

WOMEN IN OVERALLS INVADE CITY FACTORY

Armour & Co. Fined $25 for Weighing Paper Wrappings With Ham

OTHER CITY NEWS BRIEFS

New Branch Postoffice to Be Established, Near Near 69th Street Terminal

Philadelphia women are donning overalls. Members of the fair sex in wartime attire made their appearance today at the new factory of the General Electric Company at Seventh and North streets. They also had dinner pails. When the whistle blew the women were ready to take their places along with the men at the machines, drills, and other paraphernalia.

Don't think for a minute that the overalls are unbecoming. They are not. In fact, the women workers made a decidedly chic appearance. It was agreed, with quiet haste to match. Then again, the overalls have large, roomy pockets, which can hold purses and even vanity cases, if need be. It was said that more than 300 women will be at work in the factory by the end of the week.

Packers Fined for Short Weight

A fine of $25 was imposed upon Armour & Co. meat packers, by Magistrate Costello on a short-weight charge, according to the police. It is alleged that Bernard Weintraub, storekeeper at 1609 Ridge avenue, paid for two and one-half ounces of paper which were wrapped around a ham which he bought. Woodward Abraham, inspector for the Bureau of Weights and Measures, said that the ham was weighed in the wrapper. Assistant District Attorney Taulane contended that the packers thus were guilty of giving short weight.

New Branch Postoffice Planned

The Philadelphia Postoffice is planning to open a branch near the sixty-ninth street terminal. Not less than 1000 square feet of floor space will be required at the new branch, it was explained. The new service will extend to Upper Darby, Cardington, Highland Park, Observatory Hill, Clover Hill, Kirklyn, Llanerch, South Ardmore, Brookline, Beechwood, Oakmont and Penfield.

DE SAULLES'S FUNERAL

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The funeral of Jack De Saules, clubman and former Yale football star, who was shot to death by his former wife, Bianca De Saules, at the end of a love tragedy, was held from his city apartment today. The services were private. Only immediate relatives and a few very close friends attended. Dean Beekman, of the Church of the Nativity, of South Bethlehem, Pa., where De Saules formerly lived, was in charge.

Little Jack De Saules, the innocent cause of the tragedy, did not attend his father's funeral. He remained at the summer home of G. Maurice Heckscher, a relative of the De Saules, on Long Island. EDISON LABORS HARD
TO LICK THE KAISER

Is Working 16 Hours on a Stretch Under Close Guard of Civil Service Men

ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 8.—Thomas A. Edison versus Germany. This is the battle that is being silently fought here today.

A little red brick building covered with ivy is the famous inventor's laboratory. "I have no right to talk about it—ask the Secretary of the Navy," was the message that came from the closely guarded sanctum today in response to an inquiry on Edison's work.

Edison is guarded like a President. An iron fence, crowned with menacing barbed wire, separates his laboratory from the rest of the plant. When Edison appears a secret service agent dogs him.

The "old man," as he is known to his associates, has started out to beat the Kaiser just as methodically as he started out to perfect electric lights and phonographs. Today when he climbed from his dusty "flying" and punched his timecard, No. 1, it registered 5:30 a. m. Yesterday he plugged in at 8:45 and out at 12:30 a. m., nearly 16 hours later.

GERMAN PRESSURE MAY FORCE SWISS INTO WAR

Teutons May Throw Army Into Mountain Republic if Demand for Loan Is Refused

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Germany may try to trample Switzerland under foot and swing her armies around the southern end of the west front unless the mountain republic yields to Teuton importunities for a loan.

That is the dismal prospect international authorities saw today in Germany's pressure for gold in return for coal supplied Switzerland. Should such a situation come, it would mean great readjustment of existing battle lines, and while perhaps not fatal, it would at least be discouraging to the west front situation.

The fact that Switzerland is resisting the loan proposition came as a surprise here. Switzerland, composed of German, French and Italian stock chiefly, is regarded as pro-German, and Germany several months ago used her as a go-between to make a pseudo peace offer to the United States. In the circumstances authorities here are not entirely able to fathom the present situation.

Incidentally, there has been a suggestion here that the United States would do well to swing her forces into the southern end of the western front, flanking Switzerland. Such a move, experts say, would tend to
