miss Rena M. Faunce, to Mr. Frank H. Seely, Jr., of this city.

Mr. Francis W. S. Lee, of 1914 North Thirtieth street, announces the engagement of his daughter, Miss Helen Gilbert Lee, to Br. George Sargent Rowbotham, son of Mrs. George W. Rowbotham, of 2125 Ritner CORPORAL BINKS DECIDES TO FIRE THE COOK

THE DAY OF WRATH

A STORY OF 1914 By Louis Tracy

CHAPTER IN-(Continued)

The priest spread wide his hands in sor-rowful gesture. "You don't understand," he said. "Relgium is overrun with spics, it is positively dangerous to utter an opin-ion in any mixed company. One or two of the bystanders will certainly be in the pay them. Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Fahring gave a dinner for them during the week at their home, $82. North Sixteenth street, Tiga, and was at the banquet y by the Men's Armenian, to be more exact, given ub by Bishop Rhinelander, the whole and Mrs. American to the short of the short o ming parties there when in Radnor. Of tourse, she is in Washington a good deal these days, now that Charley Munn and Girmee also are both employed there in Government positions. Mrs. Gurnee Munn is in Washington now, visiting her mother-in-law.

The Stevens Heckschers are established in their beautiful country home at Brafford, and yesterday they gave a ten of Man cant or creed? Is world democracy, we racy a battle cry or a catch phrase? If we like cry or a catch phrase? If we live a battle cry or a catch phrase? If we live christianity, we practice Broth. The German Girme and a tuile veil and orange blowsoms. Her bouquet consisted of roses and the country were at stake. The German And believe them sheat man, The bride is the sister of Mrs. Ward W. Brinton, also of Chestnut Hill, and has been a popular member of the younger set.

A group of Germantown wemen are in Silver Bay, Lake George, attending the annual Interdenominational Missionary Connectic These good, quiet, home-loving peoference. They are Mrs. Wilham Beatty that men have always found irrestablished there is more ply made and a tuile veil and orange blowsoms. Her bouquet consisted of roses and the valley. Lieutenant Braafford, as the valley. Lieutenant Braafford, as the valley Lieutenant Braafford as the valley Lie ly by dangling before their eyes the reward that men have always found irresistible the spoliation of other lands, the prospec of sudden enrichment. Every soldier marging past this house at the present moment hopes to rob Belgium and Franco. And now England is added to the enticing list of well-stocked properties that may be lawfully burgled. I am no prophet, monsieur. I am only an old man who has nearthead the unspringing of a new and termonsieur. I am only an old man who has watched the upspringing of a new and terrible force in European politics. I may rible force in European politics. I may live an hour or ten years, but if God spares me for the latter period I shall see Germany either laid in the dust by an engand world or dominating the earth by many either and or dominating the earth by brutal complest."

But for the outbreak of the war Dalroy But for the outbreak of the war Dairoy would have passed the "interpretor" test in German some few weeks later. He had spent his "language leave" in Berlin, and was necessarily familiar with German thought and literature. Often had he smiled at Teutonic hoastfulness. Now the simple words of an aged village cure had given a far-reaching and sinister meaning to much that had seemed the mere froit of a vigorous race fermenting in successful trade.

"Do you believe that the German colony

"Do you believe that the German colony in England pursues the same methods?" he asked, and his heart sank as he recalled the wealth and social standing of the horde of Germans in the British Isles.

"Can the leopard change his spots?" quoted the other. "A year ago one of my friends, a maker of automobiles, thought I needed a holiday. He took me to England God has been good to Britain, monsieur; He has given you riches and power. But needed a notina;
God has been good to Britain, monsieur;
He has given you riches and power. But you are grown careless, I stayed in five big hotels, two in London and three in the provinces. They were all run by Germans.
I made inquiries, thinking I might benefit some of my village lads; but the German managers would employ none save German waiters, German cooks, German reception clerks. Your hall porters were Germans.
You never cared to reflect, I suppose, that hotels are the main arteries of a country's life. But the canker did not end there.
Your mills and collieries were installing German plants under German supervisors. German plants under German supervisors speaker paused dramatically The speaker paused dramatically.

