

PRESIDENT CALLS GUARD OUT TO WAR

Pennsylvania Troops Will Mobilize Next Sunday Under Wilson's Order

FORMAL DRAFT AUGUST 5

All Officers Above Colonel Must Be Reappointed and Ratified by U. S. Senate

How Guard Officers Met Call for Federal Service

COLONEL HAMILTON D. TURNER of the Second Pennsylvania Artillery, said he wished the order were to become effective today instead of Sunday.

"We are ready both in men and supplies. All we need is the command to start."

WASHINGTON, July 10. President Wilson has issued a proclamation calling all national guardsmen into the service of the United States.

The call is effective beginning July 11. On August 5 the President will draft the men into Federal service under the recent military act.

Units from other States are to be sent to the camps on August 5. The call covers all men in the National Guard who are not already in the Federal service.

Officers above colonel in the National Guard will be taken into the Federal service as such.

An officer of the militia division said that major generals and brigadier generals for most of the National Guards would be promptly nominated by the President.

The remainder of the Guard that will be mobilized at its home stations is virtually the same as now service at the Mexican border.

The commands that will be called as required are the quartermaster's corps, the staff corps and departments, medical officers, ordnance, inspector general's, adjutant general's and the judge advocate general's departments.

The various commands will report to their local armories on Sunday, the time to be fixed by the commanders.

The organization of the Pennsylvania division comprehends three brigades and one regiment of infantry, one brigade of artillery, a regiment of cavalry, a regiment of engineers, two ambulance companies, two field hospitals, one radio and signal battalion, a field bakery company and a medical, veterinary and dental corps.

Colonel Thomas Biddle Ellis is acting brigadier general of the First Infantry Brigade; Brigadier General Albert J. Logan is brigadier general of the Second; Brigadier General Christopher T. O'Neill, of Allentown, of the Third, and Brigadier General Frederick W. Strawn, of Scranton, are detached duty.

Brigadier General William G. Price, Jr., of Chester, commands the Artillery Brigade.

The artillery, light, equipped with light and heavy pieces, was organized during the tour of service along the Rio Grande by brigading the Second and Ninth Infantry with the parent unit, the First Field Artillery, Colonel William S. McKee, of Pittsburgh, commands the First, with headquarters at Pittsburgh; Colonel Hamilton D. Turner, of the Second, with headquarters at Broad and Susquehanna avenues in this city, and Colonel Asher Miner, of the Third, with headquarters at Wilkes-Barre.

The conversion of the Second Regiment into artillery left the First Brigade of

WILSON WAR CALL NOT RECEIVED HERE

Third Regiment Officer Says He Has No Official Order Yet

NOW IN FEDERAL SERVICE

Despite the proclamation of President Wilson calling all national guardsmen into the Federal service, Lieutenant Colonel Brookfield, of the Third Regiment, N. G. P., this afternoon announced that he has received no official order from Washington concerning the proposed mobilization.

The President's call is effective beginning July 11, and, according to the plans of the War Department, the national guardsmen will be drafted into Federal service on August 5.

The Third Regiment is now in the Federal service and doing guard duty in the western section of the State.

"We are ready for any kind of service," said Lieutenant Colonel Brookfield, "but until official word comes from Washington I shall not place much credence in the report that we are to discontinue our present guard duty and enter a concentration camp in the South."

Colonel Brookfield also made it plain that the regiment is more than 800 men short of the number required to place the unit on a war footing.

"I am awaiting orders from Harrisburg and am expecting them at any moment. Until I receive them I do not know what disposition will be made of the Pennsylvania National Guard regiments."

Colonel Millard D. Brown said: "It had been expected that the regiments would go to Mount Gretna. Such is not to be the case. We have no information as to what southern camps will be selected for our boys."

WASHINGTON, July 10. President Wilson has issued a proclamation calling all national guardsmen into the service of the United States.

The call is effective beginning July 11. On August 5 the President will draft the men into Federal service under the recent military act.

Units from other States are to be sent to the camps on August 5. The call covers all men in the National Guard who are not already in the Federal service.

Officers above colonel in the National Guard will be taken into the Federal service as such.

