...ESCERANNO LA GRECIA

Italiani Continueranno ad Occupare un Triangolo del l'Epiro, ma solo Militarmente

DUELLI D'ARTIGLIERIA

Vienna Annuncia che i Russi Hanno Evacuato la Citta' di Czernovitz, in Bucovina

ROMA, 28 Luglio.

Alla conferenza di Parigi e' stato deciso di ritirare le truppe alleate che si trovano tuttora in territorio greco. Questa decisione e' stata resa pubblica con il seguente comunicato ufficiale dato alla stampa da Parigi:

La Francia, la Gran Bretagna e l'Italia, simultaneamente e non appena sara' possibile, metteranno fine alle occupazioni che esse sono state costrette a fare nel l'antica Grecia, in Tessaglia e nell'Epiro. L'occupazione militare del triangolo formato dalla strada di Santi Quaranta e dalla frontiera dell'Epiro sara' mantenuto provvisoriamente come misura di sicurezza, e l'Italia e la Grecia si metteranno d'accordo per quanto riguarda il ristabilimento dell'amministrazione civile sotto un commissario nominato dalla Grecia. La Francia, la Gran Bretagna e l'Italia conserveranno durante la guerra una base navale e militare nell'isola di Corfu che rimane nondimeno sotto la sovranita' della Grecia.

I delegati americani, ammiraglio Sims e generale Pershing, hanno partecipato alle discussioni di carattere militare e navale nelle conferenza interalleata, ma non alle discussioni di carattere politico di cui gli Stati Uniti avevano dichiarato di disinteressarsi.

Da fonte non ufficiale si dichiara a Parigi che la conferenza ha avuto pieno e completo successo, giacche' l'accordo tra i delegati delli varie nazioni e' stato completo ed e' stato raggiunto con la massima facilita'.

Ieri sera il Ministero della Guerra pubblicava il seguente rapporto del generale Cadorna circa la situazione alla fronte italo-austriaca:

A Maiga Zures, ad est del lago di Garda, nella valle del Cordevole e nel l'alta valle del Boite, i nostri reparti in ricognizione furono impegnati in combattimenti che ebbero risultato favorevole a noi

Alcuni tentativi di attacco da parte di reparti austriaci contro i nostri posti avanzati in Val Dogna, sul Monte Rombon e sul Dosso Faiti, furono completamente respinti.

Il duello delle artiglierie, che non fu intenso nella giornata di ieri sulla fronte del Trentino, continuo' invece violentissimo su certi punti della fronte Giulia e specialmente nella zona del Dosso Faiti ed in quella di Castagnevizza.

Un telegramma da Copenhagen dice che a Vienna e' stato annunciato che le truppe russe hanno evacuato la citta' di C ernovitz, cap'tale della Bucovina, che era stata presa dalle truppe russe del generale Letchinski il 17 giugno del 1916, quando buona parte dell'esercito austriaco era impegnato nel l' offensiva contro le linee italiane del Trentino.

Si dice che la cavalleria cosacca sta operando violenti attacchi di retroguardia contro gli austro-tedeschi allo scopo di proteggere le divisioni russe che battono in ritirata nella Galizia. A Petrograd si spera che il governo russo riuscira' a riorganizzare l'esercito e a metterlo in condizione di ritornare all'attacco. Pero' in tutta la Russia si verificano ancora casi di tradimento e di spionaggio, nonostante che alle spie ed ai traditori sia comminata la pena di morte anche senza processo.

Le truppe rumene continuano ad attaccare nella zona dei Carpazii meridionali e vi guadagnano terreno, ma il loro successo non puo' compensare le gravissime perdite gia' subite dai russi nella Galizia.

Un telegramma da Petrograd dice che l'estrema gravita' della situazione interna e militare ha obbligato Kerensky a convocare per il 31 corrente mese un consiglio nazionale straordinario a cui parteciperanno i membri della Duma, ed i delegati degli zemstvos, dei municipii, delle unioni di mestiere ed altre organizzazioni operale e delle universita'. Il consiglio dovra' decidere sui mezzi migliori di salvare il paese dalla rovina.

Kerensky ha dichiarato che ogni tentativo di restaurazione della monarchia sara' soppresso senza pieta'.

Intanto si dice che nelle vie di Petrograd si sono avuti nuovi disordini e conflitti sanguinosi negli ultimi due giorni.

"For the Freedom of the World" the Theme of a Realistic Film Drama

A bit of mimic warfare that might have been transferred from "somewhere in France," with calcium parachute bombs lighting up the hand-to-hand struggles of German "shock troops" with real Sammees: the Pasadena Ambulance Corps from Allentown and the Hill School division from Pottstown; heroic Red Cross rescues under galling fire; exploding mines; batteries of four point sixes; deadly flame attacks and clouds of poison gas shutting out combats amid barbed-wire entanglements, was staged for the moving picture cameras of Romaine Fielding, director for the S-M Picture Corporation, at the Sigmund Lubin studio at Betzwood last night and incidentally for about 2000 spectators.