"But our God is not a German God!" he cried, and his sunken eyes seemed to shoot fire. "Last night, listening to the guns that were murdering Belgium, I asked my-

It is sown in weakness; it is raised in The cure's voice had unconsciously at-The cure's voice and unconsciously attained the pulpit pitch. The clear, incisive accents reached other cars.

The landlady crept in, with a face of scare. "Mounteur!" she whispered, "the doors are wide spec. It is an order!" Dairoy went rapidly into the signer. No lottager was visible. Not oven a growd of MONTHS" gasped the cure. "Then what will become of my unhappy country? Even today we are living on hope. Liege still holds out, and the people are saying, "The English are coming; all will be well." A man was shot today in this very town for making that statement."

"He must have been a feel to voice his views in the presence of German troope."

The priest spread wide his hands in sorrowful gesture. "You don't understand, he said. "Relgium is overrun with spics, it is positively dangerous to utter an opinion in any mixed company. One or two of

CHAPTER X Andenne

MADAME JOOS was old for her fifty years and heavy withal. Hers was not the finer quality of human clay which hardens in the fire of adversity. She became III, almost seriously III, and had to be nursed back into good health again during nine long days. And long these days were, the longest Dairoy had ever known. To a man of his temperament, enforced inactivity was anothens in any conditions; a gnawing doubt that he was not justified in remaining in Verviers at all did not improve matters. Monsieur Garnier, the cure, was a frequent though unob-trustive visitor. He doctored the invalid, and brought scraps of accurate information which filtered through the far-fung screen f t'hlans and the dense lines of German infantry and guns. Thus the fugitives knew when and where the British expedi-tionary force actually landed on the Con-tinent. They heard of the gradual sapping of the defenses of Liege, until Fort Longir fell, and, with it, as events were to prove the shield which had protected Beigium for nearly a fortnight. The respite did not avail King Albert and his heroic people in so far as the occupation and ravaging of their beautiful country was concerned. But calm-eyed historians in years to come will appraise at its true value the come will appraise at its true value the breathing space, slight though it was, thus secured for France and England.

Dalroy found it extraordinarily difficult to sift the true from the false in the crop of conflicting rumors. In the first instance, German legends had to be discounted. From the outset of the campaign the Kaiser's armies were steadily regaled with accounts of phenomenal successes elsewhere. Thus, when four army corps, commanded now by Yon Kluck, were nearly demoralized by the steadfast valor of General Leman and his stalwarts, the meneral Prince was smashing his way to Parts through Nancy and Verdun. Prodigles were through Naney and Verdun. Prodigles were being performed in Poland and the North Sea, and London was burnt by Zeppelina almost daily. Nor did Belgian imagination ing far behind in this contest of unveracity. British and French troops were marching to the Mouse by a dozen roads; the French raid into Alsace was magnified into a great milliary feat; the British fleet had squelched the Committee of the German navy by sinking nineteen battleships; the Kaiser, haggard and bleareyed, was alternately degrading and shoot-ing generals and issuing flamboyant procla-mations. Finally, Russia was flattening out East Prussia and Galicia with the slow crunching of a steamroller.

Out of this maelstrom of "news" a level headed soldier might, and did extract certain hard facts. The landing of Sir John French's force took place exactly at the time and place and in the numbers Dalroy himself had estimated. To throw a small army into Flanders would have been folly. the rest-though he went out very little, and alone, as being less risky—he recognized the hour when the German machine recovered its momentum after the first un-expected collapse. He caw order replace chaos. He watched the dragon crawling ever onward and understood then that no act of man could save Belgium. Verviers was the best possible site for an observer who knew how to use his eyes. He assumed that what was occurring there was going dong the line of the Vosges Mountains

Gradually, too, he reconciled his con nce to these days of waiting. He beleved now that his services would be im-mensely more useful to the British com-mander-in-chief in the field if he could oss the French frontier rather than reach London and the War Office by way of the Beigian coast. This decision lightened his heart. He was beginning to fear that the welfare of Irene Beresford was conflicting with duty. It was cheering to feel con vinced that the odds and ends of informa

