

SUMMON GUARDS FROM 20 STATES

Official Call for Troops Will Be Issued by U. S. Tomorrow

ASSIGNMENTS ARE MADE

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The United States tomorrow will call out its second group of national guardsmen for intensive training.

Twenty states, including New England, a fringe of the old south, part of the north-west and others will respond. The list includes:

Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Illinois, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

The guards will be held at home armories at various points in North and South Jersey. At the southern tented camps are ready. As there is still much construction work, building of wooden kitchens, mess halls and the like to be done, some of the troops at least will not head south for a month.

Some of the first-called guardsmen have not moved, though the War Department said today that movement probably would start next week, as some of the camps are rapidly nearing construction.

Assignment of the second group to camps will be as follows:

Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut to Charlotte, N. C.; New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia and Virginia, to Annapolis, Md.; North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee to Greenville, S. C.; Illinois to Houston, Texas; Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Washington and Oregon to Palo Alto, Cal.

Sufficient supplies will be ready for the men by the time they reach camp. At present the army and guard are using supplies about as rapidly as furnished, but men in charge of the quartermaster work said today there need be no concern about having all essential food and equipment ready.

The question of furnishing higher officials to the National Guard is still in abeyance. Sixteen major generals and sixty-two brigadier generals are needed, and most of these will be drawn from the present organizations, though in a few isolated cases it is likely commanding officers may be forced out.

The department has decreed that, as a general rule, it will not assign any regular army officer to a position in the guard lower than brigadier. There will be few such promotions outside the guard ranks, however.

INSPECTING KIDDIES' WAR GARDENS

A four-day inspection tour of the sixty-five acre of gardens cultivated by pupils of Philadelphia schools was begun today by Miss Caro Miller, head of the department of school gardens. She is shown in the picture while visiting the garden of Edgar Allen Poe School, in South Philadelphia. Beside her is Clarence S. Kates. The other man is Charles W. Baldwin, superintendent of the Philadelphia City Market.

EVERYTHING PREPARED FOR JERSEY GUARDSMEN

Sea Girt Expectant on Eve of Annual Encampment of State Troops

STATE CAMP, SEA GIRT, July 24.—A final checking up on the preparations for the incoming here tomorrow of approximately 4500 State troops for the annual encampment will show virtually every detail worked out to a nicety.

Adjutant General Charles W. Barber, who is the senior officer of the State organization subject to the call of the War Department, will be in command of the troops, which will include the Third Regiment of Infantry of Camden, the First Squadron Cavalry of Newark, the First Regiment of Field Artillery with batteries at various points in North and South Jersey, the Divisional Headquarters Troop of Newark, the First Ambulance Company of Red Bank, the Field Hospital (entirely composed of the 100th Field Hospital) at Philadelphia, and the First Regiment of Coast Artillery. Simultaneously with his assumption of command, a new headquarters staff for the First Brigade of New Jersey will be created. General Barber has selected Major Harry W. D. Moor, of Englewood, as the adjutant of the First Brigade, for the same post on his staff. His two aids will be Captain Henry Stevens, of Montclair, and his son, Russell Barber, of Woodbury, whom he is appointing in civil life.

Mustering officers from the regular army arrived here last yesterday and are prepared to start work on the examinations of the men and their muster in as rapidly as the first units arrive on Wednesday.

Throughout the day yesterday a detail of men connected with the Quartermaster's Corps hustled provisions from a long line of freight cars and twice during the day the supplies were taken away and fresh cars run up to the railroad sheds.

"The results will come rapidly if in every community," says the statement, "the people will bring pressure to bear on the merchants to place their goods on the shelves; nor must the pressure and with the merchants—the producers of the country must come into line and work for the general good, otherwise real conservation will be impossible.

"The public must be assured all through these economy campaigns that the Government and the public alike are not to be benefited derived from the elimination of waste and luxuries. They must know that profiteering has been abolished; they must have assurance that their suspicions that certain merchants are cashing in on the patriotic devotion of their customers is unfounded.

Many U. S. Officers Called Home

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The Porto Rican regiment has been transferred to Panama. Most of the American officers of the Philippine army are being replaced by reserve officers already in the Philippines.

Generous commendation of the project has been undertaken by Miss Margretta Ford of South Orange, daughter of Federal Trade Commissioner John Franklin Ford, has been expressed by the officers here.