Lubin's new photoplay, "For the Freedom of the World," was in the making. The fake trenches, pit-marked field, and entanglements, had been laid out by Capt. Edwin Rower Hesser, of the Canadian Territorials; the fighting was under the direction of Major Edward F. Macey, of the marine corps, and Captain J. A. Weeks, detailed from West Point. The scene was witnessed by Norman Jeffries, of vaudeville circles; M. W. Taylor, manager of the Zimmerman enterprises; Sabiosky and McGuirk, vaudeville magnates; Joseph Dougnerty, manager of the Bijou Theatre, and others.

FAILS TO HALT; KILLED

Williamsport Resident in Motorboat Shot by Guardsman

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., July 28.—John Shepper, private in Company D, Thirteenth Pennsylvania Infantry, on guard at the Pennsylvania Railroad's Linden bridge, shot and instantly killed Perry L. Bovee, twenty-six years old.

Bovee and four others were going up the river in a motorboat, did not take the lighted span and on approaching a pier were ordered to halt and on not complying the guard fired at them. Shepper's home is in Scranton.

Why the Gas Tank Exploded

WORMELSDORF, Pa., July 28.—Using a match to light up the exterior of a gasoline tank which they were refilling, Charles Schaeffer, wife and daughter Ruth, four years old, were severely burned. Mr. Schaeffer and his daughter will be disabled for some time by the burns sustained when the tank fumes exploded. Mr. Schaeffer is cashier of the Union Bank here.

Drowned at Plymouth

NORRISTOWN, Pa., July 28.—John [illegible], of Larksville, was drowned in the Susquehanna River at Plymouth this morning with several companions. He got into deep water, the

MRS. ALEXANDER H. RICE

MRS. A. H. RICE UNDER KNIFE FOR APPENDICITIS

Former Mrs. George D. Widener Operated on at Her Newport Home. On Way to Recovery

Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice, who was the wife of George D. Widener, one of those drowned on the Titanic, was operated upon for appendicitis at Miramer, her Newport home, on Thursday. Reports from Newport today said she was recovering satisfactorily.

Dr. and Mrs. Rice came back to the United States late last spring from an exploration tour of the Amazon. They have been living at their villa in Newport since that time and have been entertaining extensively. They gave a dinner last Monday night for Mrs. Rice's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fitz-Eugene Dixon, of Kulp House, Elkins Park. Her daughter and husband returned to Elkins Park Tuesday and on Wednesday were summoned to New York because of Mrs. Rice's sudden and serious illness.

NELLY'S ALLEY STENCH MAY MEAN CLEAN CITY

Dead Cat and Filthy Gutters Start Movement for Crusade, Official Says

Nelly's alley at Fourth and Winton streets, with its dead cats and filthy gutters, has started something that the city will have to finish. This was admitted today by a city official, who is aware of the lack of co-operation among the bureaus and departments at City Hall.

"Matters are at a crisis," he declared. "The present state of affairs can't continue much longer. The people won't stand for it. Nelly's alley has started the ball rolling; and down here we have all got to get together and give the people of Philadelphia the service which they have a right to demand!

"Now every bureau works at its own sweet will and in a round-about fashion. But there will be a change mighty soon. It has to come. Business men all over the city are taking up the cudgels for clean streets and sanitary conditions in alleys."

The following letter was received today:

The Evening Ledger:

I am a daily reader of your paper and notice that you have succeeded in getting our backward administration to rectify certain nuisances. Possibly you could add another feather to your cap.

Since Mr. Smith has come in office the garbage collectors seem to have absolutely neglected the removal of garbage. They seem to call whenever they please, otherwise they are a law unto themselves. They have not been here for about three weeks. In the entire neighborhood the same complaint has been heard. The result is the rubbish smells so bad, and turns to worms, and actually walks away.

Oh, what a terrible calamity it is when contractors get in power! Yours truly,

A DAILY READER.

PRETTY FLOATS TO GRACE AMBULANCE FUND FETE

Goddess of Liberty Tableau and Red Cross Work Demonstration at Fotterall Square Today

Two spectacular floats—one depicting the Goddess of Liberty and the other showing a real live soldier being "bound up" by a Red Cross nurse—will be the features of the Fotterall Square Jefferson Ambulance Fund parade to be held today on Germantown avenue from Cambria to Diamond street.

The parade is the opening number of the second day of street carnival festivities held in Fotterall Sqaure to raise $1650 to buy a completely equipped ambulance for Base Hospital No. 38, which is the Jefferson Hospital war unit. The two young men who will man the ambulance when it goes overseas, Thurston Barrett and Harry Leveson, are respectively chairman and business manager of the fund.

Last night in Fotterall Square, which is at Eleventh and York streets, $400 was raised. One thousand dollars was previously subscribed.

Rivaling the floats in the parade today will be twenty-four babies dressed up as Red Cross nurses. They will ride in baby carriages made to look like ambulances. Two hundred women and children in Red Cross uniforms will also be in line.

The carnival will close tonight.

WOODSIDE THRONGED BY SUMMER PATRONS

Musical Programs and Amusement Features Attract Throngs

Record crowds have been attracted to Woodside Park, not alone to seek surcease from the hot weather, but by several new amusement devices that have been installed, and the elaborate musical programs that the park has furnished since the beginning of the season.

Edna Wallace Kinney, popular contralto, is again appearing at the park, and the Imperial Band, under the leadership of Giuseppe Rodia, continues its success.
