

PHILADELPHIA NEVER FAILS TO OFFER ITS SHARE OF THE DAY'S INTERESTING HAPPENINGS

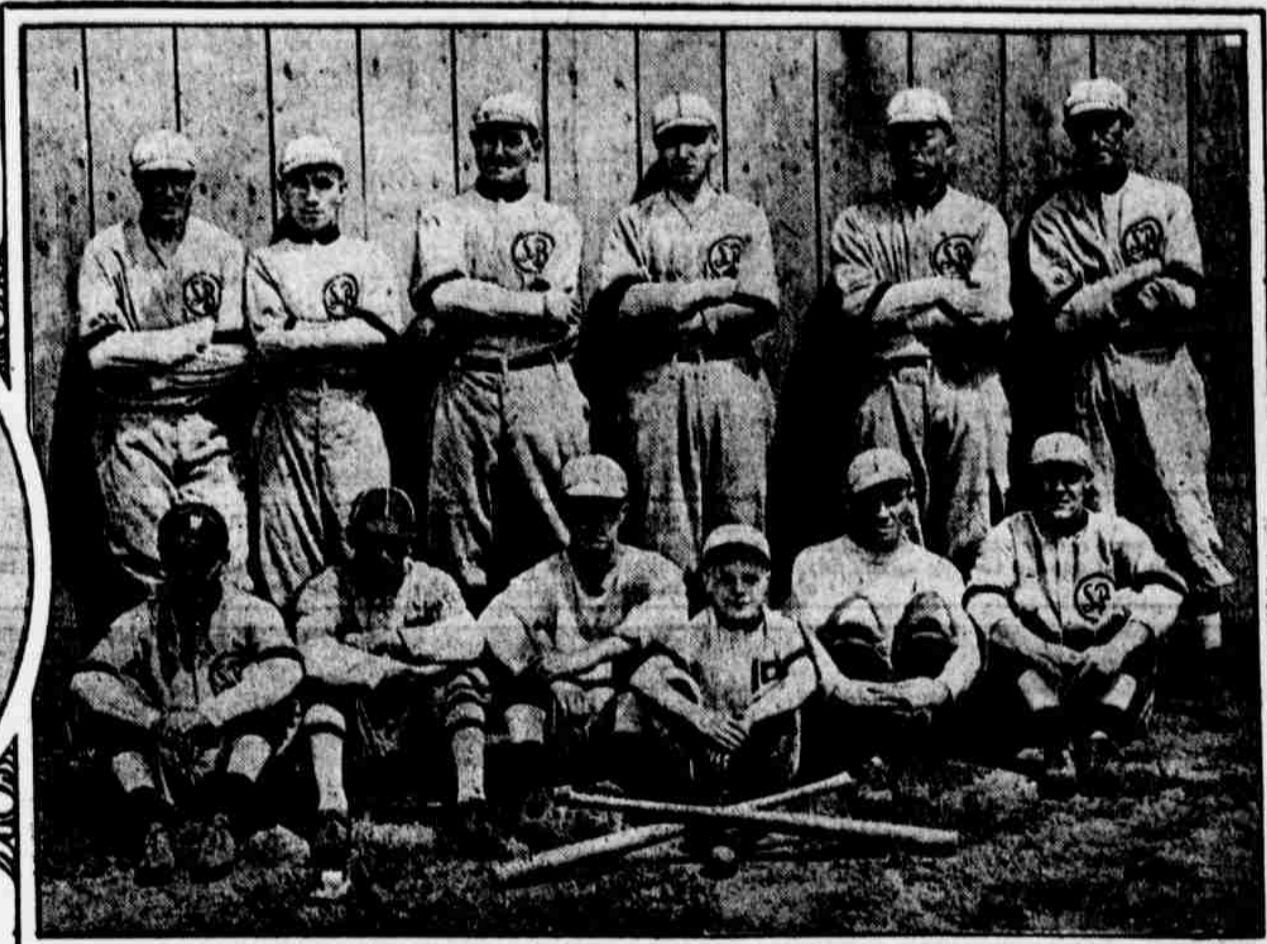

A CAT WITH A CAREER
Jerry, talented mascot of Engine Company No. 33, Bridesburg, who delights in descending a fire ladder in imitation of his firemen associates.

YOU WOULDN'T RECOGNIZE IT, BUT THEY ARE SPELLING WILSON
And the lad to the extreme right is adding the period during semaphore drill at the Cape May training school for the Naval Coast Defense Reserve.

READY TO SAIL FOR FRANCE
Captain Frank H. Husted, of the Jefferson Base Hospital Unit No. 38, is awaiting the call to active duty.

ENTHUSIASTIC FOLLOWERS OF THE ELUSIVE SPHERE
Baseball team representing Lit Brothers' department store. Front row, left to right—Homer, Nagle, White, Mascot J. Donohue, O'Malley and Noeding. Back row—Blair, McGarry, Fealey, Carter, Apau and O'Neill.

HERE WITH A MILITANT MESSAGE FOR ENGLISHMEN
Two members of the British recruiting party conducting a week's campaign in Philadelphia. Right to left, Sergeant W. F. Wells, First Canadian Battalion, Forty-eighth Regiment, and Sergeant G. R. L. Potter, Thirteenth Battalion, First Canadian Expedition.

A DAY WITH THE LEADING AMERICAN CARTOONISTS AND THEIR VIEWS ON THE WORLD'S BIG EVENTS

Burt, in the Knoxville Journal and Times.
SAME OLD WARMED-OVER DISH

Steele, in the Denver Post.
THE ONLY WAY HE WILL GET IT

O'Loughlin, in the Los Angeles Express.
ON THE RUN

Waterfield, in Boston Evening Record.
STOP THIS THIEF!

Kirtley, in the New York World.
WIPING OFF THE SLATE

Warraman, in the Ohio State Journal.
THE OLD FRIENDS' CHILDREN

Warraman, in the Ohio State Journal.
BOYS OF THE...