Por instance, Liege was being laid low by eleven-inch howitzers, but he had seen seventeen-inch howitzers, each in three paris, each part drawn by forty horses or a dozen traction englises, moving slowly toward the southwest. There lay Namur-and France: No need to doubt now where the chief theatre of the war would find its the chief thates of the war would find its habitat. The German staff had blundered in its initial strategy, but the defect was being repaired. All that had gone before was a mere prelude to the grim business which would be transacted beyond the Meuse.

that were murdering Belgium, I asked myself. Why does Heaven permit this crime?
And the answer came swiftly: German influences were polisoning the world. They had to be eradicated, or manicina would sink into the bottomicss pit. So God has sent this war. Be of good heart. Remember the words of Saint Paul: 'So also is the recurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption,
It is sown in weakness; it is raised in the recurrection of the dead. It is precisely the right sentiment of young foll-During that period of quiescence, certai other by a wise Providence. As that is precisely the right sentiment of young folk in love, romance throve finely in Madame Beranger's little auberge in the Rue de Nivers at Verviers. A tender glance, a touch of the hand, a lighting of a troubled face when the dear one appears—these things are excellent substitutes for the spoken word.

(Contrickt, Edward J. Clubs) (CONTINUED TOMORROW)

WAR-SCARRED CITY

Philadelphia May Help Chauny Survive Another War

TO HAVE NEW TALE

ADOPTION CALLED SURE

If Philadelphia adopts Chauny-which sems more than likely-the old men and id woman of a future day in Chauny will tave a more beautiful story to tell the little boys and little girls of Chauny than the old women and men could tell the children before this war came to lay the own in ruins.

There were stories enough to tell, for hauny is old, perhaps as old as any of the owns and villages in the Department of the Aisne, and some were ugly and some were beautiful; but the story of being adopted after the merciless ravaging at the I hands of the Germans, of being fed and clothed by a big American city-that will e the most beautiful of all.

Ambassador Jusserand is expected to name Chauny as the town that Philadelphia may adopt if Philadelphia wills. Then it will be for Philadelphia to decide whether t will feed and clothe Chauny and bind up ts wounds, or whether it will say to the

"No. M. Jusserand, I would like to do omething for Chauny, but I really don't see how I can. I have my hands so full, you see. It would be a fine thing for some American city to do that. I wish I could. Some other time perhaps. It was a horrible thing for the Germans to wreck the town and lay it waste before they left. It was an unspeakable outrage. Truly, the Germans are Huns. They should be ostracized by the world. My heart aches for Chauny, I am sorry I can't adopt it. I hope some one does."

Philashphia probably will not say that fold how the city may have the privilege of adopting this peaceful, sweet and simple-hearted French town—the privilege of adopting it or leaving it to die or find another savior-a good many Philadelphians have told the Evening Ledger there can be doubt of what Philadelphia will do. T now. Perhaps they are right were old Philadelphians and seemed to know what they were talking about. They seemed to "know their Philadelphia" (with its own ways that some people smile at, its ways that are often somewhat slow and wearying to people from, say Chicago, its dirty streets that are expected to be clean some day if they are not now, and its homes and hor and homes with hig hearts in them no mat-er how simple they may be; just as New Yorkers "know their New York" (with its Greenwich Village and its Wall street and ts Broadway cafes and its Greenwich Vil-age and its Wall street and its Broadway afes and its Greenwich Village and its Wall street and its Broadway cafes).

