

1200 I. W. W. MEN REACH COLUMBUS

Exiles From Bisbee Arrive at Border Town—Under Guard of U. S. Soldiers

SPENT NIGHT IN DESERT

Fed on Government Rations; Industrialists Remained Quiet in Camp

I. W. W. Men's Doings in Western States

COLUMBUS, N. M. — Departed 1200 agitators arrived here. Now under guard of United States soldiers. Spokane, Wash.—Governors Lister, of Washington, and Alexander, of Idaho, meet and plan united action against I. W. W. Leadville, Col.—Mine strike begins with citizens hostile to 900 Austrians among strikers. Flat River, Mo.—Americans kill one and wound fifty in driving out foreign laborers. Duluth, Minn.—Federal Grand Jury indicts 113 persons, including many I. W. W., for failing to register for draft. Seattle, Wash.—United States District Attorney Cline says Germans influencing I. W. W. will be interned. Walla Walla, Wash.—State troops seize I. W. W. hall.

COLUMBUS, N. M., July 14. The 1200 Industrial Workers of the World driven out of Bisbee, Ariz., arrived here today from Hermans, N. M., and were interned under guard of United States soldiers.

The I. W. W. "outcasts" spent last night camped in the desert near Hermans, N. M., in charge of Sheriff Simpson, of Luna County. They became a national problem when Governor Lindsay announced he had put the question of their disposition up to the Federal Government.

There was no disorder at the camp. Following the arrival of a supply of food, sent from El Paso at the order of General Bell, the industrialists had their first meal in thirty-six hours. The food was rationed out among them as in a military camp. Answering an appeal by Sheriff Simpson, in which he promised them protection while under his jurisdiction, the men promised there should be no disorder and appointed "policemen" from among their number to patrol the camp.

W. Cleary, a Bisbee lawyer, has been counseling the deported men to make the best of the situation.

Property owners, Liberty Bond subscribers and men who have registered for the draft are among us here, said Cleary. "There were 2200 men in the mob that deported us, and they were armed with machine guns as well. Among the demands of the men when they struck was one for a $5 wage, $6 not having any more purchasing power than $4.50 had under the miners' revolt and copper was selling at fifteen cents.

"When they started to deport us, each man was forced to walk between a kantele and a man to the train. He was asked if he was willing to return to work. If he said 'yes' he was turned loose and allowed to mingle with the armed guards."

PORTLAND, Ore., July 14. Spanish-American war veterans will probably do much toward curbing I. W. W. activities in the Northwest.

These veterans today are preparing to organize to keep the peace against the agitators. Adjutant General White, of Oregon, said more than 100 men had already enlisted in a local unit being formed to suppress I. W. W. demonstrations. The battalion will be raised to 300.

Only men of previous military experience are in the battalion. Farmers in the Yakima Valley throughout eastern Washington and Oregon are armed. Prepared to resist the I. W. W. Mayor Baker, of Portland, United States Attorney Beasman and county authorities are meeting here, laying plans to meet a threatened invasion of I. W. W. men from the North.

"They'll get hell from us if they come down here," said one official. State Fire Marshal Walls recommended to the Governor that troops be stationed throughout eastern Oregon to protect grain fields and that stock piles be established where the I. W. W. men "can be compelled to work industriously."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14. A sweeping investigation by Department of Justice officials into the activities of the I. W. W. in California was begun today in an effort to determine whether a conspiracy exists among the members of the organization to destroy crops.

One I. W. W. leader, whose name has not been divulged, has already been arrested. Assistant United States District Attorney Ornaum, in charge of the investigation, declared today that should the probe show a conspiracy the guilty persons can be prosecuted for treason in aiding the enemy during the period of the war.

The county authorities of Alameda, Yolo and Stanislaus are fearful that grain fields there will be set afire and have asked the Government to prevent damage. Local I. W. W. leaders telegraphed President Wilson, urging a Federal investigation of the strikes, and received a message from the President Secretary Tamm, declaring the President is taking every step possible to safeguard rights and maintain law and order.

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 14. The I. W. W. menace in Arizona, with 2000 idle in the mines and smelters, has grown out of control of any authority save that of the Federal Government in the opinion of Governor Campbell. An yet there is no indication of any Government aid.

