

Food Army Enrollment Not Complete—Philadelphia Will Celebrate French Holiday Next Saturday—Other News of the City

CITY TO HONOR "BASTILLE DAY" Celebration Will Pay Tribute to Our Ally's Fourth of July

FRENCH COLONY'S PLAN Parade Will Be Followed by Monster Demonstration in Independence Square

"Bastille Day," the French Fourth of July, marking the 125th anniversary of the fall of the Bastille, symbolic of liberating France from autocratic rule, is to be observed in Philadelphia on July 14. A parade of virtually the entire French colony, the French war relief committee, the Emergency Aid, soldiers, marines and reserves will be held in the morning, followed by a monster demonstration in Independence Square. Mayor Smith has announced that a number of prominent national speakers will participate.

BEINHARDT'S TELEGRAM The Evening Ledger sent this telegram to Madame Bernhardt:

The Mayor of Philadelphia has declared Bastille Day a day of general rejoicing and celebration. Appropriate exercises in honor of America's allied ally will be held at Independence Hall, in Independence Square, the birthplace of American liberties. The day will be devoted also to the collection of funds for the relief of stricken families in the recovered provinces of France. Your presence on the stage, even if you were unable to speak, would add incalculably to the enthusiasm of the occasion. Will you not come as the guest of the Evening Ledger? Your secretary informed our representative, who personally tried to see you, that our request in this form.

EDITOR OF THE EVENING LEDGER Her telegraphic reply follows:

I assure you, Monsieur, that I am truly sorry to be unable to accept your invitation to be in Philadelphia. It takes five hours by auto to go quickly, thus requiring ten hours to complete the return on the same day. That is too much for me during this hot season. My heart urges me to come to you, but reason, which is the wickedest invention of the human brain, forces me to abandon the great honor you do me and to regret that airplanes are not the ordinary means of public locomotion.

(Signed) SARAH BEINHARDT. Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson has announced that the French War Relief Committee, of which she is chairman, will co-operate with the various French societies and organizations in the city in arranging for the parade and demonstration.

A special committee, Mrs. Stevenson said, is working hard to perfect arrangements. It is composed of Mrs. Harold Ellis Yarnall, Mrs. Charles Leland Harrison, secretary, Mrs. Joseph Leland, treasurer, and Mrs. Cyrus H. K. Curtis.

U. S. May Picket Local Vice Dens Continued from Page One charges made by Secretary Daniels, relating to moral conditions near the navy yard, but it was frankly admitted that an investigation was now being made and that that investigation is far from being complete.

Both Mayor Smith, Director of Public Safety Wilson and Superintendent of Police Robinson have issued statements that the neighborhood near the navy yard is "spotless and clean."

MANY ARRESTS MADE

Police Lieutenant Barry, of the Fourth street and Snyder avenue station, today said: "In the last week we have arrested twenty or thirty girls in this district and sent them to the House of Detention. Every night and morning until 4 o'clock we have plain clothes men in the districts where we know the sailors and marines frequent."

"Since I have assumed command of this district on February 4, 1916, I have closed more than one hundred disorderly houses. At present there is only one house of questionable character in my district. We are investigating it. If our suspicions prove correct the place will be closed."

SECRETARY DANIELS' INVESTIGATION WAS PROMPTED, IT IS SAID, BY COMPLAINTS OF YOUNG MEN AT THE NAVY YARD WHOSE CONCERN WAS A PERSON WHO HAD ATTENDED MEETINGS AT WHICH UNLAWFUL CONDITIONS IN SOUTH PHILADELPHIA WERE DISCUSSED.

Secretary Daniels' investigation was prompted, it is said, by complaints of young men at the navy yard, whose concern was a person who had attended meetings at which unlawful conditions in South Philadelphia were discussed, some of the leading men in Philadelphia have asked Secretary Daniels to look into affairs around the navy yard and at the center of the city.

CITY NOT CLEAN, MAYOR ADMITS

Mayor Smith today is quoted as saying, "Philadelphia was not absolutely clean when I was a youth, and it probably is not now."

