

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S INTERESTING HAPPENINGS

Copyright Harris & Ewing. HERE TO INSTRUCT UNCLE SAM'S AIRMEN Major R. Perfetti, of Italy, heads the aerial mission of that nation to the United States. He is in constant conference with American experts for the purpose of standardizing the Allied aircraft production.

(c) Harris & Ewing CIVILIAN HEAD OF MILITARY AERONAUTIC SCHOOLS Professor Hiram Hingham, of Yale faculty, adds to his accomplishments by directing the division of military aeronautic schools, aviation section, signal corps.

Copyright Harris & Ewing. PHILADELPHIA PHYSICIAN WASHINGTON ARTIST Dr. Charles Midwood Stiles, head of the eye department, Frankford Hospital, is training at Oglethorpe, Ga., for service in France. Michel Jacobs (right) is lecturing at the Fort Monroe camp on camouflage, the art of concealment so highly perfected by the French.

AN AQUATIC CHAMPION OF PHILADELPHIA Ernest W. Sloop is adding to his laurels as a premier in the art of swimming in contests held in nearby waters. Winning the Huss Cup is among the latest achievements of this Philadelphia Swimming Club leader.

Copyright Harris & Ewing. PHILADELPHIAN NAMED TO NEW YORK POST Stanley H. Rose has severed his connection with an asphalt company in the Quaker City to take charge of the New York branch office of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Copyright Harris & Ewing. DAUGHTER OF UNITED STATES SENATOR TO WED Washington is interested in the approaching wedding of Miss Dorothy Owen, whose father represents Oklahoma in the Senate, to Cameron Hawkins, a Boston, former Princeton athlete, now chief of the bond division of the Treasury Department.

The Young Lady Across the Way

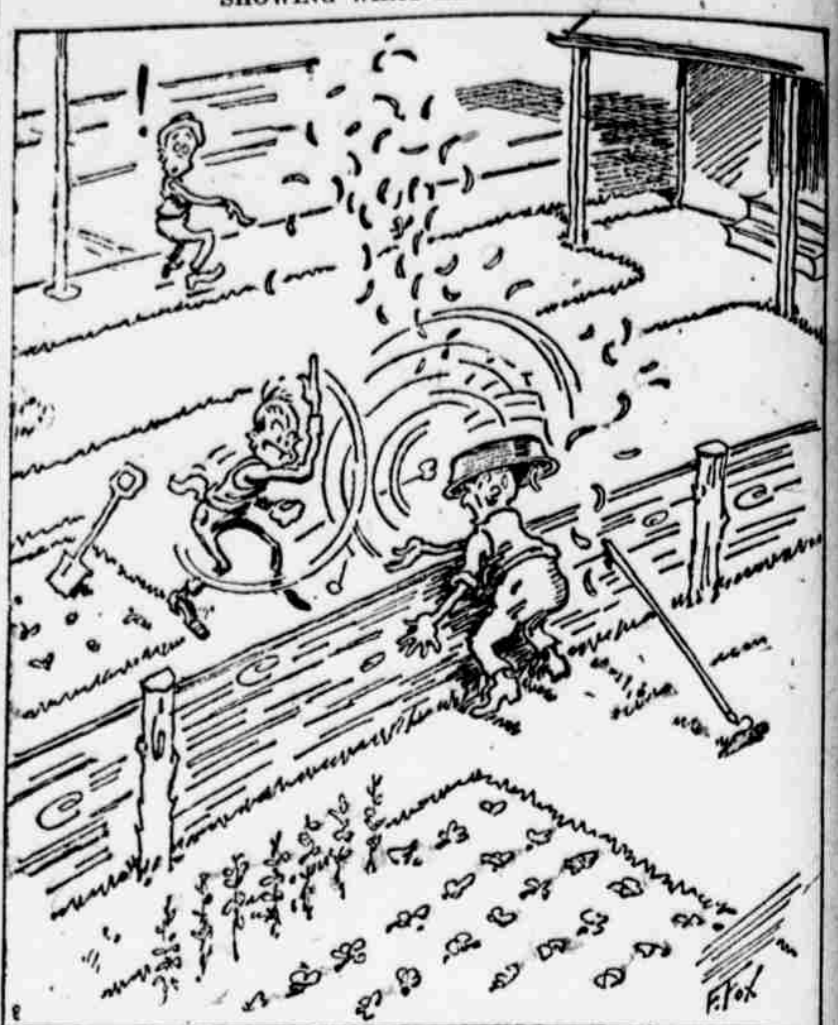

We asked the young lady across the way if she favored prohibition as a war measure and she said it certainly did seem, with so much cotton needed in the manufacture of high explosives, as if no more of it ought to be given for the present.

His Happiest Moment

"What," asked the sweet girl, "was the happiest moment of your life?" "The happiest moment of my life," answered the old bachelor, "was when the jeweler took back an engagement ring and gave me sleeve links in exchange!"—Pearson's Weekly.

THE TERRIBLE TEMPERED MR. BANG, WHOSE GARDEN WAS A FAILURE, GETS TIRED OF HAVING THE MAN NEXT DOOR SHOWING WHAT HE HAS RAISED

By FONTAINE FOX

(Copyright)

THE PADDED CELL

ARE YOU AN ARTIST?

OH MY NO! NO INDEED! THIS IS JUST A CUTE WAY I HAVE ABOUT ME! I CLEAN MY TEETH THIS WAY BECAUSE IF THE CHILD GOT ITS FEET WET THERE WOULD BE NO FULL MOON!

MAYNARD

Unfair

There had been a little disagreement at the annual meeting of the Tunhatters' Club. All the members were brought before the magistrate. "Do you mean to say," asked the magistrate, cross-examining a member, "that you were the only sober man at the banquet?" "No, of course not!" denied the witness, indignantly. "Who was, then?" said the magistrate, blandly.—Ideas.

The Profiteer

—London Opinion.

"Why aren't these cocktails iced?" "Well, you see, sir, there's a war on." "You needn't tell me that—I wouldn't be having cocktails at all but for the war."

Not a Home Defender

—Tid-Bits.

Special Constable (to boy with a cycle carrier on the footpath)—Now, my lad, you must take that off the footpath.

Boy—Get out. I've just seen a proper bobby and he never said nowt.

THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR

"John! Baby's swallowed the key!" "By Jove! How on earth shall we get in?"

—The Passing Show.

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

Gee-whis! Aint he strong! Hoo-hoo! Ho, Kirky! Did't you see us?

Times that try man's souls.

No Work, No Pay

Customer—I say, Mr. Barber, I don't hear your scissors at work on my hair. Barber—There is very little hair on your head, sir. Customer—That makes no difference. I pay my money and I want you to rattle the scissors on the bald place just the same as if it had hair on it.—Pearson's Weekly.

A Real Hero

—Sydney Bulletin.

Fatty—Cripes! Somebody's blankets are burnin'! His Mate—That ain't blankets. That's Blusey, V. C., smokin' the cigars 'n' eatin' 'em.