Well, those Philadiphians said it was a foregone conclusion that Philadelphia would adopt Chauny and it was now time to go head and arrange the details. So if what Refore this war that has ruined so many ties and towns and villages and desolated many homes the people of Chauny were very happy people, and they had been appy for many years—for so many years, fact, that the stories the old men and women told did not even hurt any more. Some were stories of the Franco-Prussian War, but most of then were of the Hun-dred Years War, which had been handed flown from generation to generation from the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries. It was then that Chauny saw bitter days. This Alsne department city of 16,000 or 12.000 couls on the Cise, twenty miles or so southwest of St. Quentin, was racked and torn time after time in that bloody century and a few years from 1237 to 1452, when the French and Eng ish seemed unable to make any lasting accommodation of their difference. Its men would off to the war and then the war came to Chauny, imes the men never came back and imes they came back crippled. The and churches and little stores were wrecked and ruined. And after each herror the people bravely struggled to their feet and hullt new houses and new churches and new stores. And when they had them built the men would go to war again and the war would come to Chauny again. Chauny lived through it all. Chauny could not be killed then and the Germans could not kill it now, it seems. Only that is not a certainty. The Germans have not killed it yet, though it is weak and broken. There is a possibility that it will live some way, even if unaided, it is certan to live if the big, strong city that it needs comes along and gives it strength and courage, The stories the old men and women told were of the wrecking and rebuilding of the town again and again. Those were the stories told the children in the daytime when the men were away at work in the glass plants and the sugar factories and the chemical laboratories, for which the town is famous.

There are no men away at work now and the old men and women are not telling the old stories. They do not do that in times like these, when Chauny's houses are buly wreckage and the people have to pile boards over their heads to make some sor of shelter.
But if Chauny is adopted and its homes

rebuilt and its little stores and churches there will be old men and women again to talk to the children about the Hundred Years' War and the Franco-Prussian War and the World War and the city that took Chauny and adopted it and healed it and made it whole and sept the life in its coul-after the German invader had been beauen

FRIENDS BEGIN TRAINING FOR RECLAMATION WORK

First Unit for Rebuilding of French Towns After War Will Sail

in August

The first of the units of Friends that will rebuild shattered and desolated French towns when they are reclaimed from the Germans will sail in August.

Mobilization of Friends for service in the unit has been ordered and will be in full swing by the end of the week. The men enrolled will meet at Haverford College and train there for the work they will do in France.

rege and train there for the work they will do in France.

There is no fighting about this work—for the Friends will not fight; it is against their religious principles—but there is plenty of hard, trying work, and the men must be hardened for it, just as a green recruit must be hardened for a fighting campalan. Thousands of Friends are expected to

Thousands of Friends are expected to go to France with the units and their expeditions will be financed by the rest of the 125,000 Friends in the United States, Philadelphia being the center of the Friends Societies in this country, the head-quarters and the training station are located man, this city.

vincent D. Nicholson, of New York City, appointed to organize the relief work of the friends in France, is here preparing the first training camp.

I. W. W. PROWLERS ARRESTED

Alleged Confession of Plot to Organize Strike in Smelter Plant

EL PASO, Tex., July 9.-Government agents early today arrested fourteen mea, members of the I. W. W., who were provi-ing in the vicinity of the Consolidated Smelting and Refining Company's plant near El Paso.

One of the men arrested, Patrick Car-mody, is said to have confessed to the Fed-eral agents that the L. W. W. planned to organize a strike of the 3000 Mexican emloves of the amelter

TODAY'S MARRIAGE LICENSES TODAY'S MARRIAGE LICENSES

Carl G. Howry, U. S. S. Iowa, Learne Island, and Veronica N. Kirchoff, 2446 S. Mole st.

Norman Humphrey, Trenton, N. J., and Madeline E. Shaw Trenton, N. J., and Madeline E. Shaw Trenton, N. J., and Madeline E. Shaw Trenton, N. J., and Laurs Krown, 2540 E. Clearfield st., and Carris A. Groiz, 2248 N. Hope st.

John C. Bennett, 1224 Ader st., and Harriet B. Hager, 821 Green st.

Pred Hensley, 8704 Market st., and Harriet B. Hager, 821 Green st.

William Underwood, 709 Spruce st., and Fannis Rindon, 500 Spruce st.

Welter J. Girard, Newport News, Va., and Josephine M. Sheridan, 1813 Cayusa st.

Gluy R. Harria, Tacony, Pa., and Edith V. Esoch, Holmesburg, Pa.