Speaking before the Rotary Club the Governor told his audience that he feared a "possible tragedy" would grow out of the dangerous situation. The Loyalty League, which deported the I. W. W. from Bisbee and Jerome and which has spread here and to Globe, Miami, Ajo, Douglas and Lancaster, will act in conjunction with the Rifle Club and reserve and the city police.

FEAR ANOTHER ATTACK ON FOREIGN WORKMEN

FLAT RIVER, Mo., July 14. Fearing another outbreak tonight of the mob which last night attacked foreign laborers, killing one and injuring more than thirty, Sheriff J. A. Adams appealed to Governor Gardner for troops. The mines opened again today. Many of the 1,000 foreigners here have left town. An I. W. W. plot is suspected.

Upstate Bus Lines Win in Court. Motor omnibus lines running from St. Clair, Pa., to Pottsville and other Schuylkill County towns have won their fight against street railway lines operating in the same territory by a decision of Judge Trexler, of the Superior Court. The Union Traction Company, the St. Clair and Pottsville Traction Company and other lines had appealed from the decision of the State Public Service Commission, which granted a certificate of convenience to the omnibus lines, permitting it to operate.

ACTRESS BRIDE CHOICE OF S. EMLER CARPENTER

Divorce Decree Recently Obtained by Wife, Who Was Miss Nellie Crouse

Though the divorce of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Emler Carpenter was so recently granted that their names still appear together in the social register, the announcement came from New York today of the approaching marriage of Samuel Emler Carpenter to Miss Katherine La Salle, an actress, who has the leading role in "The Thirteenth Chair," now running in New York.

Mr. Carpenter is a son of the late Emler Newbold Carpenter and Mrs. Carpenter, who is living at present in Ridgefield, Conn. He is well remembered in this city, where he lived for many years until his marriage to Miss Nellie J. Crouse. He was engaged to marry Miss Agnes Morgan, now Mrs. William Gray Warden, but the engagement was broken by Miss Morgan several years before her marriage and Mr. Carpenter's marriage to Miss Crouse.

Mr. Carpenter's first wife instituted proceedings against him in August last year, demanding that his trust estate be attached to the amount of $12,000 per annum for the support of their four children. Young Samuel Emler Carpenter, Jr., the only son, resided with the Harvard Club in France. Mrs. Carpenter and her three daughters are at present at their home 24 South Twenty-first street in this city, before a decree to their former home in North-east Harbor. The divorce was granted about three months ago.

Mr. Carpenter and Miss La Salle will be married on Monday afternoon in the Church of the Holy Communion, New York.

Miss La Salle will be given in marriage by her cousin, Walter Greer Benton, and attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy La Salle. Invitations have been issued only to a few intimate friends. A motor trip will follow after which Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter will return to their home with Mr. Emler Newbold Carpenter, Mr. Carpenter's mother, in Ridgefield, Conn.

Miss La Salle met Mr. Carpenter a year ago in New York in the Avenue St. Sell in Madeleine Schaefer, of New Rochelle. Although she has been on the stage six years Mr. Carpenter never had seen her in the theatre until after their meeting.

Miss La Salle is the daughter of Mrs. Charles O. La Salle, of No. 512 West 115th street, and the niece of George Benton, of the Bankers' Trust Company. She has played a number of prominent roles in Broadway. She was the leading woman for John Barrymore in "Kick in," appeared with Edmund Rice in "The Master Mind," and a leading role with John Mason in "Big Jim Garrity," and appeared with Fred Niblo throughout the New York engagement of "Hit the Trail Holiday." She originated the part of Helen in "The Thirteenth Chair," last autumn and has continued in it. When she gives up the part tomorrow night she will be succeeded by Miss Clara Hill.

HOOVER'S FOOD ARMY 210,000 STRONG TODAY

Will Be Much Greater When All Cards Collected Are Gathered Up on Monday

The Hoover army in Philadelphia marched 210,000 strong today. Each of these recruits has signed the pledge that promises to abide by what Herbert C. Hoover, United States food administrator, decides is best for the American housewife. These figures do not represent a total or a completed enrollment of the city's women. The number of recruits expected in three of the police stations the work of distributing the food cards is not yet completed and collections will not start until Monday. The cards will be turned in to the headquarters of the Mayor's Food Commission until Monday, when a general collection will be made by the motor messengers who made the first "pick-up" tours of station houses yesterday.