An officer of the militia division said that major generals and brigadier generals for most of the National Guards would be promptly nominated by the President.

The remainder of the Guard that will be mobilized at its home stations is virtually the same as now service at the Mexican border.

The commands that will be called as required are the quartermaster's corps, the staff corps and departments, medical officers, ordnance, inspector general's, adjutant general's and the judge advocate general's departments.

The various commands will report to their local armories on Sunday, the time to be fixed by the commanders.

The organization of the Pennsylvania division comprehends three brigades and one regiment of infantry, one brigade of artillery, a regiment of cavalry, a regiment of engineers, two ambulance companies, two field hospitals, one radio and signal battalion, a field bakery company and a medical, veterinary and dental corps.

Colonel Thomas Biddle Ellis is acting brigadier general of the First Infantry Brigade; Brigadier General Albert J. Logan is brigadier general of the Second; Brigadier General Christopher T. O'Neill, of Allentown, of the Third, and Brigadier General Frederick W. Strawn, of Scranton, are detached duty.

Brigadier General William G. Price, Jr., of Chester, commands the Artillery Brigade.

The artillery, light, equipped with light and heavy pieces, was organized during the tour of service along the Rio Grande by brigading the Second and Ninth Infantry with the parent unit, the First Field Artillery, Colonel William S. McKee, of Pittsburgh, commands the First, with headquarters at Pittsburgh; Colonel Hamilton D. Turner, of the Second, with headquarters at Broad and Susquehanna avenues in this city, and Colonel Asher Miner, of the Third, with headquarters at Wilkes-Barre.

The conversion of the Second Regiment into artillery left the First Brigade of

"SAMMEES" ARE NOW FAMILIAR SIGHTS IN PARIS

American soldiers are now seen daily on the streets of Paris, France. The picture shows one of Uncle Sam's trim fighting men consulting his map before venturing far from headquarters.

DRAFT TO GUARD LABOR IN NECESSITIES OF WAR

Boards Will Weigh Each Man's Worth to Industry in Army Selection

WASHINGTON, July 10. The United States will lift out and exempt from fighting service laborers vitally needed in feeding, clothing, supplying and equipping the armies.

Each infantry regiment comprises headquarters, supply and machine gun companies, together with twelve companies of foot soldiers. War strength demands 1800 men to a regiment.

The Second Brigade comprises the Tenth, Sixteenth and Eighteenth Infantry. The Tenth and Eighteenth are in the Federal service, with headquarters at Greensburg and Broad and Callowhill streets, while the Third has performed similar duties, with headquarters at Altoona.

Colonel George C. Richards, of Oil City, commands the Sixteenth, with companies from Corry, Meadville, Bradford, Oil City, Kane, Franklin, Erie, Ridgway, Warren, Elkton, Butler and Grove City.

Colonel Maurice E. Finney commands the Eight, with headquarters at Harrisburg. His companies are stationed at Harrisburg, Chambersburg, Harrisburg, Manayunk, Huntingdon, Carlisle, Pottsville, Bedford and Lewistown.

Colonel John P. Wood, of Wayne, commands the cavalry regiment, Troop A, Captain Arthur C. Coholan; Troop B, Captain J. William Good; Troop C, Captain Thomas B. Myers, and Troop E, Captain George C. Thayer, are all assembled from this city.

Colonel Thomas Biddle Ellis is acting brigadier general of the First Infantry Brigade; Brigadier General Albert J. Logan is brigadier general of the Second; Brigadier General Christopher T. O'Neill, of Allentown, of the Third, and Brigadier General Frederick W. Strawn, of Scranton, are detached duty.

Brigadier General William G. Price, Jr., of Chester, commands the Artillery Brigade.

The artillery, light, equipped with light and heavy pieces, was organized during the tour of service along the Rio Grande by brigading the Second and Ninth Infantry with the parent unit, the First Field Artillery, Colonel William S. McKee, of Pittsburgh, commands the First, with headquarters at Pittsburgh; Colonel Hamilton D. Turner, of the Second, with headquarters at Broad and Susquehanna avenues in this city, and Colonel Asher Miner, of the Third, with headquarters at Wilkes-Barre.