303 Second Lieutenants Created

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The War Department has created 303 new lieutenants, choosing 189 from the civilian training course and advancing 114 noncommissioned officers from the regular army.

Clean-City Regulations Provided by the Law

IT IS unlawful to place sweepings or other dirt or rubbish in the street or on the sidewalk except in proper receptacles from which they are to be collected.

It is unlawful and a misdemeanor of which a magistrate has summary jurisdiction to interfere with or scatter the contents of any receptacle containing sweepings, rubbish, ash, garbage or other refuse, placed on the sidewalk or street for collection.

If these things are done the proceedings will be stopped at once and the offenders will be warned and watched and, if necessary, arrested, according to police regulations.

Waste paper or cardboard must not be put in receptacles containing ashes, garbage or other waste.

FRANKFORD 'L' STATION BIDS ARE ALL TOO HIGH

Director Twining Forced to Reject Proffers for Building Ten

DOUBLE ESTIMATED COST

Plans for the speedy completion of the Frankford elevated road struck a snag today when Transit Director Twining was forced to reject bids for ten of the stations on the new line because the lowest offer made was nearly double the estimates made by the engineers of the Transit Department.

The lowest bids for the ten station buildings, not including the plumbing and electrical work, ranged from $100,000 to $1,000,000. The bids for the entire group of stations, including the plumbing and electrical work, ranged from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000. The bids for the entire group of stations, including the plumbing and electrical work, ranged from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000.

The Standard Construction Company of this city made the lowest offer for the entire work, exclusive of the plumbing and electrical work. The bid of this firm was $1,000,000. The only other offer for the entire work was submitted by Melody & Keating of this city, the figure being $500,000.

BIDS FOR SEPARATE STATIONS

Two contractors made offers for two of the stations. These were Harry Hatton, who bid $46,000 and $145,000, respectively, for the stations at 3166 and 3201 Kensington avenue, and the William Licker Company, $104,270 and $107,270, for the stations at 4270 and 4604 Frankford avenue.

The low bidder for the plumbing work was the W. H. K. Curtis, who offered an offer of $24,000, and for the electrical work, Walker & Kepler, $7600.

The ten stations for which bids were offered today are to be located at 3166 Kensington avenue, 3201 Kensington avenue, 3206 K street, the southeast corner of Tioga street and Kensington avenue, the northwest and the southeast corners of Frankford and Kensington avenues, 4270-4272 Frankford avenue, 4289-71 Frankford avenue, and 4604 and 4678 Frankford avenue.

The Northwest Business Men's Association, through Charles L. Pluck, president, has notified the Public Service Commission that it will withdraw its opposition to the granting of certificates of public convenience for the various high-speed lines provided for by the commission's plan.

The communication from Mr. Pluck was received by the commission today, and as the last executive session scheduled until September was beginning, it was at this session today that Mayor Smith presented a plan of operation of the lines as constructed as contemplated, it will require only such operating agreement for the paid lines as will provide a rate or rates of fare sufficient to produce revenue to make said lines self-supporting and at the same time pay the interest and sinking fund charges on whatever funds the taxpayers may advance for the construction (and possible equipment) of the lines.

TO SAFEGUARD TAXPAYERS

It is our belief that only in this way can the taxpayers be safeguarded and the basis of a satisfactory operating agreement of the lines be laid.

"I wish to call to your attention, in this connection, that the taxpayers and voters of Philadelphia were assured that the proposed lines would be self-supporting, and that the loan bills, which were asked to approve for construction of the lines, would not raise the tax rate.

"The subject of the conference held late yesterday between the Mayor and the Honorable E. P. Mitten, president of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, is causing considerable speculation in transit circles today. During the time he was conducting the fight for the Status bill and immediately following the defeat of that measure, the Mayor gave every indication that lease negotiations between the city and the company were at hand, and that reason transit followers find it difficult to understand just what the Mayor and Mr. Mitten should be discussing at this time.

William Draper Lewis, legal transit adviser of the city, called at the Mayor's office this morning to discuss the situation with the Mayor. Finding that the latter was not expected at his office until this afternoon, Mr. Lewis departed, but left a note saying that he would return late this afternoon.
