

GENERAL VIEW OF CAMP JOHN WANAMAKER

Many of Philadelphia's young sons, who have given up their usual vocations to help make the world safe for mankind by trouncing the Kaiser, are living under the canvas in this pretty tent city near Old York road.

SHARON HILL GETS NEW STATION

Citizens of the pretty little town of Sharon Hill, Delaware County, are justly proud of the new station being built on the trolley extension to that place. On the right is a view of the tracks nearing completion.

PUTTING SOME NEW ONES OVER
One of the best amateur baseball pitchers in Philadelphia is this young man. He is Apau, of Lit Brothers' nine.

ON GUARD AT SEWELL'S POINT

Citizens of Cape May, N. J., are quite proud of the sailor boys Uncle Sam is training at one end of the cape, where there used to be lots of...

JOHNNY KILBANE ROMPS WITH THE KIDDIES

The featherweight champion of the world finds lots of amusement playing with his young admirers at Leiperville, Pa., where he is training for his bout to morrow night at Shibe Park with Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion.

THE WAY SOME CHILDREN SLEEP THESE HOT NIGHTS

This picture could easily be duplicated scores of times these summer nights if the photographer desired to get more like it. In the congested districts of the big city it is always cooler in the narrow alleyways between the houses than inside the buildings.

HE DIDN'T WANT HIS PICTURE "TOOK"

This picture was not "taken" in the highlands of Scotland, but at the Robin Hood Golf Club, at Ocean City, N. J. The Society of this city has a club...