The conversion of the Second Regiment into artillery left the First Brigade of

"ON TRIAL" DECREES MODIFIED BY CENSORS

Permit Display of Forbidden Leaders, Slightly Changed. New Era Seen

WASHINGTON, July 10. The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

The State officials, O. K'd the action, but put the ban on five leaders, or explanatory subtitles, which were printed in the Evening Leader as an evidence of their comparatively harmless character.

EDGE FILLS JERSEY POSTS

Rechat Renamed Optometrists' Head. Probe of Utilities Merger

TRENTON, N. J., July 10.—Governor Edge today renamed Louis A. Rechat of Jersey City, as a member of the State Board of Optometrists and John B. Nevin, of Upper Merion, to the Board of Public Accounts.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

The Governor also selected the members of the commission to investigate the proposed consolidation of the Passaic Valley district sewage and drainage commission with the board of water supply commission.

U.S. CAPTAIN FOILS U-BOAT'S OFFICERS

Orleans Skipper, Whose Head Kaiser Sought, Escapes From Ship

VESSEL WAS TORPEDOED

By Agency Radio PARIS, July 10. A graphic study of the destruction of the armed United States steamship Orleans by a German submarine, revealing for the first time that the Kaiser had a price of 25,000 marks upon the head of Captain Allen Tucker, was told here today by survivors who have just arrived.

The Orleans, together with her sister ship, the Robb, were the first armed American freighters to leave New York after Germany declared her ruthless submarine war and this evidently enraged the Kaiser.

On the night of July 3 the Orleans was suddenly attacked without warning. The first seamen knew there was a tremendous explosion and a geyser of water drenched the vessel.

Suddenly it was discovered that Captain Tucker and the first officer were missing and were still aboard the Orleans. The torpedo had torn an enormous gap in the hull and the vessel was sinking fast.

The Orleans, together with her sister ship, the Robb, were the first armed American freighters to leave New York after Germany declared her ruthless submarine war and this evidently enraged the Kaiser.

On the night of July 3 the Orleans was suddenly attacked without warning. The first seamen knew there was a tremendous explosion and a geyser of water drenched the vessel.

Suddenly it was discovered that Captain Tucker and the first officer were missing and were still aboard the Orleans. The torpedo had torn an enormous gap in the hull and the vessel was sinking fast.

The Orleans, together with her sister ship, the Robb, were the first armed American freighters to leave New York after Germany declared her ruthless submarine war and this evidently enraged the Kaiser.

On the night of July 3 the Orleans was suddenly attacked without warning. The first seamen knew there was a tremendous explosion and a geyser of water drenched the vessel.

Suddenly it was discovered that Captain Tucker and the first officer were missing and were still aboard the Orleans. The torpedo had torn an enormous gap in the hull and the vessel was sinking fast.

The Orleans, together with her sister ship, the Robb, were the first armed American freighters to leave New York after Germany declared her ruthless submarine war and this evidently enraged the Kaiser.

On the night of July 3 the Orleans was suddenly attacked without warning. The first seamen knew there was a tremendous explosion and a geyser of water drenched the vessel.

Suddenly it was discovered that Captain Tucker and the first officer were missing and were still aboard the Orleans. The torpedo had torn an enormous gap in the hull and the vessel was sinking fast.

The Orleans, together with her sister ship, the Robb, were the first armed American freighters to leave New York after Germany declared her ruthless submarine war and this evidently enraged the Kaiser.

On the night of July 3 the Orleans was suddenly attacked without warning. The first seamen knew there was a tremendous explosion and a geyser of water drenched the vessel.

Suddenly it was discovered that Captain Tucker and the first officer were missing and were still aboard the Orleans. The torpedo had torn an enormous gap in the hull and the vessel was sinking fast.

The Orleans, together with her sister ship, the Robb, were the first armed American freighters to leave New York after Germany declared her ruthless submarine war and this evidently enraged the Kaiser.

On the night of July 3 the Orleans was suddenly attacked without warning. The first seamen knew there was a tremendous explosion and a geyser of water drenched the vessel.

Suddenly it was discovered that Captain Tucker and the first officer were missing and were still aboard the Orleans. The torpedo had torn an enormous gap in the hull and the vessel was sinking fast.

