TRENTON, July 17.

New Jersey communities are protesting against having to bear the burden of fur-nishing men for the draft army to commen-sate for the exemptions of allens of draft age in other communities. Governor Edge oday wired Provost Marshal General Crow der as follows:

"Examination of registration cards shows aliens ineligible for service registered in certain communities equal to 57 per cent of whole number registered for such communi-ties. Such percentages distribute selections heavily on remaining citizens, requiring in instances named more than double the n ber of selections to be made from identical populations without allens.

Another telegram said: "There is no doubt now that the peace forces of the Vatican were behind Dr. Mathias Erzberger in the action he took last week in the main committee of the Reichstag and that the Pope has, for some time, interested himself in the matter." Conferences which Chancellor Michaelis, Field Marshal Hindenburg, General Luden-dorff and other military chiefs have been holding with Reichstag majority leaders are said in Berlin dispatches to have been unfruitful.

The Heichstag leaders, it was declared, adhere to their insistence on a pledge of Germany's war aims to the "no annexaions" principle. One of the latest moves on the part of

A Story of Great Britain's Anti-Submarine Fight Described in Sunday's Public Ledger by Isaac F. Marcosson

"The biggest surprise and at the same time the biggest problem of the war is the submarine," says Isaac F. Marcosson.

In next Sunday's Public Ledger Mr. Marcosson vividly describes the game fight Great Britain is putting up against the submarine, the desperate work in which her patrol fleet is engaged, and how small the prospect of the Kaiser ever bringing England to her knees.

And then to add to an already interesting story, he gives some of the deceptions the Germans use in luring their victims to destruction. Read his article in next
