TWO VICTORIES OVER ATHLETICS BOOST CHICAGO'S PENNANT HOPES; BOSTON MEETS STIFF OPPOSITION

White Sox Take Advantage of Others' Errors, but Timely Hitting Makes Them Dangerous at All Times-Walter Johnson to Be Sold, Report

THOSE two victories won by the White Sox Saturday make the Windy City club look much better in the battle with the Red Hose for the league leadership. Boston's extra-inning victory over Cleveland helped the Easterners, but that double win shoved the Rowland crowd a notch further in the front. Chicago is playing good baseball these days, although luck plays an important part in their work. In the first game Saturday Elmer Myers presented them with a flying start and they remained in front until the end. The Sox profited by the mistakes of the Athletics, which is perfectly proper, and turned those mistakes into perfectly good tallies. However, they hit the ball hard and timely and gave evidences of championship class.

The schedule is against the Chicago club this year. After a series in Washington, the team returns home to play for a couple of weeks and then another swing of the circuit will be made. They will play away from home during the last month of the season and unless they have a lead of five or six games when they start, the Red Sox will have a decided advantage. Cleveland, Detroit and possibly St. Louis will be stumbling blocks and these clubs always play well on the home grounds. Right now Boston has the hardest job, as Cleveland and Detroit will be entertained while Chicago is meeting the A's and Washington. The westerners should make considerable hay in the next week unless the club slumps, as is usually the case when weak teams are played.

Clarence Rowland and his men are confident of victory, but their spirit is nothing boastful or braggadocian. They are merely resting in a confidence that they have the ability to deliver the goods. If the pitchers can deliver a consistently good brand of wares, the players believe that the flag will float over Mr. Comiskey's park and Chicago will see a world's series, . . .

THE White Sox won two games in Boston after a poor start and the three from the Athletics started them on a winning streak, which they hope to continue until they leave for home. Today they again clash with the Athletics, while Cleveland plays in Boston-

Walter Johnson to Be Sold by Washington, Is Latest Rumor ACCORDING to a story penned in Washington, Walter Johnson will be placed on the open market at the end of the season and sold to the highest bidder. It is contended that the Washington club is bound to lose money before the curtain drops in October and additional coin of the realm is needed to pay some of the expenses. The baseball park is not free from encumbrances and with salaries and notes to be paid, the stockholders are likely to be assessed quite heavily.

But here is the story. Take a look: "There is but one solution to the whole business. Walter Johnson, if placed on the open market, would bring a fancy price. Strange as it may seem, Johnson is not Washington's winning pitcher this season, although he is still a great drawing card and capable of pitching fine ball for several years to come. The Washington club needs the money. Johnson can be spared, and the tip is out that he is to be sold.

"Manager Clark Griffith denies this report, but that is to be expected. Griffith is a heavy stockholder in the Washington ball club. He would be the first to suggest the sale of Johnson if it came to a question of meeting financial obligations

"If Johnson is to be sold there is every reason to believe that Jim Dunn, of Cleveland, stands as good a chance of getting him as, if not better than, any club owner in the American League. Dunn and Griff are warm friends. The Old Fox often has said that any time he had a chance to do Dunn a favor he would not hesitate. Also Griff has placed himself on record with the statement that never would he sell one of his star player to a club like the White Sox or Red Box teams that appear on paper as the strongest in the Johnsonian circuit.

WTHERE'S a fine chance for Cleveland to get Walter Johnson-not I this season, but perhaps next year. The big fellow would look mighty sweet in a Cleveland uniform."

Americans Are Just Learning to Play

AMERICANS for very many years were content to see others play their games, but not any more. In fact, the only sport where the red-blooded American is willing that the other fellows should do all the work while he looks on is boxing. He would rather see some other fellow get a punching. The usual afternoon of the average American five years ago was to take a train or trolley to the ball park and sit through the afternoon watching the ball players perform. But where is he today, or any other afternoon? 'No; he is not at the ball park. But if you will go out to any of the numerous golf links in and around the city of Philadelphia you will find him busy doing his own exercising and getting more real enjoyment out of it than in the old days when he watched the baseball men perform.

In other words, the average American-and there are hundreds of thousands of him-would rather do his own playing. He has gone back to his boyhood days, Did you ever watch a bunch of boys? Did you ever notice any of them watching the others play? Not for a minute. Boys are not built that way. They must be right in the play, whether it is baseball, swimming, toothall, prisoner's base or whatever the form of sport right at hand may be. No boy makes a good spectator, He wants to be right in the center of things. And the men of today are just beginning to realize that the greatest fun in the world is doing things, rather than watching others. Perhaps the baseball men may not admit that baseball attendance has been hurt, but if they are hongst and frank about it they will tell you that the two things that have done most to cut down attendance at ball parks throughout the country are golf and the motorcar.