The Orleans, together with her sister ship, the Robb, were the first armed American freighters to leave New York after Germany declared her ruthless submarine war and this evidently enraged the Kaiser.

On the night of July 3 the Orleans was suddenly attacked without warning. The first seamen knew there was a tremendous explosion and a geyser of water drenched the vessel.

Suddenly it was discovered that Captain Tucker and the first officer were missing and were still aboard the Orleans. The torpedo had torn an enormous gap in the hull and the vessel was sinking fast.

The Orleans, together with her sister ship, the Robb, were the first armed American freighters to leave New York after Germany declared her ruthless submarine war and this evidently enraged the Kaiser.

On the night of July 3 the Orleans was suddenly attacked without warning. The first seamen knew there was a tremendous explosion and a geyser of water drenched the vessel.

Suddenly it was discovered that Captain Tucker and the first officer were missing and were still aboard the Orleans. The torpedo had torn an enormous gap in the hull and the vessel was sinking fast.

The Orleans, together with her sister ship, the Robb, were the first armed American freighters to leave New York after Germany declared her ruthless submarine war and this evidently enraged the Kaiser.

On the night of July 3 the Orleans was suddenly attacked without warning. The first seamen knew there was a tremendous explosion and a geyser of water drenched the vessel.

Suddenly it was discovered that Captain Tucker and the first officer were missing and were still aboard the Orleans. The torpedo had torn an enormous gap in the hull and the vessel was sinking fast.

The Orleans, together with her sister ship, the Robb, were the first armed American freighters to leave New York after Germany declared her ruthless submarine war and this evidently enraged the Kaiser.

FRIER TELLS HOW HE SHELLED ESSEN

France's Latest Air Hero Describes Daring Raid on Krupp Works

TRIP TOOK SEVEN HOURS

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, July 10. France's latest aerial hero is a territorial, a stout, substantial individual thirty-eight years of age, formerly a prosaic hardware merchant. He is Sergeant Galois. The feat which brought him fame was his flight to Essen, center of Germany's great Krupp works, and bombardment of that industrial city.

There could be no more apt illustration of the military value of France's territorial—the man originally discarded for military service because of age—than Sergeant Galois. Called from his store at the start of the war, Galois was mobilized into the dragons and given charge of a hospital for sick horses. He was dissatisfied. He wanted a more belligerent job. So he pleaded for a chance to enter the aviation corps. French officers flatly rejected him because he was "too old."

It was Galois's own idea to bombard the Krupp works. He volunteered for the flight with three other men. The army officials approved the scheme as a reprisal against German raids.

The four aviators started Friday night. "We flew a third of the way across France in order to reach a favorable starting point," Galois said today. "We started at 9:15 Friday evening, and crossed the German lines at an altitude of 600 feet, under heavy bombardment. I first sighted Metz, then Thionville. At the latter place we saw a searchlight beam directed at us. He was undoubtedly one of the Frenchmen going to bombard Treves. Owing to the fog I lost my way shortly afterward and after a long search I again in the fog, but finally I saw the flash of moonbeams on water and knew it was the Rhine. I followed this until I reached Coblenz, which appeared illuminated like a triangle. From there north the flight was easier, because my route was endlessly illuminated by fires of hundreds and hundreds of factories and furnaces. The latter's fires were often a green, blue or white in intensity of their hurry to produce German military supplies. I went from Coblenz to Bonn, Cologne, and Dusseldorf, then headed eastward, firing flaming factories and furnaces constantly increasing in number. Then I came to Essen. It was unmistakable in its countless furnaces turning night into day and making it impossible for me even to see the flashes of guns which were constantly aimed at me. I was obliged to ascend to 6000 feet there and, selecting the point where the furnaces seemed densest, I dropped my ten bombs and headed for home via the Rhine and the Moselle.

"I got back just seven hours after starting," Galois said he drank "alcoholic coffee" and ate some sandwiches and cigarettes during his flight. He landed almost blind from the pressure of the wind on his eyes, having lost his goggles early in the flight.

One of the bombs which was started out with Galois has not yet returned. He was with a squadron of three which got lost in the fog and stopped to bombard Treves.