The Twenty-ninth District at Sixty-first and Thompson streets to date has led the entire city in gathering in Hoover recruits. Thirty thousand were reported signed up today, with only 400 slackers to be followed up by the women workers mobilized by Mrs. Henry D. Jumbo, vice chairman of the State Women's Committee of the Council of National Defense.

Today Miss Erna Grasmuck and her band of sixteen Normal School girls were the only mislions who went forth to convince the slacker that the thing to do is line up with Hoover. This hand worked in the Twelfth Ward. Other hands will take up the work in the other wards Tuesday after final collections have been made by the police.

MOTOR KILLS MAN IN WILMINGTON; DRIVER HELD

Berwick Scene of Motor Crash in Which Five Are Injured

WILMINGTON, Del., July 14.—Michael McDonough, fifty-five years old, of 506 West Fourth street, was struck and fatally injured by an automobile at Eighteenth and Market streets. The machine is owned by T. W. Wilson, vice president and general manager of the Wilmington and Philadelphia Traction Company, and was operated by his chauffeur, Louis Loeb, twenty-four years old, who later surrendered to the police and was charged with manslaughter, on which charge he will be arraigned in court today.

McDonough was crossing the street when run down. His skull was fractured and he died in the ambulance while on the way to the Delaware Hospital.

BERWICK, Pa., July 14.—Five Berwick young men were badly injured here and the guard track in which they were riding was demolished when the truck struck a telephone pole while going at high speed. The injured are: William Cain, internal injuries; Bruce Smith, lacerations; Frank Wright, bruises; Williams Weaver and Dorsey Girtz, contusions.

NEW STEAMSHIP MAKES TRIAL TRIP DOWN THE BAY

Vessel Just Completed at Cramps Can Carry 11,000 Tons of Oil in Bulk

A trial trip down the bay was made today by the new steamship William Green, one of the largest tank steamships in the oil industry, and which had been completed by the Cramp Shipbuilding Company for the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company. The trial trip was made in command of Captain Melick, formerly chief officer of the steamship C. A. Canfield. The William Green has a carrying capacity of 11,000 tons of oil in bulk. She has two complete steel decks from bow to stern, with a raised forecastle, bridge and quarter deck.

COLLECT CARDS OF WOMEN RECRUITS

Hundreds of pounds of registration cards for the Hoover food-saving army of Philadelphia are being collected in this city. The large number of registrations clearly indicates the patriotism of Quaker City women. The picture shows some of the loyal workers of the Motor Messenger Service which makes the collections. They are (from left to right) E. M. Lutzner, collector; Miss Madeline Asbury, lieutenant in charge of Motor Messenger Service, and Policeman Hanlon, of the Eleventh and Winter streets police station.

TROOP QUARTERS SHOW PROGRESS AT ADMIRAL

Lumber and Workmen Plentiful for Making Homes for Soldier Boys

BALTIMORE, Md., July 14. The flow of lumber into the camp at Admiral Anne Arundel County, where troop quarters are now being constructed, appears to be the harbinger of the progress of the building and the spirits of the contractors are measured. Every other kind of supplies is well taken care of, there are plenty of carpenters on hand, and so the whole day's work progresses in proportion to the number of freight cars filled with lumber which are shunted on to the Admiral sidings. Yesterday forty cars, the high mark so far, were received. The contractors estimate that by next week they will be able to dispose of 150 cars each day. Whether they can secure that amount is another question.

The mess halls will not be distinct from the barracks. They will be located on the first floor of each of the big buildings that are to house the soldiers, including the drafted men from Pennsylvania quarters, who will cook and serve their own food. As fast as the buildings go up they are to be occupied by the carpenters and other skilled workmen now at the camp. More than 1400 men are in the employ of contractors at the camp. The work of these men already are living and taking their meals on the camp grounds.

Major Proctor's refusal to grant concessions to the strikers, and his intimation that all civilian enterprises might be kept off the site of the cantonment proper, was strengthened by a Washington dispatch which indicated that, outside of allowances for the Young Men's Christian Association and similar organizations, no enterprises would be allowed on the camp grounds proper.

