BATES AND NOYES TO STICK WITH A'S

Connie Mack Says Rumor They Will Leave Tomorrow Is Unfounded

CLUBHOUSE GOSSIP

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL. "By Bates and Noyes will not leave the Athletics ball club tomorrow night," said Connie Mack this morning.

Most of that report was just clubbous. "I am proud of the spirit shown by the boys," said Mack, "and I am sure that the entire ball club regardless of what would happen next year, as I said before, we have entertained the public for years and now we can protect it."

DAVENPORT PUZZLES THE A'S

Dave Davenport always has been an enigma to the Athletics. He has halloped the daylight out of the home-town boys time and again and yesterday was no improvement.

KLAUDER LEADS OVER MAXWELL

Bala Club Champion Springs Surprise, Getting Jump in Feature Match

NEWTON TRIMS MOFFIT

BALA, Pa., Aug. 10. George Klauder, champion of the Bala Golf Club, surprised a large gallery by winning the first three holes in the feature match this afternoon of the second round of the invitation tournament here, opposed to Norman Maxwell, North and South champion, and who ruled a 5-to-3 favorite for the play.

At the end of the sixth hole Klauder led as follows: Klauder, 5 4 4 5 5 5 5 3 3—30; Maxwell, 5 5 5 4 4 3—26; Newton, 5 5 5 5 5 4 4 3—27.

Participants in other matches this afternoon postponed their play so that they could follow Maxwell and Klauder, and one of the largest galleries of any match this year covered the course.

With the big matches in the various sixteens scheduled for this afternoon, the most important match of the morning was that between Herb Newton, of Frankford, and J. H. Moffitt, of Woodbury. The Frankford veteran was too much for the Woodbury youth, and the match ended on the seventeenth green by 3 up and 1 to play.

One of the surprises was the defeat of Julian J. Keenan, several times the champion of Lansdowne, by Harry Marshall, of Aronimink. This was another match in which the older player triumphed in a one-sided battle. Our own Tom Daly and Director of Public Safety Wilson won their matches by default.

No surprises marked the first day of match playing. All the favorites played up to form. George Klauder and F. W. Knight are old club mates, but no one plays the Bala course with more intelligence than Klauder, and in addition to that he shoots such golf that the other man is forced to play par golf to keep up to him.

So it was no great surprise when Knight went down to defeat. Today Klauder will meet Norman Maxwell, and the match ought to be the best of the day. The youngster from Aronimink is still the favorite in the tournament, but Klauder is expected to make him step lively, and there is a bare chance the Bala man may be the winner.

He has put more than one man out of the running, and it has been demonstrated that Klauder is not untable.

The other match of importance is that between George Hoffman and Walter Reynolds. Just as Klauder and Maxwell have played against each other at Aronimink on a number of occasions, so have Reynolds and Hoffman met scores of times at Woodbury, where both were members. In this match Hoffman is the slight favorite.

Burton is expected to give Ed Carey a hard match, but Carey is the choice with the gallery. The other match between Dewees and Luman is a toss-up.

FIRST SIXTEEN. W. W. Dewees, North Hills, defeated J. A. Luman, Bala, 7 up and 6 to play.

SECOND SIXTEEN. J. I. Hand, Aronimink, won from J. H. Gay, Country Club, by default.

THIRD SIXTEEN. M. Lome defeated J. H. Gumber, Bala, 2 up and 1 to play.

FOURTH SIXTEEN. H. C. Marshall, Aronimink, defeated J. J. Keenan, Jr., Lansdowne Club, yesterday.

FIFTH SIXTEEN. N. C. Ives, Bala, defeated W. B. Surpice, Bala, 4 up and 1 to play.

SIXTH SIXTEEN. H. L. Newton, Frankford, defeated Frank McAdams, 5 up and 4 to play.

CORNELL AND MICHIGAN FOOTBALL GAME IS ON

Big College Gridiron Match is Scheduled for Ann Arbor This Year

In answer to the spirited appeal for more specialized athletics by Secretary of War Baker, Cornell University is the first of the big colleges to come out with an open declaration in favor of the policy.

It is the first big match to be scheduled and throughout the country those who favor the continuation of sport are hoping that it will have an encouraging effect on the other colleges, which are showing signs of cold feet about football.

PERCY LAWRENCE FIRST IN HOUR PACED BIKE GRIND, BUT HE FAILS TO LOWER RECORD MADE IN 1903

Riding Behind Jimmy Hunter, Australian Defeats Carman, the Favorite—Covers Distance 4 Miles Under Caldwell's Mark of 50 Miles 3 Yards

ALTHOUGH Percy Lawrence, the Australian, won the one-hour professional motor-paced bicycle race at the Point Breeze Park Motordrome last night, he failed in the main purpose of the event, which was to break the world's record for distance covered in one hour.

The record is fifty miles and three yards, made by Harry Caldwell and Charles River Park, September 1, 1903, and although Percy was paced by the peerless Jimmy Hunter, he was four miles and three yards short of the record at the finish of the race.

Lawrence Starts Well. Lawrence was the first of the five starters to catch his pacemaker and took the lead on the first lap, with Clarence Carman.

Carman's lead was a short one, for in the seventeenth mile Jimmy Hunter caught him asleep and was on even terms with him before Provost was aware of the fact.

During the next three laps the 10,000 spectators were treated to the greatest riding seen at the local track this season. Both pacemakers made their riders pedal to the limit and neither Carman nor Lawrence was able to get the lead until the end of the third lap when Carman faltered a trifle and Lawrence took the lead, never to be headed.

Some idea of the speed at which Percy was carried along by Jimmy Hunter can be seen from two times for one mile taken during different parts of the race. During the twenty-eighth mile he was caught by the timekeeper in one minute and three seconds and later was timed in one minute two and two-fifths seconds for the thirtieth mile.

At the beginning of the thirtieth mile George Cameron, who had trouble the entire night with his bike, using five different machines, was forced to retire. Cameron was eleven laps behind Lawrence when he left the track. Collins was forced to ride the entire time with a pair of oxords instead of racing shoes, some one having taken the bag which contained his riding clothes in mistake.

Summary: One-Hour Professional Motor-Paced Race—Won by Lawrence; second, Carman; third, Corry; distance, 46 miles. Two-Mile Motorcycle Race Against Time—Won by Lawrence; time, 1 minute 24.25 seconds. Five-Mile Motorcycle Match Race—Won by Lawrence; time, 8 minutes 10.75 seconds.