Otto Higer, Bridesburg, Pa., and Mary T. Guille, 2138 S. 12th st.

Francis J. McMahon, 1535 Emily st., and Mary D. McGlone, 2122 S. 19th st.

Samuel Dubraw, 640 N. 18th st., and Ida Gerowsky, 510 N. 24 st.

Antonic Caiyano, 1116 Titan st., and Stefano Dubraw, 040 N. 18th st., and Ida Gerow-510 N. 2d at. c Calvano, 1116 Titan st., and Stefano icho, 792 S. 6th st. E. Dieterio, 4400 N. 5th at., and Catherine

Marriage Licenses Issued in Elkton ELKTON, Md., July 8.—The following marringe licenses were issued here today: Daniel J. McFadden and Agnes Dolan, El-mer F. Weld and Elizabeth Hughes, Thomas S. Moore and Edna M. Frey, Emil Gratz-macher and Lula C. Gibson, all of Phila-delphia: Clarence E. Kroh and Mildred C. Heninger, Shamokin, Pa.: Leonard H. Heninger, Shamekin, Pa.: Leonard H. Maloney and Nora Legates, Milford, Del.: Arthur S. Mitchell, Greensboro, Md., and Sallie Guthren, Seaford, Del.: Joseph N. Lee and Hattie Dulen, Marcus Hook; George R. Walker and Hazel B. Halloway, Aberdeen, Md.: William C. Faulkner and George R. Walker and Hazel B. Halloway, Aberdeen, Md.; William C. Faulkner and Mary E. Edwards, Chestertown, Md.;
Charles R. Churchman and Margaret G.
Becker, Wilmington; Luke J. Crosby and Lidle M. Ingram, West Chester; Robert J.
Stack and Eva Bokun, Wilkes-Barre; John
C. Pickrell, Philadelphia, and Mary R.
Clark, Baltimore; George L. Simmons, Marietta, and Ruth C. Sharpe, Lancaster;
Ralph B. Edwards and Mary M. Sheen, Norristown; George W. Feist, Bethlehem,
and Clara, L. Templeton, Milford, N. J.

Alice Paul in Sanitarium

WASHINGTON. July 9.—Alice Paul, leader of the National Woman's party, has entered a sanitarium here. She is arranging by telephone another demonstration in front of the White House Friday. WHAT'S DOING

The Fairmount Park Band plays at learge's Hill. Free.

The Philadelphia Band plays at City Hall plaza. Free.

Pharmaceutical Military Association neets, 145 North Tenth street. Free. Dinner to launch campoign to raise $75,000 for residence of U. Bellevue-Stratford Invitation Lutheran Chautauqua, Schaeffer-Ashmend

McKeeney Reviva), Broad and Shunk Anti-Baldi Meeting, 1145 South Broad

"A Night in Ireland," by Federation of Irish County Societies, 1626 Arch street, 8 o'clock. Members.

11:15 P. M. MARY PICKFORD

CONTINUOUM

11:15 A. M

"THE LITTLE AMERICAN" COMING—EARLY IN SEPTEMBER— GOLDWYN PICTURES—THIS MEANS— MAE MARSH, MAXINE ELLIOTT, MADGE KENNEDY

PALACE 10 A. M. to 11:15 P. Trices, 10c. 20c. The Talk of The Town "ON TRIAL Adapted from the Biggest Hit in Years.

ARCADIA CHEPTNUT Below 1678 CHARLES RAY "That Boy From Down Yonder" REGENT MARKET Below 177H
11 A. M. to 11:15 P. M.
Dally, 10c; Evge., 186 BRYANT WASHBURN

"The Man Who Was Afraid" VICTORIA MARKET Above DTH. SA. M. to 11:15 P. SL. PRICES 100, 200,

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS "WILD AND WOOLLY"

"Sunnyside of Broadway" CROSS KEYS DAILY 2:30 RVENINGS TA

Jos. Watson's Miniature Revue B. F. KEITH'S Chestant and 12th manuscript and 12th manuscript ENTRACEDINARY.

NORA BAYES

FISHING and east leading the this as