

THE CONSERVATION OF FOOD IS OF INTEREST TO EVERY HOUSEWIFE IN AMERICA

A WOMAN-EDITOR LEADS HER SISTERS IN THE CAMPAIGN
Sarah Field Splint, as a volunteer, is assisting Doctor Wilbur in the direction of the food conservation section of the food administration.

A DEMONSTRATION IN A WASHINGTON DEPARTMENT STORE
These exhibitions are adding much to the success of the movement, which is including the housekeepers of every part of the country and has enrolled a vast army in the campaign against waste and high living cost.

HER TASK IS TO INTEREST THE WOMAN READER
Miss Gertrude B. Lane is managing the publicity campaign in women's publications.

"THE MEN BEHIND THE GUNS"
Howard Chandler Christy's contribution to the food conservation cause is inspiring recruits through its pertinence and humor.

THE EDITORS OF RELIGIOUS PUBLICATIONS ARE CO-OPERATING
Methods of food conservation were discussed with Herbert Hoover at a conference held in Washington recently.

GARB OF THE FOOD CONSERVATION FORCES
Official uniform of the conservation section of the food administration, which is rapidly being adopted by women in all parts of the country as serviceable and economical.

SOCIETY WOMEN ARE TOURING THE COUNTRY IN ITS BEHALF
In their food conservation and preparation campaign prominent women are touring interior New York. They travel in the "Orange County Canning Special," using the train platforms as rostrums for brief talks on canning and preserving of food.

"A WORD TO THE WISE"
Charles Dana Gibson portrays, through Uncle Sam's whispered caution to the American housewife, a hint of the nation's loss through waste.