Mrs. Ford's plan is to establish a recreation center for the soldiers and their friends. It will in no way interfere with the good work of the Y. M. C. A.

Lieutenant Colonel Frederick S. Schaeffer, surgeon general, announced yesterday that Major Donald Miner, of Jersey City, had been assigned as the senior medical officer of the 100th Field Hospital, and that Captain Watson A. Dodson, the ranking officer of the First Battalion, will remain as such.

PALMER AND McCORMICK MAY QUIT DRAFT FORCE

Names Sent by Governor to President for Membership on Appeals Board

WASHINGTON, July 24.—A. Mitchell Palmer and Vance C. McCormick, recommended by Governor Brumbaugh as members of the Exemption Appeal Boards in Pennsylvania, have not yet indicated whether they will accept the honor.

The names have been announced by Secretary of War Baker.

Both these Democrats strenuously opposed the four Republican serving on local exemption boards on the ground that they would be candidates for office in November. They carried their protests to Secretary of War Baker, who has not yet acted on their cases.

In the meantime Governor Brumbaugh sent the names of these leading Democrats to the President for the appeal boards. It is believed that Mr. McCormick will decline on the ground that he is a member of the Export Commission and that his duties here will prevent him acting in Pennsylvania as a member of the exemption board.

The attitude of these men and the failure of Governor Brumbaugh to send other names is believed to be holding up the appointment of the appeal boards.

AMERICAN FOOD HOG STILL THROTTLES NATION

Prices Remain High Despite Economy and All the Home Gardens

WASHINGTON, July 24.—A certain restlessness and a feeling of resentment at the failure of economical practices adopted by them at the instance of Herbert C. Hoover and other Government agencies to bring down prices have been discovered by the National Committee of Patriotic and Defense Societies.

George Wharton Pepper, of Philadelphia, is chairman of the committee. An investigation of food conditions made through leaders of the different societies represented shows, the committee says, that the price of bread is higher than it was before the campaign begun by Mr. Hoover.

It adds that "scarcely neither the Government, the public nor any one else expect the flour speculators, and in some instances the bakers, have profited by this move.

"In the early spring," says a statement signed by Mr. Pepper, Edward Harding, William Matthew Lewis and General S. M. B. Young, "our people were urged to plant all possible vacant lots with green vegetables. This was done.

"Today almost every dooryard has its garden. Yet the prices of green groceries in the market were never higher. It was also noted that certain seed merchants took marked advantage of their opportunities at planting time to raise prices.

The committee refers to the campaign to have persons carry home their own bundles, it adds many are wondering who it is to be the beneficiary of such action, the merchant or the customer. It suggests that merchants have printed slips giving the prices of goods taken home by the customers and the price if delivered by the store.

"The results will come rapidly if in every community," says the statement, "the people will bring pressure to bear on the merchants to place their goods on the shelves; nor must the pressure and with the merchants—the producers of the country must come into line and work for the general good, otherwise real conservation will be impossible.

"The public must be assured all through these economy campaigns that the Government and the public alike are not to be benefited derived from the elimination of waste and luxuries. They must know that profiteering has been abolished; they must have assurance that their suspicions that certain merchants are cashing in on the patriotic devotion of their customers is unfounded.

"Properly organized, public sentiment can effect a great change in the present unsatisfactory conditions."

FRIEND WIFE HAS SOME SAY IN DRAFT, AND BELIEVE HER, IT IS "SOME" SAY

Benedicts Who Vision More Romance Than Toiling at Home Just Naturally Will Have to Stay Home and Support Families

If you are married and anxious to fight the Kaiser don't entertain the thought that because you are drafted for the national army that it insures your chance to enter the first-line trenches.

Your wife has the last word, and under the draft law can determine whether you shall don a uniform.

Of course, your wife cannot exercise the prerogative if she is not dependent upon your weekly salary, but if she is dependent upon your wages it will be very easy for her to blast your ambitions.

To do this she simply appears before your local board and applies for an exemption blank. Her next step is to answer certain questions contained in that blank concerning her dependency upon you for support. Then she obtains two supporting affidavits from the heads of families residing within the area of your exemption board.

If these supporting affidavits prove that your wife and children have no separate income, but depend entirely upon your income, then she has the last word and is freed to one shot that you will not reach a training camp.

The particular rule has been injected into the draft regulations for the express purpose of protecting married women from husbands who are more anxious to fight than to remain at the less romantic task of providing for their families.