Already 1500 Clubs Are Listed and Whole Number Is About 4000, Yet 112 Clubs Dictate to Others

THERE are 451 golf clubs in the United teen holes at Pine Valley. They were written by Frank Guild, and the first three fol-

A States Golf Association while in the Western Golf Association there are 228 clubs. Of the 451 clubs, 102 are active members and these control the situation so far as golf in this country is concerned. A con-servative estimate of the clubs in this country puts them at about 4000. But it is the active members of the U. S

G. A. who cut the real golf ice, and of the 102 sixty-one are located in the East and fifty-four are in the States of New York, Pennsylvania Massachusetts and New Jer sey. There are thirty-four clubs in the dis-trict north of the Ohio River and west of the Alleghenies, while in the South there are seven clubs. So it can plainly be seen that any three of the four big Eastern States can outvote the entire West and South. And, furthermore, New York, Penn-sylvania, New Jersey and Massachusetts have more votes than the rest of the cour

Massachusetts Leads

So far as the representation of the active and allied clubs are concerned. Massachu setts leads the list with eighty-four, as the result of the Ouimet controversy, while New York is second with eighty-two. Pennsylvania is a good third with sixty-two And again it might be remarked that these three States and New Jersey have a total number of 270 clubs, or a great many more than the rest of the country. In the entire West there are but ninety-eight clubs, or fewer than any two of the four big States in the East. Of course, these are only the the East. S. G. A. figures, for, as a matter of fact. a recent golf guide mentions and lists 1500 clubs, so the figures are not as bad as they look. The following table shows there are golf clubs belonging to the U. S. G. A. in forty-two of the forty-eight States and they are distributed as follows:

Or you'll find trouble in a trice; A sood stiff "iron" to the green; No weakness now, for you have seen The trouble that awaits you here if that steep "face" you fail to clear. And keep the line, I ask you, please! Or on both sides you'll find the trees. On this and all greens, I advise. #### COLGATE TO PUT A TEAM ON GRIDIRON THIS YEAR

The second half in the Main Line League is due to be closer than the first. At present three clubs, Autocar, Dun & Co. and Brandywine, are in a triple deadlock for the lead. Autocar handed Dun & Co. its first defeat by 8-3. It was Lefty Black mainst Ad Swigler, and the former did not allow the opposition a single UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 6 .- Colgate Unihit. All three of Dun's runs went to Collins as the result of passes and errors. Brandywing won from Whyne by 9 to 5. Lee Tire defeated Norristown, 7-4, and Bon Air forfeited to Wayne.

Summer is on her way, July has come and gone; No one remembers May, August is marching on; Softly the south wind blows. Yet, but a dream and then Deep in the drifting snows We shall be cast again.

Where are the songs of spring Sung from the April larch? Where is the roistering Of the wild winds of March? Where is the light of June Crowning her crimson throne? Gone as a passing tune, Gone as a breath is blown.

Mad youth is on its way, Childhood has come and gone; Dim is the distant day Boyhood was marching on; Life now is lilting rhyme, Yet, but a step and then Gray with the snows of time Life turns to prose again.

Where are the songs of Youth Sung where the beakers foam? Where is the old-time truth Taught at the hearth of home? Where are the loves we've known In the red deeps of June? Gone as a breath is blown-Gone as a passing tune.

Upland has a nice lead in the Delaward

Upland has a nice lead in the Delaware County League as the result of administer-ing the second straight defeat to Chester. Poth's gang was at the mercy of Walter Manning, who allowed only two hits. Up-land won by 2-0, the pair of tallies coming in the initial frame. With Lai on, "Bud" Weiser hit for a home run. Not a Chester player reached second base on Manning.

Strawbridge & Clothier again defeated Cuban Stars, this time by 6-4. Stetson dropped an-other, losing to Cressona, 5-4. Gimbel Brothers continued its winning streak and defoated Am-hier, 4-1, while Lit Brothers won from the Pennsylvania Railroad Firemen and Brakemen,

Four years ago the Glants concluded their three-year pennant run. They led the parade in 1911, 1912 and 1913, losing three world series in a row to Mackmen and Red Sox.