CAMDEN HAS $6000 FIRE

Spontaneous Combustion Cause of Blaze in Lampblack Factory

Fire caused by spontaneous combustion caused $6000 damage in the lampblack factory of Wilkes, Martin & Wilkes, Cooper and River streets, Camden, early today. The fire was discovered by a watchman shortly after midnight. A second fire alarm was sent in after the first firemen arrived and saw the size of the blaze. The fire originated in the black chambers on the top floor of the two three-story buildings. The interior of the chamber and a good deal of the roofs were destroyed.

WARN AGAINST ARSON

Safety Committee Asks Aids to Guard Against Destruction of Foodstuffs. Local committees of the public safety committee have been warned to be on guard against destruction of food supplies by incendiary or accidental fires. The warning reads: "The harvesting of crops will, in a short time, fill the granaries to overflowing, and the need of unusual vigilance is apparent to prevent large losses through either accident or attempts at arson."

CENSUS FOR DRAFT ROUSES PROTESTS

Nation-Wide Objections Against Quotas Assigned by War Department

WANT FIGURES LOWERED

WASHINGTON, July 14. Ten million American youths must wait until the end of next week before they know their fate in the draft lottery.

Today but 3607 local district boards, out of a total of 4554, had reported their organization. This leaves 947 local boards yet to be organized before the draft can be made, and Provost Marshal General Crowder holds out no hopes that the selection can be made until the end of next week at the very earliest. It is even possible, in the light of difficulties being experienced in some of the larger cities, that the actual drafting may have to go over another week.

WASHINGTON, July 14. Storms of protest are gathering in every section of the country today against the Census Bureau "paper population" estimates used in apportioning the draft toll of men. They are causing uneasiness here.

The War Department is being bombarded with telegrams from indignant citizens demanding their population estimates be revised or corrected. Other cities content themselves with terming the figures "outrageous."

From the figures announced by the Census Bureau, the quota of men that each city and county must furnish to the draft army is being computed. The higher the population the heavier the burdens the city must bear in fitting the army ranks. Hence the outcry.

Some of the Middle Western cities cannot see why they should be penalized because they secured an unusually heavy registration. In announcing the estimates, the Census Bureau made it plain that the figures were for "solidly in the draft"; and that they were based largely upon registration figures and statistics of abnormal shift in population due to war industries.

But Detroit, Mich., fails to see why its population estimate of 530,000, made by the same bureau just before registration, should be boosted to 1,521,942 for the draft. At the time of registration the bureau asserted that the estimates for registration were liberal.

Other boasts in estimates hit the following cities hard: Chicago boosted from 3,547,561 to 3,639,377 for the draft quotas; New York, 5,596,044 to 6,591,185; Cleveland 690,827 to 1,125,140; St. Louis, 788,629 to 827,264 and San Francisco, city and county, 471,923 to 550,232.

One of the most bitter protests came from Canton, O. That city was raised from 62,366 to 177,586 for the draft. "Never in our history have we aspired to more than 75,000 inhabitants," said telegrams from there.

In some of the coast cities and counties where the earlier estimates, which were lowered proportionately. For instance, Portland, Ore., is cut from 308,359 to 204,592. Denver also gets a cut from 268,429 to 196,620.

Many of the cities are inquiring why the quotas were not based in a "common-sense" way upon the actual registration. "America's drafted army cannot be called to the colors for at least two months. War Department officials today realize for the first time how stupendous a task will be that of selecting the 687,000 men who will go to make the first drafted army. There is every indication today that it will be at least a month and probably six weeks before every local district has assigned its quota. This work, which is under the supervision of the Governors of the several States, is most complex and involving.

One of the problems which will arise will be the matter of determining the populations of the exemption districts. In large cities the exemption districts are not based upon ward or precinct divisions entirely, and this will involve a juggling of census figures and

TEUTON ENVOY DEFIES ARGENTINE PRESIDENT

Calls Ships of Republic "Rat Traps"—No Reply to Ultimatum by Berlin

By CHARLES P. STEWART. Special Cable Reporter of the United Press and Evening Ledger. BERLIN, Aug. 14. The German Minister to Argentina sternly referred to Argentine ships which have been lost through torpedoing by German submarines as "rat traps." This became known today when it was stated on high authority that the break with Germany, which has long been threatening, is now only a matter of hours. Formal severance of relations with Berlin was expected at any time.