EXPERTS EYE KIDS' WAR GARDEN WORK

Calhoun School Tots Score First Perfect Mark at Examination

TO VIEW ALL CITY PLOTS

Miniature Farms, 65 Acres in All, Produce Worth-while Crops

A little American war garden at Tenth street and Snyder avenue, nursed into verdant being in the shade of a German church, scored a perfect mark today, when Miss Caro Miller, head of the Department of School Gardens of the Board of Education, and her committee of experts, dealt out the first examination marks of the season.

If before sunset tonight no other little city farm belonging to the small soldiers who so valiantly answered President Wilson's call for crops attains the mark of 40, which is perfect, the little Calhoun garden, banking peacefully in German-made shade, will be the winner of today's test.

Today inaugurated examination of the school gardens throughout the city. South Philadelphia war plots were under fire today.

Hundreds of little soldiers of the soil, fighting the Kaiser in pink sunbonnets and aprons and overalls, hovered anxiously over their gardens as the examinations were made. With Miss Miller acting as judge were Clarence Sears Kates, of the Philadelphia Agriculture Bureau; Charles W. Baldwin, superintendent of the city markets, and Merris Schell, assistant director of the gardens. They started out in a motor messenger car early this morning. Twelve gardens in South Philadelphia were visited.

In the Edgar Allan Poe, at Twenty-second and Bitter streets, the largest war garden in the city, there were over two acres of plots altogether to be examined. The main garden with its busy bits of humanity handling bees, in some cases twice their own size, looked like a piece of Lancaster County transplanted to the city.

When the judging party arrived there was a good deal of silence. Examination has heavy weight with these little people. It means the first step in the winning of a silver cup which is to be given at the end of the season for the best war garden. Forty per cent is high water mark today. The rest of the hundred will be portioned later in the season.

Miss F. A. K. Matthews, who supervises stilling in the Edgar Allan Poe, reports that the market value of the school garden proper is today $215. This is summed in the corn, potatoes, beans, peas and every conceivable vegetable that the little ones are allowed to take home or to sell.

Before the end of the week Miss Miller will be able to furnish value in dollars and cents of the entire war-garden system. In all there are sixty-five acres of ground under cultivation.

The examinations will continue until Saturday.

SAMMEES "SPEND OUT" AND BUSINESS IS "BUM"

Payday Proceeds Pass Rapidly and Ambitious New Venders Encounter Chagrin

PERMANENT CAMP OF THE AMERICAN EXPEDITION IN FRANCE, July 24.

Payday having come and gone and the money market tightening fast, Pershing's Sammees had to stop spending today. As it was, the French town near the camp has been stripped already of watches, jewelry, trinkets, stationery and other knick-knacks. Typical French trading bazaars arriving today with their dazzling stores of trinkets, encountered plenty of curiosity, but not a great number of spenders among the Sammees.

The day's drill program now is a long and systematic pull at the French bayonet, hand grenade and trench mortar methods. Staff officers are scouring the country for new billets for succeeding contingents of General Pershing's army. They have penetrated to many villages where the sight of an American uniform was a novelty and consequently have been feted and welcomed enthusiastically. The language is giving officers and men difficulty. Interpreters are scarce. Of those already here, one staff officer remarked today:

"There are three kinds—those who don't speak French, those who don't speak English, and those who don't speak either language."

LANSDOWNE CLUBWORK CANNING BY COLD PACK

Twentieth Century Members Hold Second 'Community Day' for Food Saving

This is Community Day in Lansdowne, or, at least, in a very important part of it—the Twentieth Century Club.

Bright and early this morning the "women folk" repaired to the club kitchen, where it is the custom on Tuesdays and Fridays to "put things up," and then to put them away to dispose of in a community sale in the fall. The proceeds of the sale will be devoted to war relief funds. Blackberries, peas, beans and corn were canned this morning.

The big feature of Community Day, of which this is the second held by the club, however, came this afternoon, when all the women of surrounding boroughs were invited to attend a cold pack demonstration and a lecture, both given by State Government agents.

D. Watson Atkinson, of the State Department of Agriculture, discussed various phases of food conservation, and Miss Jane Miles, of the Farm Bureau of Delaware County, gave a practical demonstration of the process endorsed by the Department of Agriculture in Washington.

Community Day is directed by Mrs. Paul Lachenmayer, who is chairman of the domestic science committee. Mrs. C. H. Eppelheimer is president.