Now they are pennant bound again, with no chance of being stopped. But of that 1913 array which carried the Red Sox to eight games before a decision was reached only a few remain. Fletcher and Herzog still adorn the infield, but Doyle and Merstill adorn the infield, but Doyle and Mer-kle are gone. The entire outfield, which consisted of Snodgrass, Murray and Devore, is missing. Of the pitching staff, Mathew-son and Marquard have passed on, with Tesreau alone on the job. Chief Meyers has passed from back of the bat. So from the entire line-up of regulars only Fletcher, hereon and Marquard left in McGrawi,

Herzog and Tesrcau are left in McGraw's rebuilding. The present Glant array looks to be a much stronger club and should have a much better world series chance. The new outleld, with Burns, Kauff and Robertson, is well beyond Murray, Snodgrass and Devore. The present infield is playing better ball, but the present pitching staff isn't quite up to the Mathewson-Marquard-Tesrcau stand-ard. The old Giants played nineteen world series games, won 6, lost 12 and tied 1.

Bill Morgan and his trusty bludgeon decided another Montgomery County Lengue same in Jenk.niowirs fawr. 1-0. Deliayres being on the losing end, after thirteen inning. Morgan also distimutished thirteen inning fourteen of the opposition. The winning faily was ac-complished by a two-base blow, a steal of third and Deakey's single. Other results were: Glen-eide, 1: Willow Grove, 0. Ambler, 10; Fort Washington, 4. If the new Glants are tossed in against the Red Sox again they will need every ingredient at hand to win. The odds will belong with the still unbeaten Red Sox.

Leverage

Leverage is of far greater sporting value than one might consider it at first glance. Norman Maxwell weighs only 120 pounds. Yet he can drive a golf ball more than 250 yards, up with the long hitters of the game. He has the leverage.

Bobby Byrne was a diminutive athlete, but

LAST season the Red Sox went out and his championships via the putter. Athletics vs. Chicago

GAME CALLED 3:80 P. M.

BROADWAY A. C .- TONIGH

A MAN can jump into his motorcar and in less than thirty minutes he can be out on the links getting a breath of fresh air and exercise that he knows is beneficial. And the chap who does not own a motorcar and cannot afford to belong to the private clubs can leave the center of the city and in half an hour he can be playing on Cobb's Creek and having the time of his life. Golf expensive? Not a bit of it. Ask dad, he knows,

Now the Argument Starts; We Call It a Draw

"WHICH was the brainier player," writes A Steady Reader, "Barry or Collins, when they played on the Athletics? This excludes batting and base running but means just brain in engineering plays and their value to the team."

This is some question to answer, so we put it up to Tris Speaker when he was here last week.

"I'll pass," said Tris. "Of course, Collins's batting keeps him in the limelight, but when it comes to a question of brains, you never saw two players more alike. I can't answer the question either way."

Connie Mack was next approached and, after studying a moment, declared it a draw. Members of the Athletics team say that one is as good as the other, so there you are. The best way to decide is to match pennies or pull straws. Each man has his admirers and it will take a lot of arguing to settle the question either way.

One-Armed Player Leads League Up in Maine

JUST because he has one arm doesn't handicap this lad a bit. His name is Charles Foley and the way he swings a baseball bat and handles the high ones in the outfield is a sight, according to fans who have watched him. Foley plays with the South Windham (Me.) team and is the leading hitter of the club. After losing his right arm in a trolley accident, Foley took up baseball. He has an average of .428 and is an excellent fielder. In addition to baseball, he is a tensecond man, plays basketball and football.

Higgins Running Well Over Mile Course /

JOE HIGGINS, the national 600-yard indoor champion, has run two corking races at a mile recently and it is predicted that he will shortly beat four minutes and twenty seconds. However, if he does, Higgins will have to run much faster than he did in either the Mayo mile or in the struggle for the Conellan trophy. In the Mayo race he was second in a fraction over 4:25, his time being not better than 4:27. Then in the Conellan mile he won in something over 4:27. In both races he virtually was all out at the finish.

Al Demaree Is Real Lucky Bird

A L DEMAREE must feel very badly about going back to the Giants. He was with A them while they won three National League pennants, left them to divide a little world's series money here, and now he returns to New York just in time to add a little something to his bank account this autumn. Al cannot smoke any more cigars unless he gives up part of his sleeping time, but he now will be able to increase the cost per amolo

Mitchell Injecting Young Blood in Cubs

DETE KILDUFF'S transfer to the Cubs indicates that Fred Mitchell realizes that he must build up his Chicago team with young blood. Groh and Stock did not play their best until McGraw traded them and they had a chance to get into games regularly. It may be that Kilduff also will show wonderful improvement.

Pug Griffin, Mackian, Is Batting Bear

TUG GRIFFIN, the rookie first baseman sold by Lincoln to Connie Mack, has been shipped on to the big league club while his record is still good. He sked like a bear early in the season, but recently had been on the Lincoln beach secure of a batting slump.