The German Minister was reported to have made his remark to President Irigoyen in the course of a long conference. Argentina so far has failed to receive any reply from Berlin on its ultimatum that there must be immediate settlement of damages for the sunken Argentine ships and definite promise of future immunity of Argentine shipping.

CHILD PARALYSIS AGAIN EPIDEMIC IN LANCASTER

Cases in County Now Under Observation of the State Department of Health

LANCASTER, Pa., July 14.—Infantile paralysis, which was epidemic last summer in Lancaster city and county, has broken out again in the county and the cases are now under observation of the State health authorities. One victim is a young son of Abram and Elizabeth, of Upper Leacock. Leah and Jacob Speicher, twins, children of John Speicher, East Lampeter, are the first where two cases existed in one family. A fourth case is David Hertzler, son of Samuel Hertzler, near Lancaster. All are Amish.

a sitting out of inhabitants in each exemption district. There also arises the serious question of determining the credits to which each exemption district is entitled. This work will mean that the War Department will have to prepare long lists of men enlisted in either the National Guard or the regular army since April 2. These enlistments will then have to be arranged according to residence and finally divided according to the exemption districts. This work alone will mean several weeks of labor by large staffs of clerks.

When the quotas are finally determined they will come the work of allowing exemptions and discharges. Care and fairness have been made the watchwords for exemption boards, and this means that there will be no hasty hearings of claims, and that every claim must be substantiated. When affidavits are presented with claims for exemptions these affidavits will have to be investigated. All of this will entail considerable time.

PEACEMAKER RECEIVES BULLET IN ABDOMEN

Woman Attempt to Mediate in Jealous Row and Now in Critical Condition

NORRISTOWN, Pa., July 14.—A victim of jealousy and a peacemaker, Mrs. Annie Reese, of Norristown, is in a critical condition at Charity Hospital, Norristown, shot in the abdomen, and Dennis Brennan, of Bridgeport, and George Widger, of Coatesville, have been committed to the Norristown jail without bail to await the result of the woman's injuries.

According to information obtained by the police, Brennan was jealous of the woman, who is forty-five years old. Last night he found her in company with Widger on a lot along the Chester Valley Railroad in Bridgeport. Brennan objected to the attention shown by Widger to the woman, and Widger drew a revolver, which was wrested from him by the woman as a peacemaker. Brennan obtained possession of the weapon and shot the woman. In Magistrate Coates's office in Bridgeport, Brennan exclaimed, looking at Widger: "I'm sorry I didn't put it into you instead of her."

At the hospital, Mrs. Reese admitted that Brennan shot her.

CABLE BREAKS, KILLS FOREMAN

Snaps in Pulling Derailed Car on Track and Hits Man

The breaking of a cable used to pull back on the tracks a derailed car caused the death of James Butler, sixty-nine years old, a wrecking foreman on the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad, early today. Butler, who lived at 430 North Seventh street, Camden, was directing workmen who were replacing a derailed car on the tracks in the yard at Second and Middle streets, Camden. A steel cable was attached to a locomotive and made fast to the derailed car. The cable broke under the strain and snapped a heavy link against Butler's head. He died instantly. Coroner Pratt, of Camden, began an investigation.

"CUT-UP" FROLIC HAS FATAL TERMINATION

Youth Collapses in Scuffling Bout and Two Companions Are Missing

Search is being made today for two companions of James Aloysius Cullen, who died after he had collapsed on a south-bound Frankford avenue car late yesterday afternoon during a "cutting-up" scuffling match by the trio. Cullen was fifteen years old and lived at 2936 Ruth street. Death, according to physicians, was due to strangulation of the heart.

Cullen died in the drug store of Dr. M. G. Schuermann, at Kensington avenue and Venango street, where the two companions carried him after he became unconscious on the car. When the two explained that Cullen was ill, Dr. George Pirth, of 1802 East Schiller street, was called. The druggist and the doctor were unable to revive the youth.

The companions disappeared. District Detective Aty, of the Front and Westmoreland streets station, and Detective Beishaw, of the murder squad, were detailed on the case. They found on the dead youth a pay envelope containing $4.90 issued by Louis Walther, a cloth manufacturer of Kensington and Torresdale avenues.