LONDON, July 10.—Berlin's official report on the recent air raid upon Essen, the home of the Krupp plant, says that only two bomb holes were found. Six other bombs, it is declared, smashed windows in a village twenty-five miles from Essen. Bombs also were dropped in the villages of Speescher, Ehrang and Obermelm, where a child was killed, and on Neunkirchen, where a man was killed; and on a suburb of Diedenhofen, where a family of three were killed, and on Treves, where the Franciscan Monastery was set on fire.

One airman who attacked Treves was brought down near the Saar. It is announced that another pilot was destroyed and its pilot made prisoner. The report concludes: "For what reason the open and militarily unimportant town of Treves was bombed is incomprehensible."

Wholesale Clearance of WOMEN'S SUMMER PUMPS and OXFORDS

All $3, $4, $5, $6 and $8 Values $1.90 $2.40 $2.90 $3.90

TOMORROW MORNING, Wednesday, July 11th, is the first day. All summer pumps and oxfords are going to be sold at prices that are less than wholesale. Prices that wouldn't cover the cost of manufacturing today. All brand new styles destroyed and its pilot made prisoner. The report concludes: "For what reason the open and militarily unimportant town of Treves was bombed is incomprehensible."

ROYAL BOOT SHOP FOR WOMEN

1208-10 Chestnut St. 2nd Floor Saves $2

The New Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph

Hearing this new Edison wonder in a darkened room, it is impossible to tell that it is not the artist in person. Even when the artist sings in broad daylight side-by-side with the Edison Re-Creation of the same artist's voice no difference can be detected. We will gladly send you newspaper clippings from all over the country where this daring test has been made.

If you have not heard the Edison Diamond Disc a delightful surprise awaits you. Concerts every day. Moderate terms. Ludwig Piano Co., 1103 Chestnut

WILMINGTON RESTAURANT MAN ROBBED BY BANDIT

Hit With Blackjack and Forced to Give Up Cash at Point of Pistol

WILMINGTON, July 10.—Armed to the teeth and wearing a Wild West atmosphere, a bandit swooped down on Wilmington, Pa., at 1 and 2 o'clock this morning and in a few moments robbed the dining room of James Arthas's restaurant, 221 West Fifth street, after murdering assaulting the proprietor. He got away with his plunder about $145 but it is believed he is hiding in the city and his capture is looked for.

About 1:45 o'clock, when Arthas was alone in the place, a youthful stranger entered and ordered sandwiches. When the stranger had finished his meal, Arthas followed him to the door and was preparing to leave the place, when a rough-looking fellow asked Arthas to go to the kitchen in order to fry eggs. Arthas admitted the man and began to fry eggs behind the counter, when he was nearly felled by a blow from a blackjack.

Arthas faced about when the stranger struck him in the face, saying: "Stand up, you — open that cash register. I want the money." Arthas had over $100 in the register, but he was too late for

TO THE FOOD ADMINISTRATOR, WASHINGTON, D. C.

I am glad to join you in the service of food conservation for our nation and I hereby accept membership in the United States Food Administration, pledging myself to carry out the directions and advice of the Food Administrator in the conduct of my household, in so far as my circumstances permit.

Name Address Number in Household Do you employ a cook? Occupation of Breadwinner

Will you take part in authorized neighborhood movements for food conservation?

There are no fees or dues to be paid. The Food Administration wishes to have as members all of those actually handling food in the home.

DIRECTIONS Deliver or mail this slip to the Food Supply Department, 1426 South Penn Square, Philadelphia, and you will receive FREE your first instructions and a household tag to be hung in your window. Upon receipt of ten cents with your pledge card and a return addressed envelope, the official button of the Administration and, if desired, the shield insignia of the Food Administration will also be sent you.

PURE FRESH PAINT Believe Me

We will furnish you a complete estimate of necessary painting without obligating you in the least. Simply write or phone.

Kuehnle PAINTER 11 S. 16th St. Phone 993

Leader Water Supply System

Absolutely automatic. Requires mighty little attention. Lasts a lifetime. Pumps 1000 gallons for seven cents.

Keystone Supply & Mfg. Co. Plumbing and Heating Supplies 917-949 N. NINTH ST. PHILADELPHIA, PA.